100,000 WOMEN READY TO FIGHT VOLSTEAD RULE

Pledged to Cause in Single Year.

BY JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 9.—[Special.]—The Washington of the world of politics and the Washington of the world of fashion came a thousand strong this evening to a new kind of party in the crystal hung ballroom of the Willard—an anti-prohibition party, during the two hours of which they went to grave discussion of what their presiding officer—Congressman Norton of New Jersey—described as "the greatest mistake in American history, the eighteenth amendment."

Eminent constitutional lawyers—among them James M. Beck—were there. Senators, former senators, members of the house, stately matrons, and debutantes whose faces are more familiar at embassy balls than at serious meetings on any subject were there. And F street for a block each side of the Willard was crowded with the limousines of statesmen and society leaders.

Under Women's Auspices.

The meeting was held for the purpose of reporting progress and mapping plans for future work of the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform, which is to open its first national convention two weeks from tonight in Cleveland.

The founder of the organization, Mrs. Charles Sabin of New York City (formerly Pauline Morton of Chicago) came from New York today to make the principal address of this evening.

Her most important news contribution to the party was this statement:

"Less than two months ago I testified at the house judiciary committee's hearings on prohibition that our organization was registering members from New York to California at a rate of 1,000 a week. I am able to announce to you this evening that we are now registering members at the rate of nearly 5,000 a week, and that our membership tonight numbers 94,565 women of America. Before we assemble in Cleveland two weeks hence for our first national convention we shall be well past the 100,000 mark.

Just One Year Old.

"This is the record of an organization which was founded just a year ago today in an extremely tentative way by a little group of women who met with me in my home at luncheon.

"Those women and the nearly 95,000 who since have enrolled themselves in the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform are pledged to bring about a change in the national prohibition law by voting to so change the personnel of congress that the statesman who carries water on one shoulder and gin on the other shall be eliminated and the foundations laid for honest legislation that shall make for true temperance."

Prolonged applause — Congressman Beck of Pennsylvania and Congresswoman Mary Teresa Norton, who came from a sickbed to attend the meeting, leading it.

Another news contribution by Mrs. Sabin concerned the questionnaire on prohibition which Mrs. George Strawbridge of Philadelphia told the house judiciary committee she had sent to persons named in the Philadelphia Social Register, and the response to which, she testified, was "an overwhelming indorsement of prohibition."

Mrs. Sabin Investigates.

Mrs. Sabin announced to the meeting that the persons to whom Mrs. Strawbridge had addressed her questionnaire have been thoroughly recanvassed and their answers to a second questionnaire carefully tabulated, "with a result which," she said, "I will not describe as 'overwhelming' for anything or anybody. I will merely send to you the returns from that second and systematic canvass. They are:

"For law enforcement, 680.

"For modification of the Volstead act, 787.

"For repeal of the 18th amendment, 3,007."

Mrs. Sabin also submitted the results of investigations—directed by her and her colleagues in the W. O. N. P. R.—into the claims of women who came before the house committee with statements that they represented the General Federation of Women's Clubs, state federations of women's clubs, the King's Daughters, parent-teacher associations, and numerous other similar bodies, and that

TALK BY RADIO TO HOME TOWN; CRIME MUST GO!

Trade Chiefs Hear Address by Phone.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Ambassador Charles G. Dawes, speaking last night by radio-telephone from his home at 14 Prince's Gate, London, prophesied that this generation of Chicagoans would rise up and seize "the venemous serpent of organized crime" and choke it to death.

This Dawesian conception of a new day for Chicago was based on what other generations have done in similar crises, and his address was the chief event of a dinner of 1,200 representative business men in the grand ballroom of the Stevens hotel under the sponsorship of the Chicago Better Business bureau.

Picture the Real Chicago.

It was not only a demonstration of how these business leaders feel about their city but the beginning of a coordinated movement to sell to the world the fact that Chicago is a good place in which to live, a safe place to visit, and a city which is making a great dream of beauty come true.

Col Robert Isham Randolph, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, which is carying on its own war against crime; Frank F. Winans, former president; Elmer F. Weibolt, president of the Better Business bureau, and Walter A. Strong, publisher, were the other speakers. Fred Novak, an Eagle Scout, who came out of a district that has produced much in the way of youthful crime, was presented as a type of the future Chicagoan that may be fashioned by proper leadership.

Dawes Traces City's Rise.

"Chicago needs no defense," said Gen. Dawes, his familiar rasping voice coming into the banquet chamber in crackling waves. He had to get up at 3 in the morning to deliver this speech.

He pictured the advance of Chicago as inexorable, irresistible and imperial through the centuries. "The spirit of this generation," he said, "is no whit different from the unconquerable spirits of its forebears who first mastered the savage wilderness in its settlement less than a hundred years ago and who, when thirty-eight years later, grown already from a forest clearing to a great city, it burned to the ground, rebuilt it within a short span of two years.

Achievements of Progress.

"Consider its phenomenal advance, not only in population but in educational and artistic achievement and in industrial, financial, and commercial power during the last twenty years—an advance unparalleled in the world's history. Consider the majestic and battlemented front of Michigan avenue overlooking the lake and then think of it as it was twenty years ago.

"On the cultural side, consider only some of the outstanding achievements of recent decades—the Field museum, the Opera, the Art institute, the Symphony orchestra and the wonderful and brilliant growth of our two universities.

"Consider all this, you who are obsessed by the fear that the organization of a few contemptible un-American gangsters cannot be mastered and stamped out by this generation of Chicagoans.

The Lion and the Hornet.

"Once it is aroused they are but hornets on the flank of a lion. Yet, they are stinging the lion into action.

"For a brief time, organized criminals in league with politicians have harried this generation of Chicago's citizens. When Chicago calls, its people answer difficulties. Do not discourage, but inspire them.

"The answer of this generation of Chicago to the crime emergency has been given. It was given in the election two years ago. It has been given in the advance by its citizens of $74,000,000 within the last few weeks for the needs of Chicago.

"It has been given in the steady marshaling into the battle lines behind law and order of civic organization after civic organization and of the best elements of our citizenship. It has been given by the actions of the Chicago Association of Commerce and your business bureau. The movement has but started.

Sees Organized Crime Crushed.

"I say to you that this generation of our citizens will vindicate itself as have the generations of the difficult past, and in the glorious history of Chicago, itself not dependent upon any one generation, will be remembered not only as a constructive generation

Ransom Wins Freedom for Yank in Mexico

Oklahoma City, Okla., April 9.—(AP)—Exhausted from a month of privation and terror in the hands of Mexican bandits, J. E. Bristow, American oil man, was released by his kidnapers today in the mountains near Ahuacatlan, Nayarit, after payment of ransom by his son, Obie Bristow.

Details of the delivery, reported both in official and private advices, were given tonight in a copyrighted dispatch to the Daily Oklahoman from Merle Blakely, staff writer.

Blakely joined Obie Bristow in Mazatlan two weeks ago and was in the party of three Americans who carried the ransom money to the mountain village of Ahuacatlan, where final arrangements for the elder Bristow's release were effected.

Father and Son Reunited.

The long weeks of anxious waiting were climaxed by the meeting between father and son, who had hurried to Mexico when news of the capture became known. The exact amount of the ransom was not made public, but was believed to be either $1,500 or $15,000.

"Let mother know I am well," were the father's first words when he was greeted by Obie Bristow. Mrs. Bristow is in San Angelo, Tex., where her husband has been engaged in the oil business. The family formerly lived in Oklahoma.

As the oil man embraced his son, in the presence of Blakely and E. W. Eaton, American consul at Mazatlan, he said he did not know until last Friday that any effort was being made to rescue him.

"I thought perhaps you believed me dead," he added.

Shows Effects of Captivity.

Bristow was worn from his long captivity and his face was covered with a heavy growth of graying beard. He had been held since March 10, most of the time in the subcrater of an extinct volcano near Ahuacatlan, where the bandit gang camped. The place was a natural fortress against the Mexican federal troops which have been pursuing the outlaws.

Before daybreak today the bandits took Bristow to a mountainside, Blakely said, going a long way around to avoid Mexican soldiers who have been ordered to get them dead or alive. They wheeled their horses and turned back toward their isolated retreat, leaving Bristow in the hands of native messengers who brought him into Ahuacatlan astride a donkey.

A message from Obie Bristow to his mother at San Angelo said the party would leave for Tepic, Nayarit, tonight.

Wife Collapses at News.

San Angelo, Tex., April 9.—(AP)—"Thank God. Thank God," was all that Mrs. Bristow could say when notified at her home here of her husband's safety. The elderly woman, who had given no sign of strain during the weeks Bristow had been in the hands of the bandits, collapsed into the arms of a friend. Later she told neighbors that "I was just sitting there praying that he was all right. It's been so long since we have had any word that I was afraid."

"GOOD READING"

The literary committee which has selected 500 books to stock the White House with "good reading matter" announced its lists last night. The 184 selected volumes of fiction are listed on page 6. Books of biography, poetry, travel, history, etc., selected will be printed in THE TRIBUNE tomorrow and Saturday.

MAITLAND, FLYER, BADLY INJURED IN AUTO COLLISION

San Antonio, Tex., April 9.—(AP)—Lieut. Lester J. Maitland, army aviator who with Lieut. Hagenberger in 1928 made the first flight from the Pacific coast to the Hawaiian islands, was seriously injured today in collision between his automobile and a bus near Kelly field, where he is stationed. He is in a hospital here.

Wife Given Divorce.

Las Vegas, Nev., April 9.—(AP)—Mrs. Ruth Thurston Maitland was granted a divorce today from Lieut. Lester J. Maitland, army flyer. She charged mental cruelty. Maitland with Lieut. Albert Hagenberger in 1928 made the first flight to Hawaii from the United States. Mrs. Maitland has been living here under her maiden name, Ruth Thurston.

Mrs. Maitland was granted $200 monthly alimony, which, attorneys said in court, had been agreed upon previously. In her complaint Mrs. Maitland charged the aviator with nagging and other mental cruelties.

The couple were married in Washington, D. C., where they met in the spring of 1922. Mrs. Maitland left her husband, who is stationed at San Antonio, Tex., several months ago. They have one child, Patricia, 5 years old. Mrs. Maitland is the daughter of the late Senator John M. Thurston of Nebraska.

World Court Enemies Hail Polls Verdict

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 9.—[Special.]—Nomination of Ruth Hanna McCormick in yesterday's Illinois senatorial primary gave a decided impetus today to the movement against acceptance of the modified reservations to the world court protocol. Opponents of the court, who have been in the minority in the senate, were highly elated over the evidences of anti-world court sentiment.

Defeat of Senator Charles S. Deneen by Mrs. McCormick meant that 18 senators who voted for the world court in 1926 now have been retired in primaries or elections. Eleven others of the 76 who voted for it have been taken from the senate either by voluntary action or by death.

When Senator Deneen leaves the senate only 47 who voted for the world court resolution will remain, and one of this number, Senator Park Trammell [Dem., Fla.], has since switched to the other side and has actively sought to rescind the senate's 76 to 17 action.

Glenn Interprets Vote.

Senator Otis F. Glenn [Rep., Ill.], who remained neutral in the McCormick-Deneen primary contest, said in a formal statement that the outcome was due to sentiment against the world court.

"Mrs. McCormick's victory over an opponent of high character and standards, and with wide experience and a notable record in the governmental life of our state and nation, was to many unexpected," said Senator Glenn. "Those closely in touch with the campaign attribute the decision largely to the world court issue and yesterday's primary again demonstrated that the people of Illinois are reluctant to enter into the maze of European alliances, animosities, entanglements, and commitments.

"The Democratic nominee, former Senator Lewis, will endeavor to make prohibition the main issue in the coming election, in the hope of diverting the attention of the voters from his record as an enthusiastic supporter of the league of nations and all things that go with it.

Predicts G. O. P. Victory.

"He will not succeed in this, however, and I predict that the main issue in Illinois will be the international policy of the United States, and I further predict that Mrs. McCormick will win a sweeping victory at that time."

Comments of various other senators on the Illinois primary showed that both supporters and opponents of the world court have been impressed with the fact that the court question again is a live issue.

Senator James E. Watson [Rep., Ind.], majority leader, who voted against the world court in 1926, said that the Illinois result means "thumbs down on the league of nations."

Senator William E. Borah [Rep., Idaho], chairman of the foreign relations committee and a world court opponent, said that "it would seem from the returns that the people of Illinois are not in favor of the world court, and I presume for the reason that they know it is not a world court, but a league court."

"In my opinion," said Senator Borah, "the result would be the same in a popular vote in any state where the issue is presented."

Quick Police Work Lands Holdup Trio

Two gunmen last night held up P. V. Bolton, 426 Surf street, general credit manager of the Commercial Credit Trust company, and Mrs. Margaret Miller, 5493 Cornell avenue, in front of Mrs. Miller's home, and, after forcing Bolton to drive to 54th street and the outer drive, robbed him of his automobile, a watch and $9. From Mrs. Miller the bandits took a watch valued at $100, a ring worth $150, and $5 in cash.

Early this morning two men and a woman riding in the automobile taken from Bolton were arrested at 26th street and Kedzie avenue, and locked up at the Lawndale police station after they confessed the robbery. They gave their names as Joseph Graff, 28 years old, of Toledo, O.; Thomas McDermott, 26, also of Toledo, and Miss Phyllis Davis, 26, of the Metropole hotel.

MRS. EDEN MUST PAY $20,000 FOR ALIENATED LOVE

Lima, O., April 9.—(AP)—Mrs. Carl Patton was awarded a verdict of $20,000 in Common Pleas court here today in her alienation of affections suit against Mrs. Leo Eden, former wife of the late James Oliver Curwood, author and explorer.

The suit has been pending about two years. It was not contested.

The Pattons, parents of six children, are separated, but not divorced. They have been married about thirty years.

Last November in Florida Patton shot Mrs. Eden and then shot himself. He later was tried on a charge of assault to kill and was acquitted.

Asks Court's O. K. on $551,300 Valentino Bills

Los Angeles, Cal., April 9.—(AP)—S. George Ullman, executor of the $800,000 estate of Rudolph Valentino, film star, presented for approval of Superior Judge Carlos Crail today an accounting in which bills totaling $551,346 were contained. Included were $21,616 advanced to Maria Strada Guglielmi, sister, and $36,949 advanced to Alberto Guglielmi, brother of the star.

Flames in North Side Flat Rout 70 from Homes

Fire of undetermined origin that broke out in the second floor apartment of V. D. Wolff routed Wolff's family and 70 other tenants of the building at 3241-45 Broadway early this morning. The damage was estimated at $1,000.

MRS. M'CORMICK 190,000 AHEAD; GOES TO CAPITAL

Lewis Prepares for Wet-Dry Race.

Ruth Hanna McCormick, unflurried by the storm of ballots which made her the Republican nominee for United States senator from Illinois, left Chicago at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon for Washington, D. C.

Returns were still staggering in, but with 6,452 of the 7,117 precincts in the state heard from, Mrs. McCormick had a plurality over Senator Charles S. Deneen of 190,364. The reports from the 6,452 precincts gave McCormick, 625,413; Deneen, 435,049.

Should the remaining precincts yield similar pluralities for Mrs. McCormick her total plurality in the state is indicated at 209,400. However, the last 220 precincts reported from downstate were reducing Mrs. McCormick's plurality slightly, and it was regarded doubtful whether the estimated plurality would be attained.

Lewis an Easy Victor.

James Hamilton Lewis, a former United States senator, won easily over his four opponents in the Democratic primary for the senatorship nomination, polling four times as many votes as all four combined.

The struggle in November, it appears, will be wet against dry, for Senator Lewis has let it be known that he will emphasize the Volstead issue in his campaign. While receiving the congratulations of friends yesterday, the Democratic nominee declared he would base his bid for the senatorship also upon attacks on the Hoover administration and the Hoover policies.

Clarence F. Buck of Monmouth won an easy victory over six other contenders for the Republican nomination for state treasurer, while the Democratic nomination for this office still stood in doubt between Edward J. Barrett and M. C. Zacharias, both of Chicago.

Francis G. Blair of Charleston was nominated as the Republican bidder for state superintendent of public instruction.

Congratulate Mrs. McCormick.

Mrs. McCormick, waking at noon yesterday, spent the remainder of the afternoon until train time receiving the congratulations of her friends, and of feminist leaders all over the nation who saw in her nomination a significant advance in their cause.

Alice Roosevelt Longworth, Mrs. McCormick's friend, who had come to celebrate with her, had to depart for Washington three hours ahead of her victorious friend. But Mrs. Longworth, daughter of Theodore Roosevelt and wife of the speaker of the house of representatives, departed from her usual custom of refusing to give press interviews long enough to express her "unrestrained joy" at the outcome of the primary.

Among the hundreds of telegrams received by Mrs. McCormick was one from her defeated rival. It said:

"I congratulate you upon your nomination. CHARLES S. DENEEN."

Deneen Gives Out Statement.

Senator Deneen also issued the following statement:

"The returns speak for themselves. I wish to thank sincerely those in all parts of the state who supported me with such zeal and enthusiasm, and to assure them that their efforts are none the less appreciated by me because of the results of the primary."

Mr. Deneen, laughing jovially, reminded the newspapermen who received the statement that he was "still in politics."

Mrs. McCormick found time as she left her quarters in the Palmer house to thank attachés of the hotel for their courtesies to her. So unhurried was she, that it was necessary for officials of the Pennsylvania railroad to delay the departure of her train, the Rainbow, for half an hour while the candidate was arriving, posing for photographers, talking for the talkies, and finally boarding the train with her party.

Ovation Waits at Capital.

She expressed eagerness to resume her seat as congresswoman at large from Illinois when the house of representatives reconvenes tomorrow morning. Her friends in Washington, it was learned, are planning a demonstration to greet her arrival, and her presence will be noted by her colleagues on the floor of the house.

Mrs. McCormick's plurality was given its greatest strength in Cook county, which she swept from north to south. In Chicago the final returns revealed only one ward in which the voters favored Senator Deneen. This was the first ward, bailiwick of State Senator Adolph Marks, Deneen leader, and the ward in which a cry of fraud had been raised before the primary by the Deneen adherents.

Vote in Cook County.

The police returns for Cook county, with fifteen precincts missing in Chicago and three precincts missing in the country towns, gave the following vote for senator:

	Chicago.	Country Towns.	Total.
Deneen	149,760	39,744	189,504
Jenkins	39,916	11,711	51,627
McCormick	297,721	54,447	352,168

Downstate, with 647 precincts missing, gave: Deneen, 245,545; Jenkins, 70,154; McCormick, 273,245. Thus the totals ran: Deneen, 435,049; Jenkins, 121,781; McCormick, 625,413.

Attorney General Oscar Carlstrom suffered a double defeat in his home county of Mercer, according to dispatches from Aledo, which showed Deneen, supported by Carlstrom, trailing 1,200 votes behind Mrs. McCormick. The vote was McCormick, 2,614; Deneen, 1,417. At the same time the voters defeated two of Carlstrom's candidates for precinct committeeman.

Carries Glenn's County.

Jackson county, home bailiwick of United States Senator Otis F. Glenn, helped to retire Senator Deneen, and thus placed Glenn in line to become the senior senator for Illinois next March. Mrs. McCormick carried the county by 1,000.

In the Republican state treasurership fight, with 5,899 precincts reported out of the 7,117 in Illinois, the Republican voters had given the candidates the following vote: Clarence F. Buck, 471,639; Warren E. Wright, 92,788; Byron C. Thorpe, 76,604; Samuel N. Hunter, 62,112; Charles A. Gregory, 55,648; I. J. Brown, 54,001; Leonard A. Minter, 43,230.

BLAME STRAIN OF ELECTION DAY FOR TWO DEATHS

Two deaths yesterday were attributed to the strains of election day. One was a policeman returning from 30 hours of continuous duty at the polls and the other was a worker employed in passing out circulars.

After 30 hours of duty at a polling place at 4646 Armitage avenue, William Schnaitman, 50 years old, a policeman attached to the Cragin station, collapsed yesterday morning on a street car at Clark street and Wacker drive and died of heart disease a few minutes later. Schaitman was on his way to his home at 4916 Wabansia avenue when he was stricken.

Theodore Radtka, 30 years old, 2711 South Ridgeway avenue, dropped dead of heart disease in the Millard State bank at 3645 West 26th street, where he had gone to cash a check given him in payment for election services. Radtka worked all day Tuesday, standing on a corner passing out circulars and is believed to have died as a result of the strain.

British Export Trade Body Seeks Unemployment Cure

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 9.—In an attempt to solve the riddle of unemployment by developing exports the Labor government has appointed an "overseas trade development council." It will consist of government officials and leading representatives of commerce, who will advise on export trade and cooperate with Minister for Unemployment J. H. Thomas.

SIX OF SEX IN CONGRESS HAIL RUTH'S VICTORY

Send Congratulations to Their Colleague.

Washington, D. C., April 9.—(AP)—Six women members of the house rejoiced today in the sweeping primary victory of a seventh, Ruth Hanna McCormick, now Republican candidate for the senate from Illinois.

One, Pearl Peden Oldfield of Arkansas, granting Mrs. McCormick's personal charm, frankly hoped to see a Democrat elected to the senate next fall from Illinois. She is a Democrat.

May Open New Political Door.

The jubilant six realized that Mrs. McCormick's transfer to "the senate side" would mean her loss to the house. But they considered it also might mean the entering of another gate hitherto closed to the woman politician.

No woman was ever elected to the senate, though there was one senatorial appointee, the late Rebecca Latimer Felton of Georgia. She served as senator for two days, Nov. 21 and 22, 1922.

During her last visit in Washington Representative McCormick invited all her Republican women colleagues to come out to Illinois and celebrate with her today. They could not go, but they all sent telegrams.

From Ruth to Ruth.

Representative Ruth Baker Pratt, New York, laying some claim to a gift of prophecy, proudly announced today that she was first to congratulate Mrs. McCormick on her victory.

From one Ruth to another, she felt that there obviously could be no doubt as to the outcome. Her telegram that went at 8 p. m. yesterday, when the polls closed and the count was not yet taken, said:

"It is not too early to congratulate you. Love and best wishes. Ruth."

"Here's to success. May your votes pile up mountain high," telegraphed Representative Florence P. Kahn, California, while the election was on.

Early this morning Mrs. Kahn added: "Congratulations! Am I glad? I am. Florence P. Kahn."

DOC FRAMPTON IS INDICTED ON GIRL'S CHARGE

Dr. Amos R. Frampton, dentist, at 1000 Belmont avenue, was indicted by the grand jury yesterday after he had been held for jury action by Judge John Sbarbaro in the Felony court. Miss Violet White, 19 years old, 3630 North Sacramento avenue, who said that Frampton tried to attack her soon after she had become his assistant, first told her story to Judge Sbarbaro and a short time later repeated it to the grand jurors.

Dr. Frampton denied all the charges made by Miss White. Two detectives, however, told the judge and later were reported to have told the grand jury, that the dentist, who has been called "Old Doc Flyaway Frampton" by the Chicago Medical society, attempted to escape arrest by running down a rear stairway when they appeared. He was caught after a chase.

VOTE GIVES WETS A SLIGHT GAIN IN NEXT ASSEMBLY

Legislative Winners for Cook County Listed.

More complete returns on the primary indicate that the wets will increase their strength by a few votes in the next general assembly. In the last legislature the opposition to Volsteadism garnered 77 votes in the house, but in the senate the dry dominated by a vote of 28 to 21.

It is impossible to indicate with accuracy the probable increased strength of the wets for two reasons. A considerable number of downstate candidates failed to indicate their position in THE TRIBUNE polls. In addition, the returns are incomplete.

However, in Cook county it is more definite. For the house the Democrats have 30 candidates of whom 28, in The Tribune poll, favored a repeal of the dry laws. Of the 32 Republican candidates, 22 indicated opposition to prohibition as now existing. For the senate the Democrats have 15 candidates of whom 14 cast wet straw votes. An even dozen of the 16 Republican candidates for the senate also desire a repeal of the prohibition statutes.

Decided in 14 Districts.

The primary was equivalent to an election in 14 out of the 19 Cook county districts. In these 14 there are only three candidates nominated and three are to be elected. In the seventh, Eleventh, Nineteenth, Twenty-fifth and Thirty-first districts, four candidates have been nominated, three Republicans and one Democrat in the Seventh and two of each party in the other four districts.

Among the candidates for senator the label of the drys was placed only upon Senator Lowell Mason of the Oak Park district, although there were three other Republicans and one Democrat who failed to express their views in THE TRIBUNE poll.

W. C. T. U. SEES DRY-WET ISSUE IN SENATE RACE

The national headquarters of the Woman's Christian Temperance union at Evanston last night issued a statement calling national attention to the senatorial race in Illinois. The statement said that Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, a dry, will be opposed at the election next November by former Senator James Hamilton Lewis, an avowed wet.

"The results in the Illinois senatorial primary have serious national consequences," the statement said. "The Democratic senatorial candidate, James Hamilton Lewis, is an unalterable wet; the Republican, Mrs. McCormick, is an unalterable dry. The contest between the two will be largely on prohibition, with the huge financial resources of the wet organizations behind Lewis. Should he carry Illinois, it is reasonable to believe him a strong possibility for the Democratic presidential nomination—provided the Democrats are still foolish enough to nominate a wet."

Mr. Lewis, in a formal statement last night, said that his campaign would be made on the prohibition issue, declaring the principal issue of the campaign will be the system which "makes a criminal" of a citizen "if he should protest in his own honest state against national tyranny."

"From these issues I shall not permit any candidate—man or woman—to escape," Lewis said.

Japan Abandons Plea for More Submarines.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 9.—The withdrawal today by the Japanese delegates to the five power naval conference of their eleventh hour plea for the right to transfer 20,000 tons of their destroyer tonnage into submarines has cleared the way for the conclusion of a three power naval limitation treaty among Great Britain, America and Japan, in event that France and Italy refuse to join in a five power agreement. Furthermore, it transpires that the drafting of the articles to be fitted into the three power treaty has virtually been completed.

The conference is now in position to wind up its business within ten days unless a five power treaty fails to materialize.

Plan Series of Pacts.

In event that no agreement is reached with France and Italy on limitation of cruisers, destroyers and submarines, the conference leaders contemplate the conclusion of the following series of treaties:

FIRST, a five power treaty reducing battleship fleets and postponing replacements of battleships for five years, and otherwise amending the Washington naval limitation treaty of 1922.

SECOND, a three power treaty limiting the number or tonnage of cruisers, destroyers and submarines possessed by Great Britain, Japan and America.

THIRD, a five power declaration prohibiting the destruction of merchant ships by submarines, unless passengers and crews of the captured craft are placed in safety.

Envoys Eye McCormick Victory.

The victory of Ruth Hanna McCormick in the Illinois primary race for senator detonated today like a bomb-shell in the American delegation. The prominence of the world court issue in the Illinois battle contributed in no small degree to the misgivings aroused in the minds of some, if not all, of the American envoys when they learned of the returns.

That Mrs. McCormick, opposing the entrance of America into the world court on the basis of the Root formula, should have overwhelmingly defeated Senator Deneen, who defended his vote to put America into the world court, was construed as possibly significant of the widespread reaction in the United States against entanglement in European affairs.

What gave the American delegates particularly uncomfortable feeling was the reflection that the popular opinion in the United States against the world court might extend to the substantive pact to which they contemplate committing America in event that a five power naval tonnage limitation agreement should be concluded.

BRIAND MAKES PLEDGE

BY HENRY WALES.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 9.—Donning a white tie and a boiled shirt, Aristide Briand, French foreign minister, tonight broke his rule against formally dressing out. He attended Secretary of State Stimson's banquet at Stanmore and announced France's final concessions with a view to reaching a five power naval treaty.

The grizzled French diplomat previously had declined the American secretary of state's invitation, but reconsidered this evening when Dino Grandi's illness prevented conversations between the British, Italians, and French, and sent word to Stanmore that he would attend. Signor Grandi, it had been announced, was confined to his bed by an attack of influenza.

M. Briand after the dinner assured Prime Minister MacDonald and Mr. Stimson that the French government would not carry out its 1924 building program, providing for a 713,000-ton navy by 1936, unless Italy starts a construction race and forces the pace.

M. Briand asserted that any new tonnage laid down by France between now and 1936 will not affect the Anglo-American parity agreement, thereby absolving the British prime minister from revising the figures he agreed on with President Hoover, and from disrupting the arrangement with Japan.

M Briand's conciliatory action thus puts the onus of the deadlock and failure to reach a five power agreement squarely on Italy, and it is expected that it will elicit a reply from the Fascists. It was pointed out that if the Rome government replies with an assurance that Italy does not intend to strive to develop a navy approximating parity with France by 1930 it will amount to a gentlemen's agreement with Paris, which will permit a five power agreement at the eleventh hour.

From an Italian source it was learned that Sig. Grandi, foreseeing a French move in this direction, asked instructions from Premier Mussolini by telegraph, and it was because this response had not arrived on time that he called off his meetings with Mr. MacDonald and M. Briand on the ground that he had a sore throat.

THE CIVIL WAR ENDED 65 YEARS AGO TODAY— FACSIMILE OF PART OF THE TRIBUNE'S NEWS OF IT

Chicago Tribune.

THE SURRENDER OF LEE.

General Robert E. Lee has surrendered his sword to the Lieutenant General commanding the armies of the United States. The rebel army of Northern Virginia, the most powerful force ever opposed to the authority of the government, has ceased to exist. The rebellion has ended. The sun in his course on this blessed tenth of April, 1865, beholds a Union restored, inseparable, indivisible, eternal! The news received in this city after 10 o'clock Sunday evening awoke the wildest enthusiasm. Crowds of people thronged the streets in front of the TRIBUNE office and Tremont House, shouting the glad tidings, which were caught up by the Court House bell and borne to distant parts of the city, while rockets sped aloft conveying the intelligence that a great victory had been achieved for the cause of Freedom and the Union. Miriam's hymn was chanted with fervent joy by thousands of loyal hearts: "Sing unto the Lord, for He hath triumphed gloriously; the horse and the rider He hath thrown into the sea."

So long as Gen. Lee's army had a collective existence, we could not say that the war was ended. This fact was impressed on every mind, and on none so strongly as on that of Lieut. Gen. Grant. Hence the splendid movements at Petersburg were preceded by an equally brilliant flank march by the cavalry and the 5th corps, under Major General Sheridan, cutting off the remnant of the rebel army from Danville and the South. Hemmed in by Sheridan and the Appomattox river on the one side, by Meade on another, by Hancock on another, and by Thomas on the fourth, the destruction of that army was only a question of time. The celerity of Gen. Grant's movements has merely precipitated the surrender. Johnston's army, with Sherman in his front and Grant in his rear, must now dissolve like the baseless fabric of a vision, or surrender to the victorious armies of the Union. The great rebellion has ended! Glory to God in the highest: peace on earth and good will toward men!

THE NEWS.

Our dispatches from Richmond are full and interesting. The good work of order out of chaos goes on rapidly. The President, accompanied by his wife and some friends, has again gone to Richmond.

Latest advices from the cavalry expedition under Stoneman, report his arrival at, and capture of the town of Boone, in western North Carolina. The force was evidently en route for Salisbury, about sixty miles distant, which place has ere this probably been reached.

Our advices from the front of Mobile indicate active work. Canby is working his way up to that doomed city. The capture of Spanish Fort, which is now making a stubborn resistance, with all its garrison, will surely be accomplished. When done the road to Mobile will be an easy and pleasant one.

The report that the rebels had captured Fort Smith, Arkansas, is untrue. It was occupied by Union troops as late as the 3d instant.

Selma, Ala, is reported to have been occupied and burned by a portion of the cavalry forces under Wilson, thus not only destroying immense resources of the rebels but enabling off the retreat of the garrison at Mobile.

Gen. Hancock is moving his troops, recently at Winchester, up the Shenandoah Valley, towards Lynchburg, to co-operate with Grant and Sheridan.

Major General Dix:

This Department has received the official report of the surrender this day of General Lee and his army to Lieutenant General Grant, on the terms proposed by General Grant.

E. M. STANTON, Sec'y of War.

HEADQRS. ARMIES OF THE UNITED STATES, April 9—4:30 p. m.

Hon. E. M. Stanton, Secretary of War:

mine of the same date, asking on what conditions I will accept the surrender of the Army of Northern Virginia is received. In reply I would say, that peace being my first desire, there is but one condition that I insist upon, viz: that the men surrendered shall be disqualified for taking up arms again against the Government of the United States until properly exchanged. I will meet you, or designate officers to meet any officers you may name for the same purpose, at any point agreeable to you for the purpose of arranging definitely the terms upon which the surrender of the army of Northern Virginia will be received.

Very respectfully, your ob't serv't,

U. S. GRANT, Lieut. Gen. Com. Armies of U. S.

APRIL 9th, 1865.

GENERAL: I received at a late hour your note of to-day in answer to mine of yesterday. I did not intend to propose the surrender of the Army of Northern Virginia, but to ask the terms of your propositions to be frank. I do not think the emergency has arrived to call for the surrender, but as the restoration of peace should be the object of all, I desire to know whether your proposals would tend to that end. I cannot, therefore, meet you with a view to surrender the Army of Northern Virginia, but as far as your proposition may affect the Confederate States forces under my command and tend to the restoration of peace, I should be pleased to meet you at 10 a. m. to-morrow, on the old stage road to Richmond, between the picket lines of the two armies.

Very respectfully, &c., R. E. LEE.

To Lieut. Gen. Grant.

APRIL 9.

Gen. R. E. Lee, commanding C. S. A.:

GENERAL—Your note of yesterday is received. As I have no authority to treat on the subject of peace, the meeting proposed for 10 a. m. to-day could lead to no good. I will state, however, General, that I am equally anxious for peace with yourself, and that the whole North entertain the same feeling. The terms upon which peace can be had are well understood. By the South laying down their arms they will hasten that most desirable event, save thousands of human lives and hundreds of millions of property not yet destroyed. Hoping that all our difficulties may be settled without the loss of another life, I subscribe myself, Respectfully, &c.,

U. S. GRANT, Lieut. Gen.

WAR DEP'T, WASHINGTON, April 9—8:30 p. m.

To Lieutenant General Grant:

Thanks be to Almighty God for the great victory with which he has this day crowned you and the gallant armies under your command. The thanks of the Department of the Government, and of the people of the United States, their reverence and honor have been deserved and will be tendered to you and the brave soldiers and gallant officers of your army for all time.

(Signed) EDWIN M. STANTON, Secretary of War.

WAR DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, April 9—10 p. m.

Ordered, That a salute of 100 guns be fired at the headquarters of every army and navy department, and at every post and arsenal in the United States, and at the military academy at West Point, on the day of the receipt of this order, in commemoration of the surrender of General R. E. Lee and the Army of Northern Virginia to Lieut. Gen. Grant and the army under his command. Report of the receipt and execution of this order to be made to the Adjutant General at Washington.

MAJOR: Please furnish transportation to Danville, Va., for five hundred barrels government archives, to be shipped in four lots in charge of Messrs. L. F. Bonneux and J. F. Landry, with transportation for those agents.

JNO. W. HALE, Chief Clerk.

Other letters written on the same day seem to indicate the expectation of remaining for at least another month in Richmond. Here is one sent to the Examiner, duplicates of which were also sent to all the other papers of the city:

MARCH 31.

Editor of the Examiner:

SIR—You will please publish the inclosed notice in reference to remittances to the treasury for one month, in your daily issue, and discontinue such advertisements for the Treasury Department as have been ordered published, till stopped.

Respectfully,

JOHN W. HALE, Chief Clerk.

HOW THE REBEL POPULAR LOAN CONTRASTED WITH OURS.

The last letter, given above, contains a reference in an important piece of rebel policy, which, so far as I now remember, has hitherto been unknown at the North. It appears that on the 18th of March the rebel Congress passed a joint resolution providing for donations to their treasury, and that Secretary Trenholm was systematically at work drafting the Confederacy into districts and appointing in each an agent for soliciting and receiving such donations. I give two or three letters, which illustrate the mode of operations:

TREASURY DEP'T, C. S. A., March 31.

T. R. Ferrer, Esq.:

SIR: You are authorized to receive all contributions of money and securities, and to deposit the same with the nearest pay depository of the Treasury or to make remittances thereof by express to the Treasurer at Richmond, when it is equally convenient to pay the currency received to wounded officers of the Quartermaster's and Commissary Departments. You are further authorized to accept that course taking their checks for the same upon funds at their credits with the Treasurer or with depositaries of the treasury and remitting the checks, or depositing the same in lieu of currency for all deposits made. You will take duplicate receipts, forward one to the treasury at Richmond, and retain the other to be delivered with your general account in making payments to quartermasters and commissaries. You will endeavor to divide them about equally between the two departments. By direction of the Secretary of the Treasury.

J. W. HALE, Chief Clerk.

Here follows Mr. Ferrer's formal appointment:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, C. S. A., March 30.

T. R. Ferrer, Esq.:

SIR—You are hereby appointed an agent of this Department for the State of Virginia, in the section south of the James river, to receive voluntary contributions in aid of the treasury, in conformity with the joint resolution of Congress, providing for donations to the treasury of the Confederate States, approved March 13, 1865.

Respectfully, by order of the Secretary of the Treasury, JOHN W. HALE, Chief Clerk.

Here is an acknowledgment of one of the donations:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, C. S. A., March 30.

John F. Bough, Esq., Cashier of Merchants' Bank, Lynchburg, Va.:

SIR: Your patriotic letter of the 25th inst. has been received, and I have the honor of returning to your bank the thanks of the government for the promptitude and liberality of its conduct. The sum of $15,000 is accepted, and you will please signify at your convenience the mode of settlement you adopt. The certificates or orders for cotton when accepted in payment are being printed, and will soon be ready for delivery. The coin you will be good enough to deposit with W. T. Brooker, Depositary at Lynchburg.

Very respectfully,

O. A. TRENHOLM, Secretary of the Treas.

It may be fairly inferred from these and some other letters that the patriotic citizens making these donations to the staggering treasury had the choice of making them as an absolute free gift, or of taking blockade cotton at government prices, 20 to 30 cents in gold, for them. Wonderful as his acknowledged ability to push off the popular loans is, Jay Cooke could hardly make ours go at the rate of three millions per day on such terms.

THAT ELEMENT OF IN DEBOUTER.

Another letter from Secretary Trenholm shows what is meant by calling the fate of rebel cotton a blessing in disguise. It diminished the number of their offices, and of course by so much reduced their expenses. Here is the ludicrously diplomatic way in which Mr. DAVIS is apprised of the pleasant fact:

GUESTS DUCK AS COP FIRES IN STEVENS LOBBY

6 Policemen Chase Youth Into Hotel.

Guests lounging about the lobby of the Stevens hotel late yesterday afternoon were thrown into excitement as five south park policemen, flanked by a private watchman, burst through the 8th street entrance, all brandishing revolvers, as they pursued a fleeing 16 year old youth who had attempted to steal an automobile.

Cries of "stop, thief!" resounded through the corridors, still further alarming the guests. Then one of the pursuers fired a revolver. Women screamed and men dived for shelter. The fleeing youth took a quick header into an overstuffed divan, where the police seized him.

Hotel Men Protest.

Jay Abrams, house detective at the Stevens, and several of the assistant managers rushed forward with protests against the police for firing a shot in the crowded lobbies.

South Park Policemen Eugene Callahan and Thomas Corr, together with Ray Reich, a special bank policeman, took the young prisoner to the detective bureau, where he gave his name as Sigmund Carpusinski of 2136 South Fairfield avenue. The boy said he had just been released from the St. Charles School for Boys, where he had been incarcerated on a similar charge. He was held for the juvenile authorities.

Policemen Callahan and Corr at the bureau would not admit they had captured the boy inside the hotel. They said they caught him outside. Abrams, the house detective, got the names of other policemen in the mêlée as "Tusey," "Goldsmith," and "Steaker."

All Deny Firing Shot.

When he questioned all of the policemen while still in the hotel lobby, each denied having fired the shot.

"Where was the shot fired?" Mr. Abrams was asked.

"Right in the lobby as they still ran after the boy," he growled. "Every one of them lost his head."

"What became of the bullet, Mr. Abrams?"

"Well, it was fired at the marble floor on an angle. It ricocheted up against the wall and bounced down on the floor again. Then a guest picked it up and put it carefully in his pocket, remarking, 'Well, at last I've got a real souvenir of Chicago!'"

CARBARY'S ENTRY FOR KANE COUNTY SHERIFF BEATEN

The dry leadership of State's Attorney George D. Carbary of Kane county, who threatened to curtail his prohibition enforcement program unless his candidate for sheriff was nominated received a blow at the polls Tuesday, according to full returns on the primary last night.

Chief of Police Harry A. Crawford of St. Charles won the Republican nomination for sheriff from Gustave C. Malcor of Aurora, Carbary's dry candidate, by a vote of 22,489 to 11,251. Joseph De King of Aurora, whose wife was slain in a raid by Carbary raiders a year ago, ran a poor third with 1,072 votes.

FOUR BOND ISSUES WIN O. K.; OGDEN BEATEN

Returns from 2,994 out of 3,009 precincts in Chicago last night indicated that all but one of the five bond issues submitted at Tuesday's election were approved by the voters. With only 15 precincts to be heard from, the Ogden avenue bond issue of $5,400,000 for the widening and improvement of that street was losing by 54,754 votes.

Following is the vote on the bond issues in 2,994 precincts:

	For.	Against.
Ashland avenue bonds	277,285	237,572
Western avenue bonds	270,310	234,910
La Salle street bonds	255,580	233,640
Ogden avenue bonds	217,314	272,068
Airport bonds	249,746	242,428

Of the four remaining propositions the airport bond issue was the most closely contested, but the majority of 7,318 favorable votes was believed sufficient to carry it through the remaining precincts. The airport bond issue is for the purpose of improving and expanding the present city air field at 63d street and Cicero avenue.

The Ashland and Western avenue and the La Salle street bonds are to pay judgments.

RESCUERS GIVE CITY $9,568,356 FOR PAY ROLLS

Paying out $9,568,356 to the city, the Cook County Taxpayers' Warrant Trust yesterday provided funds for another month of operation. The money was used for pay rolls of city employés, the board of education, the public library, and the municipal tuberculosis sanitarium and for pension fund disbursements, back bills, and miscellaneous corporate expenses.

According to Deputy City Controller Petterson, the money was divided approximately as follows:

School board—teachers	$4,400,000
Tuberculosis sanitarium	130,000
Firemen's pension fund	100,000
Corporate city pay rolls	3,800,000
Public library	100,000
Old bills	70,000
Miscellaneous	1,800,000

The city bills paid, Petterson said, were entered as payable on the controller's books before Nov. 1, 1929. County employes will be paid today for the two weeks' period ending March 31, said Michael J. O'Connor, deputy controller.

LOESCH IS 78; FEELS FIT FOR MORE BATTLES

Veteran Lawyer Spends Busy Day.

Frank J. Loesch, veteran of the Chicago bar and leader in the fight of a year ago against the alliance of crime and politics, celebrated his 78th birthday yesterday.

Mr. Loesch appeared in his office at 8:30 o'clock as usual. He remained there busy, smiling at times and even humming a tune, according to his associates, until about 2 p. m. Then he went to his suite at the Drake, where he remained until he went to the Casino club a block away to attend a reception of several hundred of his friends given by Mrs. Loesch.

At the reception he spent two hours shaking hands and receiving congratulations.

"Well," he remarked between handshakings, to a reporter who edged his way alongside, "all I can say is that I was born in Buffalo, N. Y., seventy-eight years ago today, and that I am still alive and going strong."

His strong face broke into its genial smile.

"I might add," he said, "that I think there's a few good fights left in the old frame yet. But don't make that too prominent; I'm not looking for the battles."

Refers to Primaries.

Mr. Loesch then referred to the primary of two years ago, when the violence, kidnapings, slugfings, and wholesale stealing of ballots in the "Bloody Twentieth" ward, together with the street killing of Octavius Granady, a colored candidate for committeeman there, sent the veteran lawyer out to battle against crime and crooked politics.

Mr. Loesch contrasted the quiet primary of Tuesday with that tumultuous one of two years before, adding that if he and his associates had done nothing else, they had at least brought about cleaner elections in the city.

Police Hunt Acquaintance of Slain Restaurant Man

The Cicero police last night were seeking an acquaintance of Adam Malenowski, 32 years old, owner of a restaurant at 4921 West 31st street, Cicero, on the theory that Malenowski was stabbed to death as the result of a personal quarrel and not because of any gang connections. Malenowski was found dying of knife wounds in an alley in the rear of his restaurant yesterday morning, and died at the Berwyn hospital an hour later without regaining consciousness.

TIFFANY WINNER IN LAKE COUNTY BY RECORD VOTE

Final unofficial figures yesterday showed that Chief of Police Lester T. Tiffany of Lake Forest got 11,152 votes for the Republican nomination for sheriff of Lake county in Tuesday's primary, defeating H. A. Doolittle, father of Sheriff Lawrence Doolittle, who finished second, by 4,568 votes. The votes for the other three candidates were: Edward Brown, 5,948; Elmer J. Green, 5,232; Edwin Ahlstrom, 4,103. Tiffany's vote is a record for the sheriff's office in a primary election.

W. C. Petty, superintendent of the Antioch High school, defeated T. Arthur Simpson of Waukegan for the Republican county superintendent of schools nomination. Simpson has been county school superintendent for 24 years. Petty won by 2,036 votes, getting 14,787 to Simpson's 12,751.

Judge Perry L. Persons, who has presided for 20 years on the Lake County court bench in Waukegan, defeated Attorney Charles E. Jack of Waukegan by around 6,000 votes.

Fred Brown, chief deputy sheriff of Lake county for the last three years, was discharged yesterday by Sheriff Lawrence A. Doolittle. Admission was made by Sheriff Doolittle that one of his reasons for ousting Brown was that the latter did not support the sheriff's father, H. A. Doolittle, in the race for sheriff.

VOTE ON BEER BILL AVERTED IN N. Y. LEGISLATURE

Albany, N. Y., April 9.—(AP)—The state legislature today defeated a Democratic effort to force a vote on a bill providing state manufacture and sale of 6 per cent beer and 15 per cent wine, both chambers voting down motions to bring it to a vote.

The senate vote was on party lines, 27 Republicans against and 22 Democrats for the measure. In the assembly 8 Republicans broke party lines to vote with the Democrats, making the vote 69 to 72.

MINNEAPOLIS CHICAGO ST. PAUL

DENEENITES GIVE CITY HALL CLOSE RACE IN COUNTY

Albert to Contest Count on Board Presidency.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Complete police figures disclosed last night that the Snow-city hall forces failed to make quite the sweep on the county ticket indicated by the early returns. Although this faction landed some of the big places, the city hall slate was cracked until it stood about half and half with other groups.

The Deneen camp pointed to thirteen nominations it had won, although four of these were against Democratic officials who heretofore have been great vote getters and have had little trouble in rolling up pluralities in November. Two good places were corralled by the Brundage men, the Elmore followers walked off with a sanitary district place, and the Lonnquist-Adams group cut in for three county board nominations.

How Factions Fared.

Numerically the thirty-five places for county, sanitary district, and Municipal court officers, outside of associate judges, were split as follows:

Snow-City hall	15
Deneen	13
Brundage	2
Lonnquist-Adams	3
Elmore	1

John Jaranowski, renominated for county commissioner, is not claimed by any particular group. Of the five Sanitary district places the Snow-city hall faction won two, Deneen two, and Elmore one. On the county commissionerships it was: Snow, six places; Deneen, five; Lonnquist-Adams, three.

Albert to Contest Count.

The rival camps yesterday were watching the contest over the presidency of the county board. It was a triangular affair between Otto F. Reich [Snow], Ald. Arthur Albert [Deneen], and Axel Lonnquist, who was head of the ticket of the Business Men's Republican organizations. The complete police figures last night gave Reich a plurality of 9,541 over Albert. Announcement was made by Ald. Albert that he will file a contest, charging miscount and calling for a recount of the ballots.

Albert won nomination for a place on the board, running in third position.

The canvass of the vote started yesterday, the election board making its customary canvass of one precinct as a start.

The nip and tuck race for William H. Weber's place on the board of review, between him and William R. Swissler, resulted in a wide finish. In behalf of Swissler, Robert E. Crowe, former state's attorney, had made inroads among some of the committeemen supposedly backing Weber, but to little avail. The complete figures show Weber winning by a plurality of 37,561. The Snow leaders rate Weber as now affiliated with Charles V. Barrett. Mr. Barrett is credited with having won two important places on the ticket, Mr. Reich likewise being a Barrett adherent.

Win Important Places.

As Snow headquarters analyzed the outcome, four leaders in the anti-Deneen groups landed two important places apiece for their candidates. Mr. Snow was sponsor of Andrew Metzger, one of the winning candidates for the county board ticket, and of Bernard J. Kelly, who won the nomination for bailiff of the Municipal court.

George F. Harding, county treasurer, was credited with Charles Krutckoff, who won the nomination to succeed himself on the board of assessors, and with Howard P. Savage, former national commander of the American Legion, who won the nomination for county treasurer. Mr. Barrett was behind Weber and Reich. Edward J. Brundage, former attorney general, backed Louis Nettelhorst, who won the nomination for Probate court clerk, and of Francis L. Boutell, who was nominated for membership on the board of assessors.

Statement of Snow.

"I'd like to say," said County Chairman Snow, "that Mayor Thompson did not recommend or put forward a single man on our ticket. It is a step towards consolidating the new leadership."

Over at the city hall, Mayor Thompson, whose machine was rolled into the ditch two years ago, had but one comment on Tuesday's primaries that put the machine back on the boulevard.

"Truth crushed to earth shall rise again," he said.

Carlos Ames, president of the civil service commission, who won the nomination for sheriff, received congratulations during the day from civil service employes at the hall.

The Deneen group, after looking things over, announced that it saved more than expected out of the landslide in the senatorship contest between Mrs. Ruth McCormick and Senator Deneen. They pointed to 13 places on the ticket, won by Deneen men.

Joshua D'Esposito and Charles W. Moderwell landed nominations for sanitary district trustees. Peter J. Bukowski got the nomination for county clerk; Judge William E. Helander for county judge; Lloyd C. Moody for probate judge and George A. Schwebel for county superintendent of schools. All are Deneen men. They must face four of the great vote getters in the Democratic party in the November election.

Victories for Deneenites.

James A. Kearns, a Deneenite, was renominated for chief clerk of the Municipal court, and Justice Harry Olson, a Deneen leader, for chief justice of the Municipal court, a position he has held since the establishment of that bench.

On the county board battle, the Deneen camp maintained that it did not fare so badly, all things considered. Arthur Albert and Paul Schulze were among the ten winners for county commissioner from the city, while of the five nominations in the country towns, William Busse, G. A. Miller, and Frank J. Kriz, three of the winners, were on the Deneen ticket.

JACOBSON, DEFEATED BY ELLER, CHARGES FRAUD IN 20TH WARD

Benjamin [Buddy] Jacobson, defeated by Morris Eller for Republican committeeman of the 20th ward, yesterday charged fraud in the election in a conference with First Assistant State's Attorney Northup. Jacobson charged that in one precinct the judge was not a resident of the ward; that foreign voters were instructed, and that a number of floaters voted. He said he will ask a recount. Mr. Northup later stated that he believed the election one of the quietest in the history of the county.

Richard Prendergast, associated with Wallace F. Kirk in his campaign against State Senator John T. Joyce in the 29th senatorial district, charged wholesale fraud in Kirk's defeat for the nomination. Prendergast declared that 20 election boards in the district should be indicted. He charged that 1,000 votes were stolen. He said he also will seek a recount.

Cases against 26 men arrested during the primary and charged with carrying concealed weapons and election law violations were continued in a dozen courts pending investigation by the election commissioners. A number of men accused of disorderly conduct were discharged.

SCHOOL BOARD WILL HOLD NEW AIR LEASE QUIZ

The airport lease under which the city would acquire 600 acres of school land for a period of 50 years to make possible the expansion of the municipal airport was referred to another school board committee when the trustees met yesterday. The land is at 63d street and Cicero avenue. Upon the request of Mrs. W. S. Hefferan, a trustee, the lease was sent to the committee of the whole for a new hearing.

Mrs. Hefferan declared that $20 an acre annual rent for the property is not sufficient and also asked that a new appraisal be made. President Caldwell replied that $20 an acre is the maximum price that can be derived from the property.

SNOW-CITY HALL FACTION RETAINS G.O.P. COMMITTEE

Elects 43 Members of County Group.

So-called regular Republicans who have followed the nominal leadership of Mayor Thompson and the chairmanship of Bernard W. Snow were shown by police returns yesterday to have unquestioned control of the Cook county Republican central committee.

The Thompson-Snow candidates were elected in 43 of the 50 wards, if such faction leaders as Robert E. Crowe and Charles V. Barrett are classed in that group. Either of them may make a bid for the chairmanship of the county committee, Republicans predicted yesterday, but under the lash of patronage and privileges Mayor Thompson will be the dominating though perhaps inactive factor.

Five Deneen Entries Win.

The Deneen camp elected five committeemen, one less than two years ago. Former Attorney General Brundage was successful in the election of his two major candidates, Thomas O. Wallace, clerk of the Circuit court, in the 44th ward, and County Commissioner Louis Nettelhorst in the 50th.

The committee will have 24 new members from city wards and of the newcomers but four are affiliated with the Deneen faction. The others all have affiliations with the city hall.

With three precincts missing, Charles G. Burmeister was 269 votes ahead of Reviewer Edward R. Litsinger, Deneen leader, for the committeeship in the Forty-third ward.

Chairman Bernard W. Snow retained his membership on the committee through the defeat of Ald. Guy Guernsey, a Deneen supporter. Former State's Attorney Crowe won in his ward.

Results of the Voting.

The following table shows the Republican ward committeemen elected at the primary. Their factional affiliations are indicated by [S.] for the Snow-city hall regulars; [D.] for Deneen, and [B.] for Brundage:

The Committee's Functions.

The committee fills all vacancies on the ticket, nominates candidates for Superior and Circuit judges, and in general is supposed to rule in all party matters. The committeeman also distributes the patronage of his ward, or such of it as he is able to get from the officeholders affiliated with him.

One upset of the primary was the defeat of William H. Cruden [Deneen] in the 19th ward by Charles A. Nowak, whom he defeated two years ago.

Ald. Ringa of the 39th ward was the only alderman who held a Republican committeeship to lose it and Ald. John J. Hoellen gained one by succeeding to the place of the late County Commissioner John W. Gibson. Another change was in the succession of William Garrison to the post recently resigned by Homer Galpin in the 27th ward.

Among the Democrats, Timothy J. Crowe, former president of the sanitary district, retained his committeemanship in the 37th ward despite a hard contest.

Woodstock Police Chief Nominated for Sheriff

Lester Edinger, Woodstock chief of police, was nominated for sheriff in the Republican primary in McHenry country, with 4,320 votes to 3,061 for Henry Nulle, his nearest opponent, according to full returns compiled last night. Former Sheriff John Hesterman of Du Page county was an easy victor in the Republican race for nomination for sheriff in that county. He polled 10,679 votes. Jake Hahn was second with only 3,336. Win G. Knoch of Naperville was nominated for Du Page county judge, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge S. L. Rathje.

Leadership among men and institutions

¶ A fact of which a reader of biography soon becomes aware is that an impressive proportion of men and women who by their own talents become great leaders of the thought and activities of nations have themselves been attentive readers of biography.

¶ Plutarch's Lives served the elder generations in encouragement to aspiration to a degree that has left the world heavily in debt to that ancient. Our present day youth has a wealth of modern biographical effort from which to select that gives it incalculable advantage.

¶ The parent, ambitious for a child's greatness, could hardly follow a wiser course than to include carefully chosen biography in the reading planned for the years commencing somewhere between the ages twelve and sixteen.

¶ The line of separation between greatness and commonplace existence is, in places, very shadowy—so impalpable that it may be passed with the aid of the encouragement to ambition which biography supplies.

¶ Among institutions, too, it is difficult to define the qualities which confer leadership. But when a business enterprise, for instance a restaurant, has flourished with ever-growing public favor, as has Henrici's, for more than threescore years, and when its fame has spread throughout the world, as has Henrici's, you may be assured, fully, that there is nothing commonplace about it.

¶ Really, you would greatly enjoy a breakfast, luncheon, dinner or late supper at Henrici's today. And this would be an excellent time to make selections for young and old of quaint Easter novelties from Henrici ovens.

3 CLOSE COUNTS FEATURE RACES FOR CONGRESS

Smith and Yates Increase Big Lead.

Three close races featured the contests for the Republican nomination of congressmen in Tuesday's primary.

M. A. Michaelson, a dry who gained notoriety when he brought a leaky trunk into Miami from Cuba, led James C. Moreland, a wet, in the Seventh district by 941 votes when the police returns were all in. The votes in fifteen precincts were not included in the totals and the result of this race probably will not be known until after the official canvass. The returns showed 25,663 for Michaelson and 24,722 for Moreland.

In the sixteenth congressional district Congressman W. E. Hull, who became a political dry, won out by a majority of 1,299 votes over Everett Dirksen of Pekin, a wet. Hull lost Peoria and Tazewell counties but won in four other counties. The vote was 27,566 for Hull and 26,267 for Dirksen.

Chindblom Wins by 120 Votes.

In the third close contest State's Attorney A. V. Smith of Lake county, candidate for the Tenth district, was defeated by Congressman Carl R. Chindblom by 120 votes. The vote was 12,751 for Smith and 12,871 for Chindblom.

Richard Yates and Frank L. Smith increased their leads in the race for nomination as congressman at large. Yates polled 250,355 and Smith 170,155, in 4,815 out of 7,117 precincts in Illinois. The third man in the long list of candidates was Justus L. Johnson, who polled 131,316 votes.

The vote on Republican candidates for congress in the Cook county districts, based upon nearly complete returns, follows:

Tenth district—Chindblom, 34,663; Smith, 22,146; Seabright, 3,900; Hommes, 2,866; Weinshank, 6,398.

In the Ninth district Congressman Fred A. Britten was unopposed for the Republican nomination.

In the Democratic primaries Congressman Adolph Sabath and James T. Igoe had easy victories over their opponents. However Congressman Stanley Kunz, recently acquitted of receiving a bribe from a policeman, had a battle with Michael Iarussi in the Eighth district for the Democratic nomination. The vote was 3,321 for Kunz and 2,690 for Iarussi with 7 precincts missing.

The regular party candidates in each of the other districts were given the nomination by large pluralities.

FICTION TITLES SELECTED FOR WHITE HOUSE GIFT LIBRARY

New York, April 9.—[Special.]—President Hoover and his successors in the presidency will be able to get enjoyment as well as erudition from the 600 volumes which will be presented this month to the White House as a home library by American booksellers.

The list, which was given out here today, covers a wide range in history, politics, travel, world affairs, biography, science, and other subjects, and in the field of fiction runs from such standard works as "Pilgrim's Progress" to a novel which recently ran afoul of Boston's censors.

The library is not intended for reference, but for enjoyment—suitable to the moods of present and future occupants of the White House. A short list of juveniles has been included for boys and girls who visit the White House.

The idea of a library originated on the evening after the inauguration of Mr. Hoover when a friend noticed that the members of the family wished to turn to books for relaxation after the strain of the day, but none was available.

More than five million whitefish, lake salmon, trout, and other fish were dumped into Lake Michigan yesterday, marking the first planting of the year. Taken from the hatcheries in Lincoln park and carried twelve miles out into the lake by barges, the fish, most of which were only a week old, were deposited by F. S. Young, director of the aquarium.

CAR CONFEREES BATTLE OVER FARE INCREASE

Aldermen Hold Out for Three Year Delay.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The proposed transportation franchise ran into an obstacle yesterday. All of the conferees, who met in the private office of Walter L. Fisher with outsiders excluded, predicted that the difficulty will be settled today, but it stopped progress yesterday.

The obstacle involves the question of fares. The aldermen present, Joseph B. McDonough [13th], James B. Bowler [15th], and Jacob Arvey [24th], are said to have contended that there shall be no increase in fares for three years. The financiers, who included Frank O. Wetmore, Albert W. Harris, and Eugene M. Stevens, are reported to have offered a promise that fares will not be increased until a full calendar year has elapsed after the ordinance becomes effective.

Aldermen Ask 3 Year Limit.

That was unsatisfactory to the aldermen, who urged that a definite provision be written into the ordinance, to which the companies agree, which shall provide that no increase in fare shall become operative until three years have passed.

Mr. Fisher, attorney for Federal Judge Wilkerson, is reported to have suggested that a curb be placed upon fare increases during the period of extensions and improvements on which the companies have promised to spend $200,000,000. It is Mr. Fisher's view that the company profits should be limited until more and better transportation is provided. He is said to have argued against any plan which will permit larger profits until more service is available to the public.

The Financiers Position.

The financiers are reported to have asserted that the profits in local transportation are small, and that transit securities have been unpopular. They are said to have declared that the ordinance should not have provisions which will interfere with the raising of the $200,000,000 for extensions and improvements. They pleaded that transportation should be treated like every other public utility, and added that until that is done transportation securities cannot be made attractive to investors.

No official announcements have been made for some time regarding the negotiations, except a general statement that progress is being made. It was the opinion of the aldermen, after the meeting yesterday, that the ordinance will not be finished this week. When it is completed the draft will go to the council committee on local transportation for consideration. It has been more than a year since the enabling legislation was prepared and agreed upon.

HOOVER DESIGNATES MAY 1 AS NATIONAL CHILD HEALTH DAY

Washington, D. C., April 9.—(AP)—May day was proclaimed as child health day by President Hoover tonight, with the reminder that "we shall fall short of our highest aspirations if we fail to practice all that science can give in service of our fundamental asset—our children."

The President called upon all people and all agencies interested in boys and girls "to assist every reasonable effort of their communities to make this a day for organizing and coördinating interest in child health."

The proclamation asserts:

"Our children have the right to be born in health, to be well throughout babyhood and the preschool years; to be surrounded with moral and spiritual inspiration; to work and to play through primary school with well minds based on well bodies; to enjoy and to profit to the utmost by their higher schooling because of wholesome habits of thought and deed; thence to graduate into adult life, strong in body and inculcated with the sense of fair play and of responsibility for the rights of others."

Mother of Representative Dies During Vote Count

Rockford, Ill., April 9.—(AP)—Mrs. David Hunter Sr., 88, mother of Representative David Hunter, who was a candidate for renomination, died today after hearing returns which indicated her son might be a winner. Mrs. Hunter had been ill a long time. She was a native of Winnebago county. Her late husband was a state representative for several years, and later Tenth district state senator. Another son, Joseph, was a famous Northwestern university quarter back.

COOLIDGE PENS HIS FIRST 75 OF 500 WORD EPIC

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 9.—[Special.]—The first two sections of the 500 word history of the United States which Calvin Coolidge is writing for inscription on the Mount Rushmore memorial in the Black Hills of South Dakota were made public at the White House today by Gutzon Borglum, the sculptor. Mr. Borglum headed a committee which invited President Hoover to attend the unveiling on July 4 of the head of George Washington, the first heroic likeness of four Presidents to be carved on the memorial.

Seven subjects will be dealt with by Mr. Coolidge. The first two deal with the declaration of independence and the framing of the federal government.

The other five will deal with the expansion of American territorial dominion westward, the Louisiana purchase, the admission of Texas, the admission of California, the settle of boundry questions with England and Oregon and the cutting of the Panama canal.

The first of Mr. Coolidge's inscriptions follow:

"In the year of our Lord, 1776, the people declared the eternal right to seek happiness, self-government, and the divine duty to defend that right at any sacrifice.

"In 1787, assembled in convention, they made a charter of perpetual union of free people of sovereign states, establishing a government of limited powers, under an independent President, congress, and court, charged to provide securities for all citizens in their enjoyment of liberty, equality, and justice."

Work will begin on these two inscriptions immediately and will be ready for the unveiling July 4.

The dates 1776 and 1787 will be thirteen feet high. The letters will average three feet. There will be 75 words in the two inscriptions.

M. E. DRY LOBBY HAS CHAMPION IN SEN. WALSH

Defends Church Board as Tinkham Attacks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 9.—[Special.]—Senator T. J. Walsh [Dem., Mont.], a Catholic and a dry candidate for reelection, today defended the Methodist church dry lobby against charges hurled at it before the senate investigating committee by Representative George Holden Tinkham, wet, Republican and Protestant, of Massachusetts.

Another dry member of the committee, Senator Arthur Robinson [Rep., Ind.], after one embarrassing brush with Tinkham, gave up the job of heckling and Senator Thad Caraway [Dem., Ark.] contented himself with an occasional sarcastic observation which left the Massachusetts congressman unruffled.

Supports Charges with Evidence.

Supporting each count of his indictment with documentary evidence, Tinkham accused the Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals of boasting of its lobbying achievements in both houses, of attempting to dictate appointments to the federal judiciary, of intimidating public officials "by public attacks and villification and of appealing to the religious prejudices of house and senate members to secure dry votes."

Tinkham climaxed his case against the board with a charge that its officials have wilfully violated the federal corrupt practices act by their failure to report periodically to the clerk of the house expenditures in political campaigns, and notably in the last presidential election. Tomorrow Tinkham will present a mass of evidence to support his contention that the Federal Council of Churches is an equally dangerous organization meddling on international as well as domestic affairs.

Question of Church and State.

"The issue I present here," asserted Tinkham, when he was warned by Walsh that the committee was not interested in the merits or demerits of prohibition, "is broader than prohibition. It is a question of separation of church and state—a fundamental principle is involved.

"I am opposed to interference by the organized church with the state under any circumstances, and it so happens that the Methodist board offers a particularly flagrant example of a course of conduct which, in my judgment, is inimical to the state and to religion."

Robinson's one interruption came early, when Tinkham quoted Dr. Clarence True Wilson, general secretary of the board, that the selection of a site within 500 yards of the capitol for the board's $500,000 white marble headquarters was "both fortunate and strategic."

Close to Congressional Affairs.

"It is neither 'fortunate' nor 'strategic' except for the purpose of maintaining close surveillance upon congress and intimate contacts with members of congress," asserted Tinkham.

"Why," blustered Robinson, "that's an apartment house. Even senators and house members live there."

"The board doesn't advertise that fact," retorted Tinkham. "If the senator listened, he did not hear me read anything in 'The Voice,' their official publication, about it being an apartment house or anything else than the headquarters of the organization."

Tinkham coupled the controversy between Senator R. S. Copeland [Dem., N. Y.] and Dr. Wilson over the former's charge that his vote had been solicited for a dry measure on the strength of his membership in the Methodist church with the board's index file of the religious affiliations of every member of congress and its boast that Methodists greatly outnumber other denominations in both houses.

Walsh Defends Board.

"That is something over which any denomination could be justifiably proud," interjected Walsh, "what objection have you to that?"

"In connection with Dr. Wilson's own statement that they checked the list of senators, interviewed senators and finally said, 'here is a Methodist' it indicates," said Tinkham, "that it is used for political purposes to secure votes. No other conclusion can be reached."

"It might be justifiable pride in having Methodists at the top of the list," reiterated Walsh. "Isn't it a long stretch of the imagination to think the list was used for lobbying?"

"If the senator wants to come to that conclusion," rejoined Tinkham, "after seeking the photostatic evidence of the purpose for which it is used, that, of course, is the senator's privilege."

Walsh Persists in Stand.

Time after time as Tinkham emphasized a point Walsh would interrupt to ask for proof or for evidence on which conclusions were based and the congressman would produce photostatic copies of documents in every instance until finally Walsh abandoned that line.

The Montana senator quibbled at length with Tinkham over Dr. Wilson's own account, as published in The Voice, of the Copeland incident, seeking to show that it disclosed no evidence of lobbying by agents of the board other than the alleged approach to attempt to influence Senator Copeland to vote for the prohibition bureau reorganization bill.

"Except for the reference to the Copeland incident it indicates no activity other than might appear in any report of affairs in the senate, does it?" asked Walsh.

Blaine Enters Discussion.

Here Blaine interrupted to point out that Wilson's own story showed "immediately the dry leaders began to organize for a determined effort . . . The dry senators were interviewed . . telegrams began to pour in from 'back home' . . . about two hours before the vote was taken one of the secretaries of the board, checking over the list, again came to Senator Copeland's name and thought 'here is a Methodist.'"

From another statement of Dr. Wilson the Massachusetts congressman quoted that the former had been "interested" in no less than 55 judicial appointments in the last four years and had submitted recommendations on the various nominees to the department of justice.

"Well," demanded Caraway, "do you object to anybody giving information to the department of justice on the character of nominees? Isn't it the duty of a patriotic citizen to communicate whatever knowledge he may have of the qualifications of a candidate, especially if he believes that the candidate's confirmation may do hurt to his country?"

"I certainly object to any religious organization engaging in politics," responded Tinkham. "I think if it is done as an indivdual it is all right. But when it is done as an organization and systematically it is highly objectionable. I regard it as particularly offensive in the case of people with a particular point of view on a particular law."

Complains of Failure.

Tinkham noted that Wilson in a recent magazine article complained because none of the board's recommendations in the 55 judicial appointments was followed. Wilson appealed to his readers to "clear us [the drys] of responsibility for the failure of the courts."

Coming down to the Methodist board's active participation in the 1923 presidential campaign and its failure to report its receipts and expenditures under the corrupt practices act, Tinkham quoted from another official organ, The Clipsheet, that "enormous quantities of Al Smith's prohibition record" were circulated by the board throughout the country.

"We have no apology to make to any one because we used all the energy at our command in bringing about the election of Herbert Hoover as President and Charles Curtis as Vice President," was another statement in the same issue of the bulletin

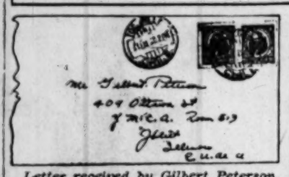
FROM THE NITRATE FIELDS, CHILE



Letter received by Gilbert Peterson, 409 Ottawa street, Joliet, Ill.

From Joliet, Ill., to the nitrate fields of Chile, is a long jump, but the writer of this letter, Oliver W. Peterson, lost no time after his graduation as a chemical engineer at Purdue last June in getting on the job in South America. He is now employed by the Anglo Chilean Consolidated Nitrate corporation at Maria Elena, about 40 miles inland from Tocopilla, the post office from which the letter was sent and the port from which the company ships its nitrate products.

The nitrate ore is blasted and then scooped up by steam shovels to be converted into fertilizer and material for high explosives. Iodine is also one of the important by-products.

The region is subject to earthquakes but all the company's buildings are built to withstand temblors and are immune from serious damage. Recreation is provided for the employers, who play golf and tennis, ride horseback and have a swimming pool, movie theater, and library.

The superintendent will not complete the new term, as he will reach the retiring age of 70 in the fall of 1934. His salary is $25,000 a year.

U. S. OPENS TAX CASE AGAINST RALPH CAPONE

Defense Pictures Him as Moneyless Racing Man

Alphonse Capone's brother, faced a jury in Federal Judge Carpenter's court yesterday. His attorney described him as a "race horse man who couldn't have defrauded the United States out of income taxes the government charges, because he was broke except for a half interest in two horses.

The government's contention, according to the opening statement of Assistant United States Attorney Dwight H. Green, is that Ralph Capone failed to file income tax returns for 1923, 1924, and 1925 within the prescribed time limit. Moreover, it is charged he attempted to "cheat, swindle and defraud the government" when he filed an offer in compromise for 1924 in October, 1927, avowing himself insolvent. He concealed $25,000 he had on deposit in a Cicero bank at the time, Mr. Green said.

Charges Notices Ignored.

On Nov. 23, 1926, Mr. Green declared, the defendant filed tax returns for the four years preceding, indicated a taxable income of $1,000 with taxes and penalties of $4,000. There followed notices from the internal revenue department, which alleged ignored until the compromise offer was made. The offer was rejected, and Capone was indicted on Nov. 1, 1929, charged with evasion which carry a maximum prison sentence of six years and a fine of $2,000.

George N. Murdock, who has held Prosecutor Green's post as assistant United States attorney in charge of income tax matters, made the opening statement on behalf of Capone. He described his client as a racetrack man and a bookmaker and declared the government considered his winnings without proper regard for his losses. The $25,000 on deposit in the Cicero bank was an operating account with which Capone and his two partners did business, Murdock said.

Speaks in Defense of Capone.

"Mr. Capone is a man with little education," Murdock went on, "but has always relied upon the advice of his attorneys, and the courts have held that profits derived from illegitimate business were not taxable. When this ruling was reversed by the Circuit Court of Appeals, Mr. Capone filed returns for the years in question."

Only two witnesses were called yesterday by the government, A. Bowden, head of the intelligence unit of the internal revenue department, and Charles W. Arndt, head of the income tax division, who were called to identify records. An argument by counsel over the admissibility of certain documents ended the session. Judge Wilkerson agreed to rule on the point this morning.

U. S. OPENS TAX CASE AGAINST RALPH CAPONE

Defense Pictures Him as Moneyless Racing Man.

Alphonse Capone's brother, Ralph, faced a jury in Federal Judge William's court yesterday. His lawyers described him as a "race horse man," who couldn't have defrauded the United States out of income taxes, as the government charges, because he was broke except for a half interest in two horses.

The government's contention, according to the opening statement of Assistant United States Attorney Dwight H. Green, is that Ralph Capone failed to file income tax returns for 1922, 1923, 1924, and 1925 within the prescribed time limit. Moreover, it is charged, he attempted to "cheat, swindle and defraud the government" when he filed an offer in compromise for $1,000 in October, 1927, avowing himself insolvent. He concealed $25,000 in assets on deposit in a Cicero bank at the time, Mr. Green said.

Charges Notices Ignored.

On Nov. 23, 1926, Mr. Green declared, the defendant filed tax schedules for the four years preceding and indicated a taxable income of $75,000, with taxes and penalties of $4,065 due. There followed notices from the internal revenue department, which Capone allegedly ignored until the compromise offer was made. This offer was rejected, and Capone was indicted on Nov. 1, 1929, charged with offenses which carry a maximum prison term of six years and a fine of $2,000.

George N. Murdock, who formerly held Prosecutor Green's post as assistant United States attorney in charge of income tax matters, made the opening statement on behalf of Capone. He described his client as a race horse man and a bookmaker and asserted the government considered his winnings without proper regard for his losses. The $25,000 on deposit in the Cicero bank was an operating account with which Capone and his two partners did business, Murdock said.

Speaks in Defense of Capone.

"Mr. Capone is a man with no great education," Murdock went on. "He has always relied upon the advice of his attorneys, and the courts formerly held that profits derived from an illegitimate business were nontaxable. When this ruling was reversed by the Circuit Court of Appeals, Mr. Capone filed returns for the years in question."

Only two witnesses were called yesterday by the government, A. P. Madden, head of the intelligence unit of the internal revenue department, and Charles W. Arndt, head of the income tax division, who were called upon to identify records. An argument between counsel over the admissibility of certain documents ended the session, and Judge Wilkerson agreed to rule on that point this morning.

Defense counsel, in selecting the jury, showed anxiety that some member might impute to Ralph Capone the sins ascribed to his brother, Al, and the government avoided jurors who had had income tax difficulties.

WIFE KILLED AS CAR SKIDS, ROLLS ON GOLF COURSE

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Edwards, 20 years old, 4414 Malden avenue, was killed and her husband, Roy Edwards, was seriously injured yesterday when their automobile skidded on a road 52 miles northeast of Lafayette, Ind., and rolled over several times on a golf course. They were bound for Miami, Fla., on a vacation. Edwards was driving at fifty miles an hour. When the car skidded he attempted to bring it back to the road, but a tire blew out and the car crashed through the fence of the golf course. Edwards is expected to recover.

Louis Rosenberg, 45 years old, 1124 West 67th street, died last night of injuries suffered Saturday when his automobile crashed into a pillar of a railroad bridge at West 74th street and Lowe avenue.

This death raised the 1930 Cook county motor toll to 234.

BLAST KILLS ONE, DESTROYS MILL.

Keokuk, Ia., April 9.—(AP)—John Heddon was killed in an explosion of a glaze mill at the Du Pont de Nemours black powder plant at Mosar early today. The mill, 100 feet long, was destroyed.

500 MILE AERIAL BEACON WILL BE PLACED IN CITY

An aerial beacon so powerful that its rays will have a theoretical visibility of 500 miles is to be erected on a tower atop the Palmolive building, 919 North Michigan avenue, this spring. Plans for erecting the new light were made known yesterday by Elmer Sperry, its inventor and donor. The light is the largest ever built.

The two billion candle power beacon is to be known as the Lindbergh light. When it is put in operation pilots in the whole central region will be able to pick up its rays and follow it in clear weather.

Recent tests of the inventor showed that pilots had been able to read newspapers 50 miles from the light. Although the radius of the beam is 500 miles pilots will probably never see it 300 miles away from Chicago because it will be hidden by the curvature of the earth except to planes at extremely high altitude.

The huge light with its 80-inch lens will be situated 603 feet above the corner of Michigan avenue and Walton street, which will make it possible for mariners to see it even in the daytime nearly 33 miles out in Lake Michigan.

WOMAN FAINTS ON TESTIFYING AGAINST FATHER

County's Oldest Divorce Suit Is Resumed.

The revival of Cook county's oldest divorce suit before Superior Judge Sabath yesterday was charged with drama. The suit is being brought by Le Roy Boylan, 1112 East 64th street, telephone company official and former captain in the signal corps with the A. E. F., against Mrs. Anna Boylan, 4848 North Rockwell street.

Boylan brought his action on a charge of desertion in 1921. His bill charges that his wife left him on Jan. 19, 1917. Recently the wife filed a cross bill for separate maintenance. In answer to her move Boylan pressed his suit, which he had allowed to remain pending for nine years. He charged that his wife is seeking separate maintenance only to harrass him and prevent him from remarrying.

Charges Fake Love Notes.

Boylan testified that his wife was extremely jealous, and during their married life accused him, without foundation, of relationship with thirty women. He said she wrote him love letters signed with fictitious names, so that she could study his expression as he read them, in order to test his faithfulness.

Mrs. Boylan denied that she was responsible for the separation. However, under cross-examination by Attorney Benjamin B. Davis of the law firm of Socrates & Davis she admitted that Boylan did not leave home without cause, as she had testified previously. She said she had angered him by charging him with intimacy with eight women.

Daughter Takes Stand.

The Boylan's daughter, Mrs. Martha Boylan Hess, a school teacher, testified against her father. Under cross-examination she admitted that she had threatened three weeks ago to kill her father if he obtained a divorce. She said she had gone to her father's office to demand that he drop his suit or pay her a price for refusing to join her mother in the second action.

"And what is that price?" Attorney Davis asked.

"I want $25,000," Mrs. Hess answered. As she gave the answer she fainted and fell from the witness chair. She was revived by her mother and court attaches.

"This is a most unusual case," the judge declared. "I have heard nothing like it. The demand of the daughter is astounding and the mother's testimony most unusual. I will take it under advisement."

Calls Chicago to Crush Crime, Clear Name.

but as one which in its bare hands seized the venomous serpent of organized crime and choked it to death. It is not a new day for Chicago. It is a new day for this generation of Chicago's citizens."

Col. Randolph gave his conception of the "great and beautiful soul of Chicago emerging out of the struggle and strife of a century of progress," with emphasis upon the schools and the realization of the Burnham plan.

Clearing City's Reputation.

Mr. Wieboldt and Mr. Winans took up the question of how Chicago's reputation as a wicked city could be corrected.

"This is not an attempt to whitewash Chicago," said Mr. Wieboldt. "Our city has its weaknesses, and the Chicago public should be fully aware of them. It is not an attempt to obtain suppression of crime or sensational news as long as the news is based upon fact and is not pure fiction, even though such news may be damaging to Chicago.

"This dinner is an open manifestation of the business and service leaders that they are ready to back an organized effort, to eradicate the ridiculous idea harbored by thousands of people that Chicago is an unsafe place to live in or to visit."

He said that definite activities had been planned by the coördinated organizations to obtain favorable news treatment.

Winans Tells His Idea.

Mr. Winans said that it was all right to tell the world about parks and museums and other fine examples of civic consciousness, but that this would never balance the dark side of the picture until Chicago shows the world by real action that it is not as bad as painted.

"Chicago must make good," he said. "If for no other reason than to answer the skeptics who, after all, can't be blamed for their attitude, considering the disappointing results of so many of the so-called anti-crime drives that have been started here and elsewhere.

"Get a few convictions, break up the alliance between gangdom and crooked politics, show the world that Chicago does mean business, that it is not satisfied to stand 39th or 99th in homicides and the tide of national and international opinion concerning Chicago will change and the rest of your helpful publicity will get a receptive ear.

A Comparison in Point.

"How long would any of you cherish any regard for a store that permitted hoodlums to throng its aisles or that failed to take direction action in dealing with dishonest employés?"

Mr. Winans, who now lives in New York, said that one reason for Chicago's reputation was that we are less inclined to adopt the "hush hush" policy of other cities.

"No better examples of this could be asked," he said, "than a comparison of the New York and Chicago newspapers for the week ended March 20. In that period, one gangster was shot in Chicago and the newspapers spread the fact all over the front pages. In the same period in the borough of Brooklyn, nine men were slain in six gang outbursts. The best the New York dailies did was to give these affairs a half column on their less conspicuous pages. The St. Louis papers referred to Chicago's lone killing but curiously enough overlooked the wholesale collection in New York

Opposes "Hush Hush" Plan.

"It has been suggested by many well meaning Chicagoans who feel that crime here receives too much notoriety that we might emulate the examples of the New York dailies. Much as I dislike to see Chicago's reputation injured, I differ with this stand. Keep the real facts before the people long enough and they will effect the cure."

"Supply the facts and the truth can do us no harm," said Mr. Strong, on this same point of discussion. He charged the midwest with a responsibility toward Chicago, its natural center, and said that the city needed help and coöperation in its regenerative efforts. It needs other things, he said, constitutional changes, reformed judicial practice and code, consolidation of taxing bodies and internal administrative improvements.

Those at the speakers' table were H. E. Richardson, Theodore R. Gerlach, Carroll Shaffer, Walter Dill Scott, Fred W. Sargent, Herman Black, W. Frank McClure, W. R. Dawes, David R. Forgan, Douglas H. Connell, Philip R. Clarke, George Lytton, Harry H. Field, S. E. Thomason, Robert Clark Duncan, Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, and Max A. Berns.

New South Wales to Levy Special Tax on Earnings

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SYDNEY, April 9.—The New South Wales government, in order to meet deficiencies in revenue, is proposing to levy a tax on wages, salaries, and other earnings at the rate of 6 cents on every $5. The tax will be deducted from the wages and salaries of the employés by the employers, who will act as collectors for the government. It is expected the tax will yield $15,000,000 annually.

BRITAIN, RUSSIA READY TO SIGN NEW TRADE PACT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 9.—Negotiations for the Anglo-Russian trade treaty are understood to be practically completed. A draft of the proposed treaty will probably be taken to Moscow next week and submitted for the approval of the soviet government.

The negotiations for Russia were handled by Ambassador Sokolnikoff, soviet minister to London.

The treaty provides for no definite settlement by soviet Russia of the old Russian debts, but it is understood that "a line of settlement" has been indicated. It is anticipated that, in the event both governments ratify the treaty, Saul G. Bron, head of Arcos, Ltd., who helped negotiate the pact, will be appointed chief soviet trade representative in Great Britain.

LET CONTRACTS FOR FIRST WORK TO LINK DRIVES

To Join North and South Shore Boulevards.

The first contracts were let yesterday preparatory to the building of the outer link which will afford motorists a through route along the lake shore between the north and south sides.

The first contract calls for the depressing of Grand avenue at the point where the link drive intersects. This contract was let to the John M. Bransfield company, the price being $49,917. A second contract, let to Spaulding & O'Brien, calls for drainage at this point at a cost of $9,258.

To Be Completed for Fair.

Virtual beginning of the long-talked-of bridge project gives assurance, it was pointed out by Warren Wright, president of the board, that the through drive will be in use before the 1933 Chicago fair. The Lincoln park board and the south park commissioners have each voted $5,000,000 toward the link bridge and the money is now available through bond issues which have been passed.

Two bridges are included in the development, it was explained by Hugh E. Young, engineer for the Chicago plan commission, who is consulting engineer for the Lincoln park board. One of the bridges is to span the Michigan canal, long known as "the Ogden slip," and the second will span the Chicago river. Bids for the construction of the bridges will be asked soon.

Act to Protect Drive.

Another contract let by the Lincoln park commissioners yesterday was one of $269,700 to the Great Lakes Dredge and Dock company for the construction of jetties between North and Fullerton avenues. The jetties are designed to protect the outer drive from the lake. Twenty-six contractors competed for the work, the contract being let for $54,000 less than cost estimates prepared by the board engineer.

A petition of the Lake Shore Athletic club for permission to build a landing barge adjacent to its property was denied, the commission explaining that a "bad precedent" might be set should the petition be granted. Another request that several acres of park ground be set aside for the building of cricket courts was denied. There are scarcely 1,800 cricket enthusiasts in Chicago, Mr. Wright declared.

KILLED BY AUTO FUMES.

Ariel Grant, 34 years old, 4820 North Cicero avenue, was asphyxiated by carbon monoxide gas yesterday while working in a small garage at 5410 Addison street. Grant had been working on an automobile with the garage door closed and the motor of the machine running.

PARK BOARD PROBES CHARGES OF FIXING IN SPEED ARRESTS

The Lincoln park board yesterday began an investigation into alleged fixing of motor vehicle law violations following charges before Municipal Judge Borrelli in the Speeders' court. Attorney William H. Beckman, representing the board, declared the judge had discharged 282 of the 660 cases of the board since last Jan. 6.

The judge retorted with court records showing that only 428 park cases were reported to the court and only 147 discharges were made. The judge questioned Sergt. William Miller, who admitted that on order of higher authorities he had often left a case off the court record and reported it as discharged by the court.

Attorney Beckman promised an inquiry. The board in meeting yesterday postponed action on the abolishment of the method of arrests, which forces the violator to post a $50 cash bond. Chief Justice Olson is urging the board to release motorists on presentation of proper identification, as is the practice in the city.

When Mrs. Hyman Cohen, 5110 Kenwood avenue, declared that she stayed two hours in the park police station Tuesday night as guarantee that her husband would return with a $50 bond for a speeding charge, the judge dismissed the charge. He held that the wife had atoned for her husband's violation.

TELLS HOW GIRL SCARED AMSTER $100,000 WORTH

Broker Says He Urged Him to Defy Her.

New York, April 9.—[Special.]—Succor came late this afternoon to Nathan L. Amster, elderly financier, who brought a charge of extortion against Olga Edwards. Miss Edwards claims that her child is Amster's and that he should be forced to keep a trust agreement to pay her $500 a month.

After Amster, weary and shaken, had left the witness stand in the Court of General Sessions, Edward Hamlin, a Boston stock broker and long time friend of Amster's, was called to the stand.

"I was present," Hamlin testified, "when Miss Edwards demanded $100,000 from Mr. Amster. She told him she wanted it in cash and that if he didn't pay up immediately she would go to his house, taking the child with her, and ruin him with his family.

He Counseled Defiance.

"At a subsequent conference that I attended with Mr. Amster and this woman, she again pressed him, but he told her that he did not have $100,000 at the time. He said that he might be willing to sign an agreement creating a trust fund, from which she would receive $500 a month. I told him that if he signed such an agreement he was a damned fool; that I wouldn't ever give in to a blackmailer.

"She renewed her threats and said she would shoot him if he didn't sign the agreement at once. I told him that if he had made up his mind to surrender to blackmail that the might as well sign the agreement. So he did."

Relations "Altruistic."

James D. C. Murray, counsel for the former actress, earlier in the day brought out a statement from Amster that his relations with Miss Edwards had been "purely altruistic." He admitted he didn't know "what you mean by platonic" and that he had offered to restore a $100,000 trust fund to Miss Edwards if she would plead guilty to a misdemeanor charge "and save my family from being dragged in the mire of a public trial."

Louis E. Wicher, who handles some of Amster's business, identified checks totaling more than $13,000 as having been paid to Miss Edwards by the financier. He said that she had threatened to expose him to his family and the public "and then shoot him if he didn't come across."

On June 15, 1926, she signed a "release" on Amster, he testified, after receiving $5,000 in cash and the promise of an additional $5,000 in monthly installments.

HOLDS UP 2 SOUTH SIDE STORES.

A bandit yesterday held up two Consumers stores at 425 East 61st street and 7258 South Halsted street and escaped with a total of $172. At the 61st street store the bandit took $70 from Philip Simon, the manager, and at the Halsted street store he robbed Frank Wenig of $102.

HUNT PAIR WHO ROBBED BANK AT FOX RIVER GROVE

The Chicago police last night joined in the search for two gunmen who yesterday morning held up the First State bank at Fox River Grove, in McHenry county, 20 miles west of Lake Forest, and escaped with $2,000 in currency. The bandits headed toward Chicago after releasing Richard Novak, the cashier, whom they kidnaped from the bank.

The two men, unmasked, walked into the bank while Novak was alone and forced him to bring all of the currency out of the vault. They then threatened to lock Novak in the safe, but when he pleaded that he might suffocate because the vault is operated by a time lock and could not be opened, they ordered him to don his coat and hat and took him with them. At Cuba, Ill., two miles east of the town, they put Novak from the car and turned toward Chicago.

No one ever moves away from PETROPOLIS

PETROPOLIS is a state of comfort resulting from automatic oil heat as supplied by the Petroleum Heat & Power Company. You can enjoy this happy state for the amount you are now spending to heat your home.

ONCE you step within the gates of fair Petropolis, there is no thought of turning back. From that moment onward, life for you is richer, happier, easier. Each day reveals new joys.

Here is all the ease and luxury you have always yearned for, free for the asking. Unstinted in measure. Here's health and happiness too, in abundance. It's the most gratifying experience you have ever known.

Petropolis is the happiest place in the world. It is calling you now. Come—we will show you the way.

The world's largest oil heating organization is back of Petropolis. One of its three manufacturing plants is located right here in Chicago to install, service and guarantee the burner recommended for your heating plant.

The Petroleum Heat & Power Company has been identified with oil heating for 27 years. Since 1915 it has also served in the East as a public service enterprise, providing 100% guaranteed oil heat with its own oil delivered in its own fleets of trucks to its own and other makes of oil burners. In this capacity, dividing its responsibility with no one, it developed a rare technique in heating with oil. It placed oil heat on a new economic basis!

You may have the same equipment in your home that made the Petroleum Heat & Power Company the greatest oil heating organization in the world. The kind of oil heat that makes Petropolis possible.

It is so simple to get all the facts. Just phone us or the nearest sales agent. There is no obligation except to your own family.

The Secret of Oil Heating Success

If any company knows what oil heat is and how to provide it economically, it should be the Petroleum Heat & Power Company. For 27 years it has specialized in oil heating exclusively. In merging with the great American Nokol Company, it brought together the two pioneer companies in industrial and domestic oil heating. With more than 70,000 installations from coast to coast, it has demonstrated the need for a complete line of oil burners. Engineers agree that different boilers require different types and sizes of oil burners for maximum quietness, economy, care-free operation and widest choice of oil fuels. The Petroleum Heat & Power Company offers a complete line utilizing every recognized principle of oil combustion. These burners are serving in every type of building from the 52 story Metropolitan Life Insurance Building in New York City, in the palatial homes of thousands of prominent people, down to the more modest residences to be found on every street.

A visit to our exhibit at the Oil Burner Show in the Stevens Hotel this week will reveal what advances have been made in the art of oil heating.

BRITAIN ARRESTS U.S. PREACHER ON 4 ALIEN CHARGES

Rector Claims He Is Guest of Archbishop of York.

GLASGOW, Scotland, April 9.—(AP)—The Rev. George Chalmers Richmond of the Protestant Episcopal Church in America and late resident of Detroit, was before the sheriff's court here today on four charges of contravening the regulations for travel by aliens. He denied all the charges and was held in bail for formal trial on April 22.

Mr. Richmond was accused of changing his address without notifying the authorities and of failing to show his identity certificate when requested to do so.

Invited to Preach, He Says.

In denying the charges the clergyman said that he was an American citizen visiting Great Britain on the invitation of the Archbishop of York, who had asked him to preach in the jurisdiction of the archsee. He said this invitation was extended several years ago, but that he managed to accept it only last year.

He asserted that he had been told clergymen of the Church of England had perfect freedom to go about the country at the direction of the Archbishop of York, and that as a member of the American Episcopal priesthood he was also a clergyman of the established church. He said he had no intention of breaking any law.

UNDER FIRE IN 1918.

The Rev. George Chalmers Richmond attracted much attention a dozen years ago when he renounced Episcopal orders and became an independent minister of Calvary church in New York City. Later he was minister of the Central church, St. Louis, in 1920-21, and of the Community church, Los Angeles, in 1922-24.

His difficulties with the Protestant Episcopal church began while he was rector of old St. John's church, Philadelphia, a post which he occupied from 1908 to 1918.

Cleared of Charges.

After his pastorate in Los Angeles he traveled for two years in England, and while in that country the authorities of the established church requested the bishop of Pennsylvania to reopen the case.

He was tried in an ecclesiastical court of the diocese of Pennsylvania under 12 charges for defiance of Bishop P. M. Rhinelander. He was found guilty on only three of these charges, but sentence was suspended and he was restored to good standing, becoming rector of the Webster Hall Religious forum in Detroit.

DIES OF SKULL FRACTURE.

James Banmik, 52 years old, 1326 Cullerton avenue, who was found in his home on last Friday suffering from a skull fracture, died yesterday at the county hospital, without revealing how he had received his injury.

DRY AGENT KILLS FLEEING BOOTLEGGER; CALLS IT ACCIDENT

Wilmington, N. C., April 9.—(AP)—Roy Gurganious of Onslow county was shot today by Federal Prohibition Agent S. K. Hughes and died tonight in a Wilmington hospital.

Gurganious was shot as he was fleeing from a still, officers said. Hughes reported the shooting was accidental. He said his gun was fired as he stumbled while pursuing Gargnanious.

Hughes surrendered to Sheriff D. W. Russell, and was released on his own recognizance.

Detroit Victim Dies.

Detroit, Mich., April 9.—(AP)—Walter Grund, 30, of Wyandotte, died in Wyandotte General hospital this morning from wounds suffered Jan. 22 when he was shot by customs border patrol inspectors.

After the shooting last January Roy Fountain, a companion of Grund, made a statement that he and Grund were fired upon while bringing a load of liquor across the Detroit river in a rowboat.

The inspectors who figured in the shooting were Clare B. Hooper and William H. Redford. They stated stated they had ordered the boat to halt and when their orders were ignored had opened fire.

COAST GUARD RECOVERS BODY.

The body of Joseph Riley, 5008 Quincy street, who was drowned in the lake at Jackson street, was recovered yesterday by the coast guard. Riley fell into the water while with his brother-in-law, Walter Van Dyke, with whom he lived. Van Dyke kept Riley afloat for several minutes by holding his hands, but Riley slipped from his grasp and sank.

Success Came Late in Life

"For the first time in years I am able to eat the things I like without becoming nauseated, and suffering cutting pains afterward, and lying awake hour after hour unable to sleep," says Mrs. Marion L. Foenges of 509 Cass St., Chicago. "Ever since I started taking Acidine I am clear of all that. At first I took a dose after each meal. Now I take one at night and another after I get up—my stomach is so sweet I am eating whatever I want, and my nerves are calm, now."

That shows how easy it is for people with a sick, sour stomach to help themselves now. It is usually caused by excessive acidity from failure to digest starchy foods. Acidine liquefies the souring mass, sweetens the stomach, the inflammation is soothed and the tension on the nerves is relieved. Try Acidine. It tastes good and costs so little at any drug store.

those organizations were all for enforcement.

Inquiries made of the secretaries of the organizations in question had brought, Mrs. Sabin said, reply after reply which read, "No poll on prohibition ever taken by our organization."

"Comprehensive claims by well meaning persons," she added, "are one thing. A systematic and carefully tabulated poll is quite another thing."

She also stated that she had received protests against this offhand claiming of whole organizations for prohibition from many members of the organizations. Among the protestors was the American essayist, Agnes Reppilier.

Commenting on the claim that prohibition is the cause of America's postwar prosperity, Mrs. Sabin remarked, demurely:

"The Mohammedans have been dry for 600 years. If prohibition brings prosperity, Islam should own the earth. As for our American prosperity, it has been my impression that we attained it some years before prohibition came in."

Appeals to Young People.

Turning to representatives of the newly formed anti-prohibition organization of young people, called The Crusaders, Mrs. Sabin closed by saying:

"To you with your youth, your vitality, your impatience of hypocrisy, your courage to combat ancient shams that came to us with a new face, we look—more than to any other one force—to extricate us from the sins which we, with our bogus prohibition, have visited upon you, and I know that you will not allow them to be visited upon the third and fourth generations."

Laughter and cheers.

Other speakers of the evening were former United States Senator James W. Wadsworth of New York and United States Senator Millard Tydings of Maryland.

Mr. Wadsworth defined the eighteenth amendment as "a police regulation which should never have been dignified by being given a place in the constitution," and he alluded to the presence of seven water pitchers on the long speakers' table as "either a tribute to the thirst of Senator Tydings and myself or an effort to set a good example."

In graver strain he asked the assemblage this question:

"What government can enforce a law when an overwhelming majority of its own people won't lift a finger to help enforce it?

Senator Tydings, who has a neat gift in epigram, defined American liberty as "something now represented by a figure in New York facing Europe."

Before and after the meeting the debutantes moved through the ballroom with cards bearing these words:

"Because I believe that national prohibition has incited crime and increased lawlessness, hyprocrisy, and corruption;

"Because I believe that the cause of real temperance has been retarded and that sumptuary laws have no place in the federal constitution;

"I propose to work for some change in the law which will bring about a sane solution of the problem, and, therefore, enroll as a member of the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform. I do not wish the return of the saloon."

The cards were signed by hundreds of women.

INJURIES IN FALL FATAL.

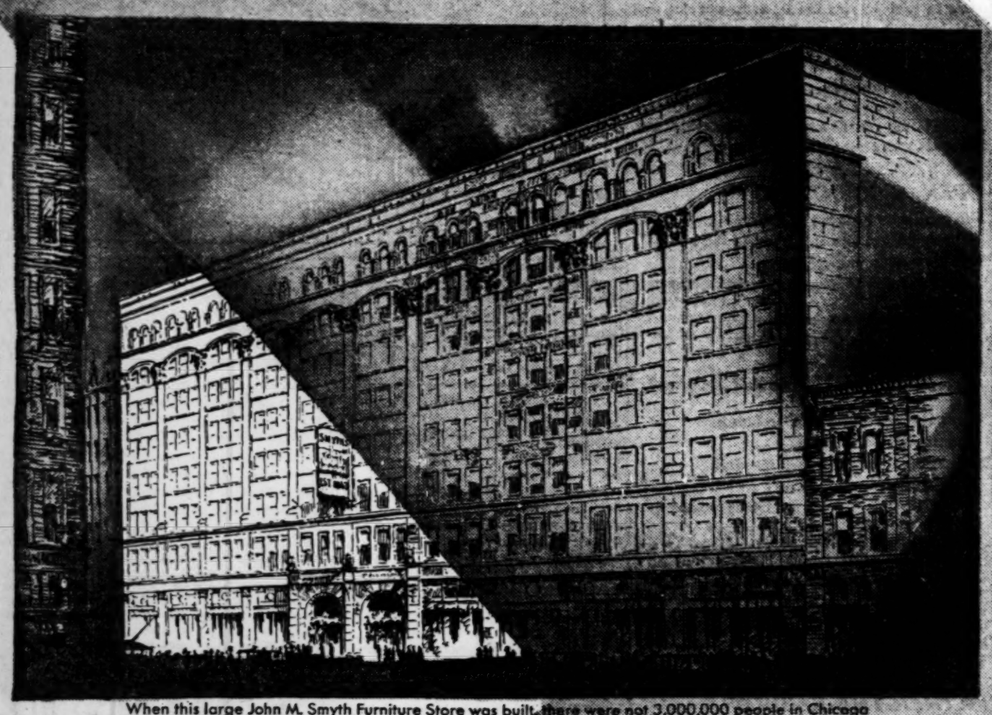
ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

The JOHN M. SMYTH STORE IT'S 63RD. ANNIVERSARY 1867 1930



When this large John M. Smyth Furniture Store was built, there were not 3,000,000 people in Chicago as there are today. But in comparison with what Chicago will be, "You haven't seen anything yet!"

CHICAGO—THE CITY OF IMMORTAL ENERGY

FROM its founders Chicago got the habit of doing things for itself and doing them in its own violent, capable way. Many American cities, long ago, lost the independent spirit of the pioneers. But not Chicago! This city lives, still, on the will to try everything and hide nothing. If Chicago boasts of modern trail-blazers in industry and architecture, it also blazons its crimes and corruptions on Page One of all its newspapers

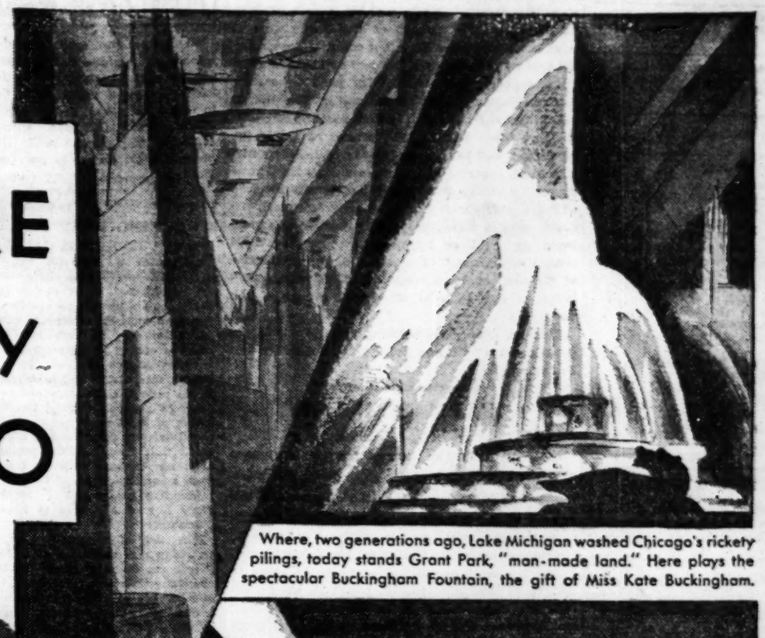
If its gangsters shatter the night with machine-gun volleys, Chicago only puts new thousands of steel-riveters to thundering on skyscrapers in the morning. And if its racketeering bombs rattle the window-sashes of the world, Chicago answers with a blast of dynamite that clears the way for the largest building in creation—the Merchandise Mart.

When gangsters and bootleggers of neighboring States flock to the city, adding their sins to its own, Chicago does not complain; it merely thinks, "Such is the penalty of my situation, here at the railroad junction of North America."

Chicago is still a Western town, never very good at catching two-gun men, yet always sure to lose them far behind as it races onward toward wealth and culture. It delays subways because it has never lost the pioneer's love of open air and his hate of seeing humanity swarm underground. The city is young, with a boy's heart for the towering future and a man's brain for net profits. From such a combination must always come action—plenty of it! Things happen—the worst of theatre disasters, fires, gang-wars, the greatest of World's Fairs, the most superb parks and waterfronts.

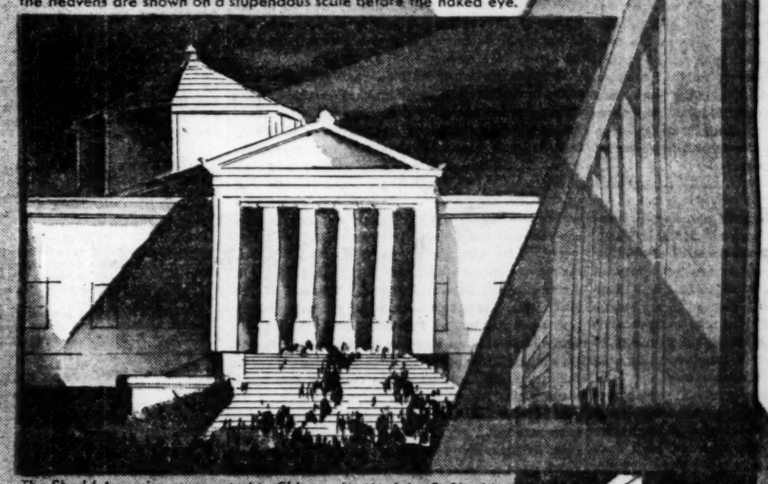
Things will continue to happen in the future. The constant stream of young people from the inexhaustible West and the Midlands pours into Chicago each year to assure the city that its dynamic energy will be immortal. Canny business-men, cool-headed and gray, draw budgets based on a Chicago of 6,000,000 people by 1950—some of them say 12,000,000 in the interstate region. Careful statisticians figure Chicago's geographical situation guarantees it will out-people any city on earth.

But Chicago was not made by geography so much as by a certain breed of men who took a dismal mud-town and thrust greatness upon it. That same breed rules today—and will rule tomorrow.

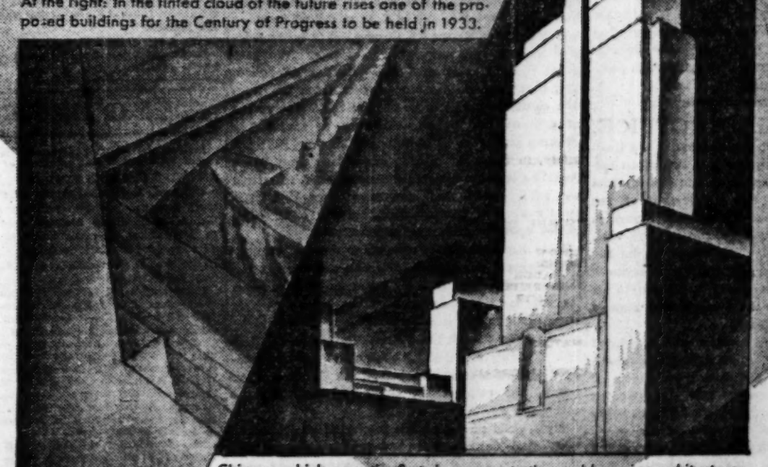


Where, two generations ago, Lake Michigan washed Chicago's rickety pilings, today stands Grant Park, "man-made land." Here plays the spectacular Buckingham Fountain, the gift of Miss Kate Buckingham.

Chicago, building islands and peninsulas in Lake Michigan, has erected on one of them, as a gift from Mr. Max Adler, a Planetarium where the heavens are shown on a stupendous scale before the naked eye.



The Shedd Aquarium, presented to Chicago by Mr. John G. Shedd. At the right: in the tinted cloud of the future rises one of the proposed buildings for the Century of Progress to be held in 1933.



Chicago, which gave the first skyscraper to the world, carries architecture to new heights of magnificence through the genius of Mr. Samuel Insull, whose dream for cultural Chicago is realized in the Civic Opera House.

The world-famous Museum, a gift of Mr. Marshall Field, is the center of the tremendous new developments along the city's waterfront and is symbolic of Chicago's international fame in science and architecture. The Fine Arts Building in Jackson Park, which once housed the treasures of the Field Museum, is being restored by Mr. Julius Rosenwald's project as the Museum of Science and Industry.

In Appreciation of Our City—When Chicago is fairly compared with other great municipalities, it is perfectly apparent that much adverse criticism hurled at its head is undeserved. In business in Chicago since April 17, 1867, the John M. Smyth Store, which owes so much to Chicago, publishes this page today as an expression of what we think about this wonderful city

THE COURT ISSUE ANSWERED.

In her post-primary informal statement Mrs. McCormick significantly stresses her position on the league court. She logically assumes her enormous plurality indicates that the people of Illinois are with her upon this issue. We are confident Mrs. McCormick is right. At the beginning of her campaign she raised the issue of adherence to the permanent court of justice of the league of nations. She opposed adherence with or without reservations. Senator Deneen accepted the issue. He favored adherence with the reservations now pending. All other subjects of difference or discussion thereupon took inferior place. No one can honestly deny that other considerations entered into the contest and helped with various force to influence the decision. But Mrs. McCormick had put the league court issue in the forefront of her appeal and made it the chief subject of her very able discussion of public questions. Her plurality runs far ahead of the vote upon candidacies which were merely local, and there can be no hesitancy in accepting it as an overwhelming indorsement of her forcefully presented views upon the league court.

We believe Mrs. McCormick could have swept the nation as well as Illinois upon that issue, for it reaches the profound instinct and deepest conviction of the American people. It is not self-contained. It is not merely the question of whether we shall become a member of the new tribunal with or without reserve. The insight and foresight of the American people discern in the league court a compromise of the political independence of the United States, an involvement in the political system of Europe, and in this perception they agree with the opinion of Europe itself.

Deep in the consciousness of the American people is the will to be free from the tentacles of European politics. Our forefathers of each generation cherished that determination and have refused to be deceived by any plausible disguise for our entanglement. Mrs. McCormick voiced our ancient, our undying will to be free. She made herself champion of the political independence of the United States in world politics, and she has received an indorsement from her fellow citizens which will not be mistaken wherever there is political intelligence in the world.

WOMEN IN HIGHEST OFFICE.

The nomination of Ruth McCormick to the United States senate marks an epoch in American history. It is the first conspicuous and unequivocal acknowledgment of the full implication of the 19th amendment. By that amendment American women were given the suffrage, the right to vote. At the primary on Tuesday the voters of the Republican party, by an overwhelming vote, declared their judgment of the fitness of a woman to sit as the representative of the state in the highest deliberative body in the land.

It is true that an aged woman was appointed in 1922 out of compliment to sit during one month in the senate, but the act was merely one of courtesy. It is true there are now eight women in the house of representatives, one of them being Mrs. McCormick, the representative of the whole state as a congressman at large. There are women in 38 of the 48 state legislatures. Two women have been governors of states and one mayor of a considerable city, Seattle.

But the United States senatorship is an office of the very highest dignity and responsibility. It has been solemnly called—and at the most critical past periods of our history it has deserved the designation—"the most august deliberative body in the world." That a woman, even a woman as brilliant, able, and versed in public affairs as Ruth McCormick, should be chosen by an overwhelming vote in a socially conservative state by a fundamentally conservative party to represent a great commonwealth in the most august deliberative body in the world is therefore epochal. It is the most significant recognition that American womanhood is now in the fullness of political privilege and responsibility, not merely to vote but to govern, not merely to have voice in the selection to office but to hold office of the highest character.

The most conservative of citizens will find it interesting to follow this thought in some of its many momentous implications. They challenge our thought and the thought of the world.

THE CRIME CHAMPIONSHIP.

Chicago's claim to the crime championship of the civilized world has been challenged and it looks as if we must take a place well to the rear. Chicago is only one-fifth as murderous a city as Memphis. Our rate is 12.7 per 100,000 inhabitants, while Kansas City's is 24.8, Cincinnati's 23.2, and Detroit's 18.6, to select a few at random. Chicago's murder rate has been going down while murder in most of the other cities has been growing in popularity, if not esteem.

Only the other day the Plain Dealer spoke of four murders in eight days in Cleveland. "We suggest," observed the editor, "that even Chicago, famed for a particular preëminence, does not often excel this record." No indeed, but New York does. In the first three months of 1930 there were 27 gang killings in New York, not counting, of course, the less spectacular ones incident to blighted affections, robbery, and anger. Nor need we confine the competition to the larger cities. The Bloomington (Ill.) Pantagraph noted recently that in the last three years 2,000 "crimes of major importance" had been committed in McLean county. "In sharp contrast to this figure," says the Pantagraph, "is the recorded number of arrests for such offenses: 426. And in still sharper contrast, the court records show, only 125 persons were punished by fines or imprisonment for the 2,000 crimes committed." Bloomington, the metropolis of McLean county, it might be added, had a population of less than 30,000 in the census of ten years ago.

Chicago, it is plain, is losing out. We yield the championship with as much good grace as we can command.

DISARMAMENT BY PURCHASE.

Mr. Melvin Traylor, one of the two American financiers who recently helped organize the international bank, suggests that the questions of disarmament and interallied debts might well be discussed together at an international conference. He thinks that if the United States should offer to cancel the debts our former allies would agree to disarm on land and sea. It would be good business for them to do so, he says, because they would save not only the costs of military preparation but also the annuities paid to this country; and for our part, we should about break even because what we should lose from nonpayment of the debts would be balanced by the saving in our military expenditures.

This suggestion, of course, is not a new one. It has cropped up from time to time since the war. It has never made much progress. Every time the proposal has been offered some one has asked why the nations of Europe have to be paid to disarm, and to that question no adequate reply has been made. Europe would save money if it reduced its armaments and it would save more money if it didn't have to pay its debts. The fact that the United States insists on payment is or ought to be an incentive to armament reduction abroad, and if the nations of Europe do not respond to the incentive we may safely conclude that they do not want to disarm and do not intend to disarm for reasons of their own. Confirmation of this conclusion is to be found currently in London. We agree with Mr. Traylor that European budgets would be more readily balanced if the costs of armament were reduced, but if that is so why do not the nations of Europe proceed to disarm without putting a price on an action which is plainly in their own interest? Why must they be bribed to disarm?

Perhaps the reply will be that the victorious allies must maintain great military establishments only in order to exact those payments from Germany which the allies in turn transmit to Washington. This would establish a logical connection between the question of disarmament and the question of the war debts, but unfortunately the explanation does not accord with the facts. The size of the British navy, as every one knows who has followed the London conference, is not determined by the strength of the Germany navy, but rather by the strength of the French, Italian, American, and Japanese navies. The size of the Italian army is not determined by Germany's military strength, but by France's; and if the French army were only as large as would be required to invade the Ruhr again to force payments, French military costs could be cut in two and still leave a margin of safety.

It should also be noted that American experience in purchasing disarmament has not hitherto been particularly reassuring. At the Washington conference we didn't get our money's worth. We sacrificed our investment in the strongest navy in the world confident that our offer to scrap our battleship superiority would be matched then or later by other nations which excelled in other categories. Our confidence was misplaced. We paid in battleships, and that was all that happened. The best that we can now expect from the London conference is a huge bill for the construction of cruisers and other auxiliaries to match the existing strengths of Britain and Japan. Is it not likely, in the light of this experience, that if we forgive the debts expecting disarmament in return we shall again find we have bought a particular kind of disarmament, leaving other categories open to unlimited expenditure?

It is significant that the suggestion of trading disarmament for reparations has not come from a responsible official of a European government. As long as the suggestion comes from this side we are buying in a seller's market. It would be more prudent to let the other fellow make the first bid. Frankly we doubt if such a bid will be forthcoming, and, if it is, whether it will be acceptable; but at any rate such a bid would merit serious attention.

Meanwhile our situation might be compared to that of a banker who has lent money to Mr. Jones. Mr. Jones' wife is extravagant and poor Jones is having some difficulty in meeting his interest. Mr. Traylor suggests to the banker that he cancel Mr. Jones' note if Mr. Jones will agree to curb Mrs. Jones' expenditures. When Mr. Traylor as a banker pursues such a policy toward his customers we may view his international proposals with greater sympathy.

JUNIOR PROMENADES.

[Indianapolis News.]

In American colleges and universities there is a well established custom that when green begins to show in the trees there shall be what is known officially as the junior promenade, or junior prom. The old style included a grand march, which was led by the president of the class and a girl who had been chosen as the prom queen. Now the prom queen is not chosen until after there has been a lively campus political campaign and usually a diplomatic battle between the sororities and the unorganized group. Eventually the junior prom queen emerges with the greatest single social distinction that can come to a girl member of the third year class. In recent years the cost of these junior proms has been mounting. Expensive jazz orchestras are employed, some costing $1,000 a night. In a few institutions two orchestras are used. As an ancient and accepted social diversion no fault can be found with the junior promenade if it is kept within reasonable bounds, but it is extra curricular, it has nothing to do with the business of obtaining an education and it is becoming a severe drain on the purses of fathers and mothers.

TEACHING DEAF CHILDREN.

PROF. ROBERT H. GAULT has invented a new aid for teaching deaf people, and particularly deaf children. It is called the teletactor and it serves to aid the deaf to perceive and to interpret words and other sounds. In very low forms of life the ability to hear after a fashion is possessed by every cell. In the higher planes this ability becomes specialized in the cells of the ear apparatus and all other cells retain nothing but the rudiments of hearing capacity. This statement, left by itself, might lead one to think that Prof. Gault's teletactor enables one to hear with his fingers, but such a conclusion would be a great and misleading exaggeration. Here is another line of approach to another explanation:

The art of lipreading consists in watching the movement of the lips and mouth in talking and in inferring sounds and words therefrom. Or, in another line of approach: A smart deaf person can guess what is said to him by the attitude of the speaker, his gestures, and the expression of his face. Prof. Gault has given us still another method of interpreting the speaker to the deaf person.

The teletactor is a small telephone apparatus for transmitting the feel of speech from the mouth of the speaker to the fingertip of the deafened person. A cord runs to the pupil. He holds it with one finger on the button or diaphragm as the case might be. An electric current transmits the feel or the spoken word from the receiving diaphragm and reproduces it against the finger of the listener. The instrument can be used with a single listener but it is more effective when a group of deaf children study together, each with his finger on the button of a receiving handle. In using this instrument for teaching classes of children the usual pedagogic methods are made use of. Words are written on a blackboard as they are spoken. The pupil sees the word, perhaps also a picture of the object referred to, hears as much of the spoken word as his hearing makes possible, notes the attitude and expression of the speaker, studies his lip movement and also feels his speech with the teletactor.

The benefits of competition among pupils and education by contact with fellow students are also made use of. The instrument and the method are still on trial and are not in general use, but they have been the subject of experimentation and research, much of it practical, for several years.

SALT IN THE MORNING.

Mrs. J. writes: Is it harmful to take a quarter teaspoonful of common table salt in one cup of water before breakfast each day?

REPLY.

Ten grains of salt in a quart of water makes a solution that approximates what is called a normal salt solution. One-quarter of a teaspoonful is somewhat more than ten grains.

A glassful of normal salt solution, taken before breakfast, is one of the least harmful agents taken for overcoming habitual constipation.

STREET LIGHTS.

Chicago, April 2.—[Friend of the People.]—For the last two weeks the street lights on Windsor avenue from Long to Milwaukee avenue have been out. The street is dark enough with the lights on. Is there some way that this can be repaired? A. L.

I am very sorry to receive complaints of this nature, but the same condition prevails all over the city for the reason that our forces of lamp cleaners, lamp changers, electric light repairmen, linemen, etc., have been decreased 50% in the 1930 appropriation ordinance, with the result that circuit trouble is piling up throughout the entire system and with the insufficient man power appropriated this year it is obviously impossible for the department to clear the trouble as quickly as heretofore.

May I add that the department is doing the best it can under very trying circumstances and trusts you will be good enough to bear with us until such time as adequate funds are provided to maintain the system in first class operating condition? In the meantime it is my sincere wish and intention to keep the entire municipal street lighting system in as nearly first class operating condition at all times as it is physically possible and I trust you will have no further cause for complaint.

BURIED TREASURE.

Chicago, April 5.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—When buying a piece of land on which buried money is found, can the state claim it? Can it be taken out of the state? H. S.

Section 27 of the statute relating to lost goods makes it the duty of finders of goods worth more than $5.00 to inform the owner, if known, and make restoration without compensation, or if the owner is unknown to take the goods within five days before a justice of the peace and make affidavit, of which an entry shall be made on the justice's book and a certified copy on the county clerk's book. Section 38 provides that in all cases where such goods shall not exceed $15.00 it shall be the duty of the finder to advertise on the door of the courthouse and in three other public places and if no person appears within twelve months the ownership shall vest in the finder, but if the value exceeds $15.00 the county clerk shall within twenty days from receipt of the justice's certificate place notice on the courthouse door and in three other public places and publish notice for three successive weeks and if the goods are not reclaimed within six months the finder shall deliver the money to the county treasurer, other securities to the county clerk, to hold for the owner, or goods to the sheriff, who shall sell at auction and pay the proceeds into the county treasury. CAL'S TURNING IN HIS COPY—on the history of these United States in five hundred words, and we fear he is in for a hot razzing. There is nothing we the people love to do so much as to criticize. Calvin seems to be in for a mess of trouble right from the start. He begins this way: In the year of our Lord, 1776, declared the eternal right to seek happiness, self-government, and the divine duty to defend that right at any sacrifice."

Calvin, that's a bum lead. The Scandinavian-Americans are going to turn thumbs down on you in 1932 because you didn't say anything about Leif Ericson, the bird who discovered America and forgot about it. And the Italian-Americans will be off you for life because you didn't give honorable mention to old Chris Colombo. And the French-Americans, because you didn't say anything about Marquette and La Salle; the Spanish-Americans, because you left out old Ponce de Leon; and the English-Americans, because you omitted John Smith and the Pilgrim Fathers.

Besides, your style is too sudden-like, Cal. That 500 word history is going to sound like a motor boat. And what about the Boston Tea Party, and the Boston Massacre, and Paul Revere's Ride? Huh! With that history, Cal, you won't poll two votes in Boston. And the D. A. R. will ride past that mountain in South Dakota on which your words are carved with their eyes shut and holding their noses. We may be all wet, Cal, but judging from the start of your stuff it isn't going to be as exciting as a seed catalogue. Maybe you're saving the wallop for the last page; but, anyhow, Cal, it sounds like a poor start.

OPEN ACCOUNT.

Will there come back to you and me
Those rare, lost moments when we thought
That life was just pure ecstasy
And dreams were things that could be bought

Like produce in the market place
When revels left our larders bare?
Like smiles upon a long-dead face
Those blazing days have vanished . . . where?

They have been locked with far-flung keys
Into the bank of memory,
But we may draw them when we please,
Open account for you and me!

RATHER THE REDHOT PINCHERS AND THE RACK.

Make 'em stop! Why, the Consteetooshun (as the parsons say in their radio sermons), yessir, the sacred Consteetooshun of these United States expressly forbids it. Not that that makes a great deal of difference to a large per cent of our patriotic citizens; but, nevertheless and notwithstanding, the Consteetooshun says, "Cruel and unusual punishment shall not be inflicted." And yet students in the Tarentum High school in Pittsburgh are punished for misdemeanors by being compelled to copy pages of the Congressional Record. Oh, hideous torture! Not even the red Indians ever inflicted such suffering on human beings. It is far worse than being burned at the stake or tied down on an ant hill. Copy whole pages of the Congressional Record! In the name of humanity, civilization, and the sacred Consteetooshun, we cry to heaven against this monstrous cruelty. Write to your congressman today.

THE HON. ETAOIN SHRDLU apparently was nominated for something in Tuesday's primaries. Col. Shrdlu's name was written in on so many ballots that it is not yet clear to just what office, or offices, he has been chosen, and whether on the Democratic or Republican ticket, or both. "Do not congratulate me," said Col. Shrdlu to your reporter; "congratulate the nation." It is expected that a careful counting of the ballots will reveal that the proletariat selected Col. Shrdlu either as admiral of the Swiss navy or commissioner to distribute fur overcoats to the freezing inhabitants of Zanzibar.

LAGNIAPPE.

THE TRAGEDY of William Fox, the emperor of the silver screen who has given up his place at the head of the great world encircling enterprise he had founded, moved us to tears. And just as we were attempting to visualize William at Rush and Ohio with a monkey and a hand organ we read dimly on and found out that Mr. Fox was kicked out into a cold and unfeeling world with only five hundred thousand bucks a year salary, besides what pin money he can get out of remaining as a director of the company. And it was Mr. Shakespeare, was it not, who asked, "What's in a name?"

MAHATMA GANDHI, wearying of trying to make the British lion mad by gazing at him reproachfully, has begun biting him in the left hind leg. You may get away with this, Mahatma, but if you will take a piece of advice from us, don't try to twist his tail. That, Mr. Gandhi, makes the lion quite angry.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

APRIL 10, 1865.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Gen. Robert E. Lee, commanding the rebel armies, surrendered the Army of Northern Virginia to Gen. Grant at Appomattox Court House.

(For facsimile of the story of Gen. Lee's surrender as it appeared in The Tribune 65 years ago, see page 3 of today's Tribune.)

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The Richmond Whig publishes in the same typographical style as deaths are usually printed: "DIED—Southern Confederacy. At the late residence of his father, Jeff Davis, Richmond, Va., Southern Confederacy, aged four years. Death caused by strangulation. No funeral."

WASHINGTON, D. C.—President Lincoln, accompanied by Mrs. Lincoln, Mrs. Grant, Senators Sumner and Harlan, and others, visited Richmond. They saw various objects of interest, including Libby prison, and were everywhere received with great enthusiasm. Nearly all the inhabitants, white and black, were in the streets, anxious to get a glimpse of the President.

ST. LOUIS.—Brig. Gen. George D. Wagner was assigned to the command of the St. Louis district, relieving Brevet Gen. Beveridge, who was appointed to succeed Gen. Ewing. Gen. Wagner was recently in command of a division under Gen. Thomas.

CHICAGO.—Miss Emma E. Hilliard of Chicago and V. M. Jones of Louisville, Ky., were married at the residence of the bride's father on March 28 by the Rev. George D. Cummins.

CHICAGO.—The city was ablaze with excitement last night after THE TRIBUNE posted a placard in the window of its counting room announcing Lee's surrender. Word was sent to the fire department and in a few minutes the courthouse bell rang out, bringing the people to the street. The intelligence spread like wildfire.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

APRIL 10, 1900.

MANILA.—Brig. Gen. Frederick Funston is under investigation for the execution of two Filipinos and a court martial may result. The story is that the Filipinos captured three Maccabebe scouts and were preparing to kill them when one of them escaped and reported to Gen. Funston. As Funston's troops approached the Filipinos fled, leaving the other two scouts. Several of the Filipinos were shot and two were captured. Gen. Funston took the two to the village square and hanged them without trial as a warning to the Filipinos, according to reports.

LONDON.—It is announced that the Boers in the south of the Orange Free State are about to move through Basutoland against the British detachment at Wepener. This garrison is practically isolated now and is already faced with a Boer force of 2,000, encamped only five miles away. If the Boers are reinforced it is feared they can capture Col. Dalgetty's position, although it is described as strong.

CHICAGO.—The Chicago Culture club elected Mrs. Ella E. Lane Bowes president.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

APRIL 10, 1920.

CHICAGO.—The insurgent railway strike that started in Chicago has spread to other cities from New York to the Pacific coast. It was said that an apparent break has started in the ranks of the "insurgent" strikers here, but in other cities several new walkouts were reported.

NEW YORK.—Railroad service in and about New York reached a state of complete confusion—almost paralysis—as the result of the unauthorized strike of railway workers, which spread to this city from Chicago. Freight service was halted and passenger service on all the roads crippled.

WASHINGTON.—With passage of the peace resolution by the house tonight by a vote of 243 to 150, the Republican majority in congress completed the first stage of its program to end the war with Germany in default of ratification of the Versailles treaty and its league of nations covenant. This unprecedented measure for terminating the war goes to the senate tomorrow.

MR. BRANDON ON PRISON EMPLOYMENT.

Springfield, Ill., April 8.—I noted the editorial in a recent issue of THE TRIBUNE commenting upon the program of the department of public welfare in connection with the construction of new cellhouses at Joliet, Pontiac, and Chester. Your editorial very correctly comments upon the very obvious fact that it must be a difficult task to find constant daily occupations for 8,000 men confined within an area the total of which is less than 100 acres. Naturally we need to use all of the labor market which we are able to create.

The facts in the present instance are as follows:

All three of these cellhouses are needed at once. Speed in construction is important. The Pontiac building is built on the fence line of the old stockade, and it was possible to so arrange the prison wall that the building could be built from the outside without interference with the reformatory inmates. The Joliet and Chester buildings, however, are in the center of their respective stockades. To have a great number of outside artisans mingling with our prisoners is inadvisable. For these reasons we let a contract at Pontiac and the cellhouse is now about ready for a roof. In the other two instances we asked the state architect, Harry Hammond, to build the building with the prison inmates supplemented with artisans brought into the prison and maintained there by the week. I am glad that Joliet and Chester will have this additional market for their labor this summer and fall, but I shall regret it if delay results.

Incidentally, I might remark that the policy of using men in prison for the construction of prison buildings is one advocated by the American Federation of Labor, recognizing, as organized labor does, the necessity of constant employment of incarcerated men.

Thanking you for your interest in the matter, I remain,

RODNEY H. BRANDON,
Director, Department of Public Welfare.

NICE, CHEAP RAILROADS.

Chicago, April 6.—C. J. W. is right about railroading. Unquestionably railroad executives are overpaid, as well as know nothing about public psychology and less about promoting efficiency, or fostering rail travel—they are merely the poor relatives and friends of the directors. "Exterminate" them and railroading will seek its natural level and eliminate all competition, provided, of course, that our suggestions are followed.

Mexicans could be imported and, with a few days of instruction, could collect tickets, shovel coal, and whistle for crossings for one dollar a day, thereby cutting the expenses of operating a train worth one-half a million dollars and carrying several hundred people by about thirty dollars a day. Another effective way of reducing the cost of traveling is to eliminate the thousands of tons of unnecessary weight of trains. New coaches of light material could be built, one-half their present height, which, with proper seating arrangement, would hold four times the capacity of the present cars. Then, too, diners could be done away with—trains could be stopped at meal times, thereby allowing travelers to stretch and buy their meals at more reasonable prices.

STEPHEN S. JOHNSON.

THE SOURCE OF THE NAMES.

Chicago, April 4.—The Woman's Christian Temperance union headquarters in Evanston, Ill., informed me that they asked the Literary Digest how the names for the poll were obtained. The Literary Digest informed them that the names were obtained from telephone directories and automobile lists. Every one knows that very few women are listed in either telephone directories or automobile lists. Most women are thus automatically eliminated from the poll, and yet women are the backbone of the prohibition movement. Add wet and dry votes together in the Literary Digest poll, and the total will be approximately the number of women who would vote for prohibition if they had the same opportunity to do so.

Telephone directories and automobile lists are principally from the larger cities, which are much wetter than the rural districts; and perhaps telephone directories from the wettest cities in each state have been chosen. In the larger cities a very large percentage of those listed in the telephone directories are aliens and not voters.

JAMES GILCHRIST LAWSON.

RADIO COMPLAINT.

Evanston, Ill., April 5.—I would like to know why the radio entertainers are so strongly forbidden to use profanity while on the air and yet orchestras are allowed to play sacrilegious dance tunes.

I love to dance and usually turn my dials to a good dance orchestra. Now I find myself listening to the name of Our Lord brought into a supposedly "hot number." Why cannot the composers of lyrics such as "Lord, Did You Ever Hear of Broadway?" find something else to write about and let us continue to hear the praise of Our Savior sung only from a hymn book?

MRS. R. W. FARGLOW.

HARDSHIPS.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 5.—I just wish C. J. W. would try living on a trainman's pay. I wonder if he ever stopped to think that train crews work seven days a week, including holidays. If any of the crew must lay off because of illness, what can they live on? They don't get paid except for work.

I wonder, too, if C. J. W. knows the hours these men have to keep. They don't have positions that start work at 9 a. m. and finish up at 5 p. m.

The responsibility placed on the train crew should not be overlooked either. C. J. W. probably thinks the average trainman gets on in one place, rides till he comes to his jumping off place, and then catches a return train and rides home again. He probably hasn't considered the expense involved when a run ties up away from home—a good many men have wives and a home—and the railroad doesn't furnish room and board for the men working on such runs.

MRS. C. M. BELL.

ANSWERING SENATOR TYDINGS.

La Crosse, Wis., April 4.—When Senator Tydings made the statement that in ten years prohibition had caused the death of 1,365 persons, more than the Spanish-American war, the wets all shed their eyes heavenward and exclaimed, "O, how barbarous! The bigots! The intolerance of those heartless drys!"

If Tydings had wanted to be a bit fair, he would have added that alcohol before prohibition killed countless thousands and caused more misery than all the wars combined. H. C.

"HUSH MONEY" INVESTIGATED IN PANEL MURDER

Mrs. Oesterreich Faces Inquiry Today.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 9.—(AP)—Investigation of the eight year old murder of Fred Oesterreich, wealthy Milwaukee manufacturer, today moved from the mystery of a lover, hidden beneath the eaves of Oesterreich's home for eighteen years by Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich, to open official claims of intrigue and blackmail with large sums paid for silence in the case.

Otto Sanhuber, whom police said confessed the slaying and told them he was the lover of Mrs. Oesterreich, was in the city jail. The widow, whom Sanhuber said he affectionately called "Dolly," was ordered to appear tomorrow at the district attorney's office for questioning. Herman Shapiro, her former attorney, officially was said to have brought the charges against Sanhuber because he feared death at the hands of Mrs. Oesterreich and her asserted men friends.

Faces Inquiry on Will.

District Attorney Buron Fitts disclosed that the woman was to be questioned concerning a will in which Shapiro said Oesterreich had bequeathed her one-third of his $750,000 estate. The other two-thirds, Shapiro affirmed, were willed to the Christian Science church and to Harry Foss, manager of the slain man's Wisconsin garment factory. Shapiro gave the officials information indicating the will had been burned by Sanhuber in his secret attic compartment, from which he admittedly slipped out to shoot down Oesterreich when he quarreled with "Dolly" the night of Aug. 22, 1922.

Announcing that they were investigating two separate conspiracies to slice into the fortune left by Oesterreich, district attorney's investigators said they had evidence that "huge sums" were paid "going and coming" for silence in the case. They intimated sensational evidence was imminent of asserted "shakedowns" by persons supposedly investigating the slaying eight years ago. At that time Mrs. Oesterreich was under a charge of murdering her husband, which after many months was dropped for "lack of evidence."

Finger Print "Lost."

A finger print, taken from the doorknob of the closet in which the woman was found locked after the murder, was said by the police to have been lost from its files. The print was not that of the slain man, nor of his widow. Fitts declared he intends to learn how and why the finger print, convicting evidence in so many crimes, had "been lost."

Other men were brought into the life of "Dolly" by Shapiro. He reported to Fitts on Feb. 13 last that she and Roy Hendrick, service station operator, on that day came to his office and attempted by force to take him "for a ride."

Blames Attempt on Suit.

The woman's former attorney and confidante said the attempt on his life was due to a suit he brought against her to collect $25,000 in attorney's fees, which she had refused to pay. He cited also as part of the alleged intrigue a $250,000 alienation of affections suit brought against "Dolly" by Hendricks' wife. This was dropped after a settlement out of court.

That the wealthy manufacturer had known of the existence of Sanhuber was another revelation by Shapiro. He gave this knowledge as the reason Oesterreich cut off his wife in his will.

VILLAGERS SLAIN BY RED SOLDIERS AT CHURCH DOOR

Journalists Witness Fight Across River.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUCHAREST, Rumania, April 9.—Several persons were reported killed and many more wounded when a battalion of soviet soldiers opened fire on a mob of infuriated villagers, who attempted to gain entrance to an Orthodox cathedral in Tiraspol, Russia, according to reports received here today from Bender on the Russian-Rumanian border.

Bender is located on the Rumanian side of the river Dniester, just opposite Tiraspol.

According to Rumanian newspapermen, who watched the battle between the red soldiers and the civilians from across the river, at least ten bodies were dumped into the water after the fight and hundreds of residents driven out of the town by troops.

Villagers Use Scythes.

The fight started when several hundred members of the Orthodox church tried to break into the Tiraspol cathedral, which had been closed by the soviets as a part of their anti-religious program.

The soldiers were called out from the local garrison and were assisted by several members of the town's atheistic society, who blocked the cathedral entrances. The inhabitants attacked them with sticks, stones, and scythes, until the soldiers were ordered to fire on them.

U. S. Gets Hammering.

MOSCOW, April 9.—(AP)—The communist organ Pravda today published an editorial, asserting that the United States was so hard hit by the stock market crash of last year that it was no longer content to export its machinery and gold, but was attempting to export American "policy" in the form of financial and political experts, political agreements, and "predatory arbitrary plans."

"The Kellogg pact, the Young plan, and both The Hague agreements are typical products of modern American foreign policy," said the paper. "The American observer at the league of nations has ceased to be an ordinary observer and has become an active participant in this honorable institution, which organizes international, imperialistic adventures under the flag of permanent peace."

Asserting that the United States is in imperative need of finding new markets abroad, Pravda says that America seems to solve its financial problems by the monopolization of entire branches of industry in Europe and by acquisition of the oil markets throughout the world. It describes the newly created international bank established through the Young plan as an instrument for opening the European market for the commercial expansion of the United States.

COLLEEN MOORE AND M'CORMICK ARE SEPARATED

Hollywood, Cal., April 9.—[Special.]—Colleen Moore, film actress, this evening confirmed reports of her separation from John McCormick Jr., her husband and business manager, and said, "While if there were any way a reconciliation could be brought about, I would welcome it very happily, yet there does not seem to be a remote chance."

Miss Moore, who has moved from the couples' $900,000 home—not yet completely finished—in Bellaire and is staying with her mother, Mrs. C. R. Morrison, in Beverly Hills, said that she plans tentatively to institute proceedings for a divorce in three weeks.

Miss Moore said that McCormick will no longer represent her as her business manager.

CHINESE BANKERS MUSTER ARMY TO FIGHT RED PERIL

Many Flee Communists; Seek Refuge in Canton.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, April 9.—Wealthy Cantonese merchants and bankers, alarmed at the rapid growth of communism in the southern provinces of China, today announced their decision to coöperate with the Canton government in immediately raising a fund of $300,000 for the purpose of enlisting and training 6,000 volunteers.

These volunteers are to be known as the Chinese Anti-Red army. The intention of the bankers and merchants is to employ foreign military tacticians to train this army.

Property Owners Driven Out.

The action of the Chinese merchants, as well as that of the government, has been precipitated by the arrival at Canton of 300,000 refugees, mostly persons of property, who have been driven out of northern Kwangtung and southern Kiangsi by the communist forces now occupying these district. The invaders are organizing a soviet form of government.

A report from Canton claims that government troops captured the towns of Chihing and Namheung from the communists yesterday.

Americans Warned to Leave.

Washington, D. C., April 9.—(AP)—All Americans in two northern cities of Kwangtung province, of which Canton is the capital, have been warned by Douglas Jenkins, American consul general, to leave their stations.

The state department has records of 12 Americans in the two cities, Linchow and Shiuchow, as of Dec. 31: The department made public the following addresses of these Americans:

Dr. and Mrs. Homer Vernon Bradshaw, Flemingsburg, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs. Reese F. Edwards, 606 Beall avenue, Wooster, O.; Miss Elizabeth G. Patterson, 2 Elm street, Cooperstown, N. Y.; Dr. and Mrs. Charles C. Selden, Erie, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Henry Van Etten and two children, Long Beach, Cal.; Miss Ruth Pettigrew, 203 Chase park, Florence, S. C.; Miss F. Todhunter, Peoria, Ill.

Of those named the last two were stationed at Shiuchow and the others at Linchow.

The state department was informed today by Mr. Jenkins that "unofficial but reliable reports," were that "communist bandit forces" have now occupied Yanfa in north in Kwangtung province and are proceeding to Chihing.

Missionaries Escape Attack.

SHANGHAI, April 9.—(AP)—Bandits who threatened the city of Kiukiang, Kiangsi province, Monday after foreign missionaries concentrated for safety, were reported in authorative dispatches to have refrained from attack.

Brooks Field Student Killed in Plane Crash

San Antonio, Tex., April 9.—(AP)—Lieut. Bert C. Muse, 25, student officer at Brooks field, was killed when his plane crashed ten miles south of here today and burned. His home was at Cedar Glades, Ark.

BRITISH ARREST GANDHI'S SECOND SON IN SALT WAR

BOMBAY, April 9.—(AP)—Mahatma Gandhi's movement in defiance of the British government's salt laws continued today to spread rapidly in various districts and another of his sons, Davi Das Gandhi, was arrested and charged with sedition. He was seized along with 23 other salt volunteers.

The Nationalist leader himself remained free from police molestation and obviously surprised at the official indifference toward him personally. Observers who were close to him said he also was disappointed.

Gandhi today visited the village of Bhimrad, where he was greeted by a chorus of women singing revolutionary songs. The part played by women in the campaign is increasing, particularly in the Gujerat, a northern region of the Bombay presidency.

Gandhi Becomes Annoyed.

Gandhi told the people of Bhimrad he was glad to find them in festive mood. He hoped that they would remain in that state of mind, even though some of them might later be wounded or even killed.

The mahatma has become annoyed at tactics of the British authorities in seizing the salt the Nationalist volunteers are collecting. He addressed a message to the people of Kathiwar, in which he said:

"What is going on at Dholera, where the police have seized the contraband salt, is intolerable. It is sheer vulgarity to snatch salt from the Satyagraphis (Nationalist volunteers). It is my earnest desire that the Satyagrahis should not part with their salt in spite of the most severe injury to their hands, but they should not use counter-force."

Second Son Arrested.

Gandhi's son was arrested at Saleempur. His trial is scheduled for tomorrow. Another son of the mahatma was arrested several days ago at Bhimrad for breaking the salt laws and yesterday was sentenced to six months' rigorous imprisonment.

A report from Madras said that 90 volunteers, members of the Young Independent party and the League of Youth, have joined the civil resistance movement and intend to make salt at Madras City.

Riot at Religious Fete.

Serious rioting broke out today at Masik, a city about 100 miles northeast of Bombay. The fight was beteween casts Hindus and "untouchables," who are not allowed to enter the temples or participate in any Hindu religious ceremonies.

The caste men took from the temples two chariots, containing images which were to be drawn in procession by 5,000 devotees. The "untouchables," also gathered in thousands, rushed to pull on the ropes alongside the caste men, who resisted and a free fight developed. Stones were thrown and police charged with batons to disperse the mob. No one was killed, but more than a hundred suffered injuries. There are about 50,000 pilgrims gathered in Masik fo rtomorrow's fair.

FESS ASKS QUIZ OF POSTAL RENT FRAUD CHARGES

Defends Administration on Senate Floor.

Washington, D. C., April 9.—(AP)—Defending the present administration against the charges of "fraud and corruption" in the government's leases of temporary postoffice buildings throughout the country, Senator Fess [Rep., O.] in the senate today asked for the investigation proposed by Senator Blaine [Rep., Wis.], the accuser.

The Ohioan also took Senator Blaine to task for "insinuations" against Postmaster General Brown and the justice department under his "cloak of senatorial immunity."

The Wisconsin senator retorted that "there has been guilty knowledge of fraud and the postoffice department is culpably negligent in the performance of its duty."

Senate Fails to Vote.

The senate again failed to reach a vote either on the proposed investigation of postoffice leases or upon the provision in the postoffice department appropriation bill stipulating that no money shall be paid for rental of the commercial station at St. Paul, Minn.

The government's lease of the St. Paul station at $120,000 annually under a contract entered into in 1922 for 20 years is the immediate point in controversy. The government stopped payments on this contract in 1928 after a grand jury reported it was "tainted."

Postmaster General Brown, who took office a year ago under President Hoover, issued a statement today relating the history of the St. Paul contract and "welcoming an investigation of all leases executed by me as postmaster general."

Contract History Read.

Senator Fess read Mr. Brown's history of the St. Paul contract to the senate. He said the contract was "accepted" during the Democratic administration of President Wilson in 1921, and "executed" in the Harding administration by Postmaster General Hays.

Woman Is Killed by 3 Story Fall from Hospital Window

Mrs. Carrie Tumpach, 58 years old, 2335 South Austin avenue, Cicero, died yesterday at St. Anthony's hospital, 19th street and Marshall boulevard, Cicero, of injuries suffered earlier in the day when she leaped or fell from the window of her third floor room at the hospital. Mrs. Tumpach had been a patient at the hospital for two weeks, suffering from a nervous disorder.

RASKOB AIDS G. O. P. AND SHOULD RESIGN, HEFLIN TELLS SENATE

Washington, D. C., April 9.—(AP)—A demand that John J. Raskob resign as chairman of the Democratic national committee was made in the senate today by Senator Heflin [Dem., Ala.].

Saying the "Roman Catholic-Tammany-Raskob regime" had been working against his candidacy for renomination for the senate from Alabama, Heflin shouted:

"I'll defy them. I'll whip them in my state either in a Democratic primary or out of it."

Heflin has been barred from the Democratic primary.

Referring to testimony before the senate lobby committee last Friday by Raskob that he had contributed $65,000 to the association against the prohibition amendment, and that one of its objects was to elect members of congress in favor of repeal or modification of the prohibition law, Heflin added:

"We have come to a miserable pass when we have the chairman of the Democratic committee giving money by the thousands to elect wet Republicans and to defeat dry Democrats."

DEPOSITORS PUT O. K. ON PLAN TO REORGANIZE BANK

More than 600 depositors of the West Central State bank, Ogden and Roosevelt road, which was closed by State Auditor Nelson on Jan. 28, at a meeting last night in Workman's hall, 3202 Ogden avenue, instructed a committee of their number to proceed with a plan to reorganize the institution.

Attorney Max Schulman, spokesman for the committee, announced that an effort would be made to reorganize the bank on the basis of $200,000 capital, surplus of $20,000, and a sinking fund of $10,000. To accomplish this, he said, it is planned to induce the 4,000 depositors to contribute $80,000 through signing over that much of their deposits for which they may purchase stock in the reorganized bank upon a basis of $115 per share. The stockholders and directors plan to advance an additional $75,000, and the remaining $75,000 will be raised through bringing new investors into the bank, Shulman said.

None of the directors or officers of the defunct bank will be connected with the reorganized institution, Mr. Shulman said. When closed the bank had $523,000 in deposits, capital of $200,000, surplus of $20,000 and undivided profits of $3,800.

Boy, 3, Falls 30 Feet from Window; Is Slightly Hurt

Edward Panek, 3 years old, was recovering last night at the county hospital from minor injuries incurred yesterday morning when he fell from a third floor window at his home at 4125 West 16th street. The boy landed in a pile of soft earth and, despite his thirty foot drop, was slightly hurt.

SENATORS O. K. PLAN TO TRACE CAMPAIGN GIFTS

Deneen Is Neutral on Norris' Proposal.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 9.—[Special.]—Creation of a special senatorial campaign fund investigating committee was approved unanimously today by the senate committee on privileges and elections. Approval of the plan as embodied in a resolution introduced several weeks ago by Senator George W. Norris [Rep., Neb.] will make possible inquiry into any charges of excessive or improper expenditures in any of the primary or election contests of the present year in the same manner as in 1928 and also in 1926.

The resolution must be approved by the contingent expense committee before it is acted upon by the senate. Senator Charles S. Deneen [Rep., Ill.], chairman of the committee, sent word today to Senator Simeon D. Fess [Rep., O.], also a member of the committee, asking him to call a meeting and to act upon the resolution before the chairman returns from Chicago.

It was made known that Senator Deneen does not desire either to be in the position of proposing an investigation of expenditures of his successful opponent, Ruth Hanna McCormick, or to oppose an inquiry into his own expenditures.

Senator Deneen probably will not return to Washington before Monday, and the contingent expense committee will be called together either tomorrow or Friday.

WIFE IS SHOT BY POLICEMAN DURING DISPUTE

Joseph Isaacs, 25 years old, a member of the police department since last July, yesterday shot and wounded his wife in the right arm during a quarrel in their home at 5542 Lafayette avenue. Isaacs was locked up at the Englewood station, while Mrs. Isaacs, who is 22 years old, was taken to the Englewood hospital. According to the police Isaacs was arrested a week ago on a warrant obtained by his wife, charging him with nonsupport. The case was continued and yesterday the policeman quarreled with his wife about it. She said he shot her deliberately, but he declared the shooting was accidental.

"Don't Call it Luck"

counsels ELINOR GLYN

ELINOR GLYN

Helen M—is eating her heart out, poor child because she's so "unlucky." There have been six weddings among her friends and she hasn't even one beau. "Miss Glyn," she writes, "really I am as good looking as these other girls. Can it be their clothes? Yet I buy the same styles as they do and pay just as much—"

DON'T call it luck, Helen. Undoubtedly these girls know something that you don't—that the thing about clothes that has the greatest appeal for men is color. Psychologists say color affects the emotions more than any other factor in dress.

As long as its intensity, its balance, are not upset or diminished, color will work unfailingly on the emotions.

It all comes down, Helen, to these two simple rules:

ONE: Wear the colors which suit you best; and

TWO: Keep those colors fresh and new and vital, just as you keep your things clean and dainty.

The difficulty is that some women use an ordinary "good" soap, but it is not good enough, for just a little of the color pigment goes from the fabric.

But there is a famous product especially made to take out dirt without disturbing the colors. That is the well-known Lux. If a color is safe in plain water alone, sparkling, bubbling Lux suds will preserve all of its original magnetism. Lux has literally brought romance into the lives of many thousands of girls.

ELINOR GLYN.

THE SECRET OF CLOTHES APPEAL

SUING GRANDMA TO KNOW TODAY WHAT PRICE LOVE

Sealed Verdict Returned in $250,000 Case.

New York, April 9.—[Special.]—Charles F. Harman, the 67 year old millionaire sued for $250,000 by Miss Adelaide Lean, 58 year old grandmother, for breach of promise to marry, heard himself described today "as a mother's boy who, at the age of 60 and past, thought it was time to marry."

He sat unmoved, calmly twirling the waxed tips of his gray mustache as John Kirkland Clark, counsel for Miss Lean, applied this description to him in his summation to the jury.

The jury retired at noon and some hours later returned a sealed verdict which will be opened tomorrow.

In his summation to the jury Charles Griffith, counsel for the millionaire, made the plea that Miss Lean, by taking off a ruby-eyed, gold serpent ring a few days after Harman had given it to her, plainly indicated that she did not consider it an engagement ring. She had testified that she prized it as a symbol of her betrothal.

"Gold Digger," He Shouts.

The lawyer branded the suit as an attempt on the part of Miss Lean and her 70 year old friend, Mrs. Lena Turner of the Hotel McAlpin, to share in Harman's wealth.

"These two women were constantly throwing themselves in Harman's way," he told the jury. "They either waited just outside his suite in the Waldorf or just outside the door of his broker's office in the hotel. They were anxious to meet him. They were gold diggers, silver grabbers, and Harman was their target."

Mr. Clark indignantly denied that his client was a gold digger or a silver grabber.

"To call my client or her friend, Mrs. Turner, gold diggers and silver grabbers," said Mr. Clark, "brands the defense interposed here as utterly unworthy.

Just a Mother's Boy.

"He was a mother's boy. He had never been married before, but he was well along and thought the time had come when he should try marriage. He had no other friends except my client. They are both elderly people. If they were engaged in 1922 but did not think of marriage until 1927 it was not strange.

"They were mature, quite advanced in years, with plenty of time and they did not wish to rush into marriage like the flaming youth of today."

Mr. Clark added that his client had never pressed Harman to set a date for marriage.

HEAR PETITIONS FOR ELIMINATING GRADE CROSSINGS

Th first hearing on the effort of north shore communities to compel the Chicago and North Western and the Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee railroads to eliminate 32 grade crossings at an estimated cost of $30,-000,000, was held yesterday by the Illinois commerce commission at Springfield.

The hearing was confined to a question of jurisdiction and involved only the petitions of Kenilworth, Winnetka, Glencoe, and Highland Park, asking for the elimination of 22 crossings. If the commission decides that it has jurisdiction in the case, the petition of Wilmette for the elimination of 10 other crossings will be incorporated with those of the other communities.

Attorneys for the railroad argued that while the commission has the power to order a single crossing eliminated, it does not have the authority to compel either elevation or depression of tracks as a whole.

Contest Dropped, Kegels Adopt Child, 3 Years Old

Robert Arnold Herron Kegel, 3 years old, was legally adopted yesterday by Dr. and Mrs. Arnold H. Kegel. The action was approved by Judge John Biggs, assistant to County Judge Jarecki. The adoption was not opposed by the boy's father, Lawrence Herron, a law student at Loyola university, who dismissed a petition to contest the adoption last week. The child has been in the custody of the Kegel's since September, 1927, when Herron was divorced. Health Commissioner Kegel and Mrs. Kegel brought the child into court.

CANADA PARLIAMENT O. K.'S WORLD COURT AS WAR ARBITRATOR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., April 9.—Both houses of Canadian parliament, senate and commons, simultaneously today passed resolutions formerly declaring Canada's acceptance of the principle of compulsory arbitration of international disputes as set forth in the protocol of the permanent court of international justice at Geneva. Parliament also accepted the protocol agreeing to the adhesion of the United States under the specified American reservations.

Parliamentarians in both houses lauded the court and the league of nations. Commons spokesmen, particularly Charles H. Cahan, Montreal, Conservative, and Henri Bourassa, Quebec, Liberal, expressed fervent hope that the United States would agree to compulsory arbitration of all international disputes arising on the American continent. For, said Mr. Cahan, with Mr. Bourassa agreeing, there wasn't the slightest hope of Canada being able to enforce any of her rights which might be transgressed by the mighty republic.

Mr. Bourassa declared that the best service Great Britain could render in respect to North American affairs was that she keep out of conflict with the United States.

"COIN" HARVEY GAINS IN FIGHT WITH PNEUMONIA

Rogers, Ark., April 9.—(AP)—W. H. "Coin" Harvey, 83, financial writer and builder of a "posterity pyramid" near his home, is seriously ill with pneumonia here, but his condition was slightly improved today.

Harvey is credited in some quarters with having brought William Jennings Bryan into prominence as an advocate of "free silver."

He broke into prominence again recently by announcing that the "posterity pyramid" would be filled with products of the present civilization to be preserved for posterity.

GERMANY NABS 3 RUSSIANS IN PLOT TO UPSET STATE

Soviet Breach May Sever Diplomatic Ties.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, April 9.—Three employés of the Russian trade bureau were arrested today charged with participating in a conspiracy to overthrow the German republic. Their arrest is considered to be new proof that Russia is violating her agreement not to try to undermine the government of a country which recognizes her.

The arrests followed the discovery of several secret Red printing plants where leaflets have been turned out by the thousand.

Try to Subvert Army.

Part of these incendiary pages were directed at the police in an attempt to subvert them and part were addressed to the reichswehr. One issue of the latter said: "Comrades of the reichswehr, the Red army is marching to make a path for you."

Among the three trade bureau employés arrested, one named Vorgbert was found to hold down regular jobs both at the soviet trade bureau and at the Karl Liebknecht house, which is the communist headquarters for Germany.

This incident is analogous to the "Arcos" case in London in which the soviet trade delegation carried on active propaganda to communize England.

The British police in May, 1927, raided the headquarters of "Arcos," the Russian trade bureau, and the evidence seized caused Britain to outlaw Russia. Diplomatic relations were not renewed until October, 1929, by Mr. MacDonald's Labor government.

CREAKY WAGONS AGAIN TO TRAVEL ON OREGON TRAIL

Departure of First Train to Be Re-enacted.

St. Louis, Mo., April 9.—(AP)—Creaking wheels of ten covered wagons were oiled today and leather jackets, squirrel caps, and other articles reminiscent of pioneer days were borrowed from historical societies and relic collectors for the reënactment tomorrow of the departure of the first wagon train over the Oregon trail.

When 81 hardy frontiersmen left the Mississippi river bank at St. Louis for the unexplored west on April 10, 1830, they blazed a trail, the fame of which never has faded. Tomorrow the start of that first trek will be relived and a reproduction of the first expedition will set out from near the river front and will rumble westward.

Cattle to Be in Train.

As the cavalcade assembles at the old St. Louis courthouse at 2 p. m. ready to start over the trail, a pageant will reproduce the scene of 100 years ago. Half a hundred persons, most of them women dressed in costume, will bid members of the party goodby. Cattle and an ox will add to the portrayal.

The reconstructed wagon train, composed of 81 men in typical pioneer dress, some riding in covered wagons and in two oldtime buggies and others riding horses and mules, will travel five miles through the streets of St. Louis to Forest Park.

The expedition will carry a message of greeting from Gov. H. S. Caulfield, of Missouri, to Gov. A. W. Norblad, of Oregon. When the wagon train disperses, a motor car will speed the message to Lambert field, and a mail plane will carry it on to Salem, Ore., covering a distance in hours that it took the wagon trains weeks to travel.

Dine at Trading Post.

As colorful as the pageant dipicting the departure of the expedition will be the pioneer dinner Thursday night. Four hundred and fifty persons, some of them dressed in frontier day costumes, are expected to attend. The banquet room will be transformed into a trading post. Furs and relics will be hung on the walls, tables will be of rough wood, and the menus will be printed on mole skins. The dinner, the principal dish of which will be venison, will be served by waiters in costumes of the period.

Descendants of early settlers are to be present.

Dr. Howard R. Driggs, of Columbia university, president of the National Oregon Trail association, will speak at the dinner, and a speech by Senator Harry B. Hawes, of Missouri, broadcast from Washington, D. C., will be heard by the diners. Senator Charles McNary, of Oregon, will introduce Senator Hawes. Old time music and Indian songs will be other features of the program.

Pageant to Be Presented.

After the dinner, Boy Scouts will present a pageant, "The Spirit of the Oregon Trail," in which nearly 150 characters will portray historical events.

Tomorrow's celebration will mark the beginning of "The Covered Wagon Centennial," sponsored by the Oregon Trail association and approved by President Hoover, who set aside the period from April 10 to Dec. 29 for its observance. Celebrations will be held in other cities along the trail this summer and fall.

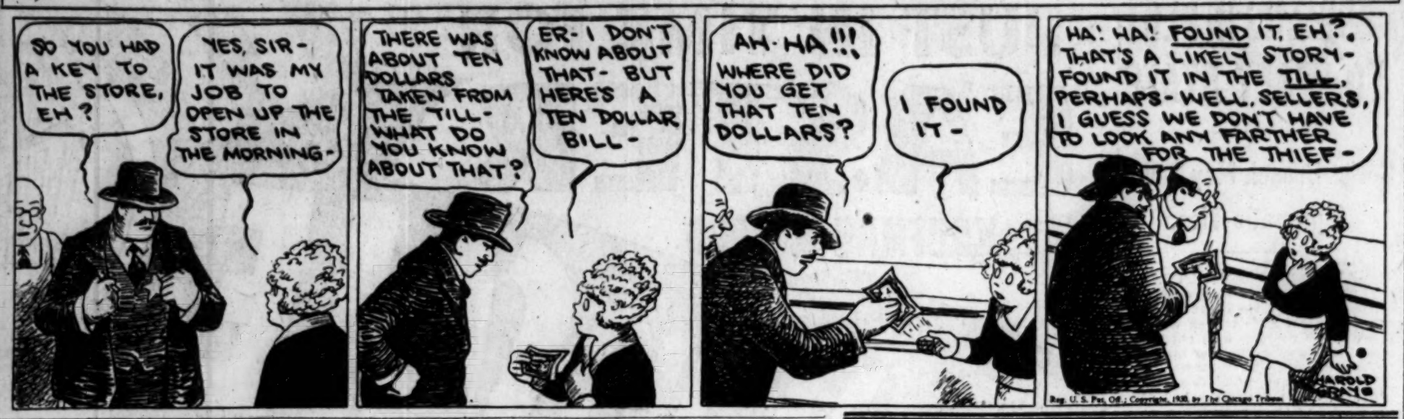
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: A Clear Case



2½ MILES APART, TALK BY PHONE, SEE EACH OTHER

Test Gives Glimpse Into Future.

New York, April 9.—(AP)—The telephone of the future was revealed for a moment today in the first practical demonstration of the two-way television by the American Telephone and Telegraph company.

Seated comfortably in rooms that bore little resemblance to the ordinary telephone booths, users of the device, described as the "iconophone," looked each other in the eye as they conversed, two and one-half miles apart.

It was a demonstration of the progress the Bell Telephone laboratories have made in approaching the day when telephone users will be able to see the person at the other end of the line.

How It Operates.

The prospective conversationalist entered an anteroom where sat Miss Ruth Clough of Rutherford, N. J. She was the television operator at one end of the line located in the Bell laboratories, which, through five special wire circuits, was connected to the telephone company's building farther away than one would care to walk.

Told to sit at ease in a chair facing a screen and talk in an ordinary tone, the novice was thrilled to see, on a screen level with the eyes, an image of the owner of the voice which was coming into the booth. No telephone was visible, for it consisted of a microphone and a loud speaker hidden behind the screen which concealed the television apparatus. One just talked, looked, listened, and acted naturally.

A Telephone Introduction.

At the other end of the line during this particular discussion of things not important enough to record, was Allen Smith, New York newspaper man. The speakers congratulated themselves for participating in what they told each other was the first introduction by television of persons who never had met.

Each left feeling that if he ran across the other on the street that he would have no trouble in picking him out.

The pictures was sharp and clear, with only an occasional flicker. The booth was bathed with orange colored light, and the scanning beam which picked up a copy of the features of the speaker, was a blue ray, not bothersome to the eyes, as was the strong light of earlier television systems.

REVEAL WALES IS MOTHER'S BOY ON ALL BUT NUPTIALS

LONDON, April 9.—(AP)—The statement that the prince of Wales has implicit confidence in the judgment of his mother on every subject except marriage is contained in a new unofficial biography of Queen Mary, which contains many stories about the royal family.

The queen, the writer says, would like to see her eldest son married as a prospect for a direct heir to the throne, but thus far her efforts to persuade the prince to take a wife have been in vain. The book was written by Mrs. Charlotte Cavendish, widow of a colonel in the British army. It was not submitted to the queen before publication.

One of the stories related in the book is that the duke of York proposed several times before he finally was accepted by the present duchess. It is related further that the queen encouraged him to make the final attempt, urging "faint heart ne'er won fair lady," and that he took his mother's advice with happy results.

KING OF SWEDEN WEEPS AT RITES FOR DEAD QUEEN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, April 9.—An impressive ceremony at the German Evangelical church here marked this morning's funeral services for Queen Victoria of Sweden, who died in Rome last Friday. The king and queen of Italy, Prince Philip of Hesse, Princess Giovanna, Premier Mussolini, members of the Fascist party and diplomatic corps were present at the rites, during which King Gustaf was seen to be weeping, while seated between Prince William of Sweden, his second son, and his granddaughter, Princess Ingrid.

A Swedish pastor from Paris recited the service. The music included selections from Handel and Veracini besides a German melody the late queen loved so well. At the end of the ceremony the Italian royalty bade farewell to King Gustaf, who insisted on lending his arm to Queen Helena of Italy to the church exit. A hearse, drawn by four horses, bore the coffin to the central station where the Swedish royal train was waiting.

The train carrying the remains of Queen Victoria and her husband and son as well as other members of the royal family pulled out of the Rome station early this afternoon, bound for the German port of Swinemunde, where it is due Friday. The Swedish warships, Drothning and Victoria, are to cast lots for the honor of bearing the queen's body home from the Baltic port.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 9.—George Ullman, who in Rudolph Valentino's lifetime was his business manager and who has been administrator of the Valentino estate, today filed a report in the Probate court. It showed the estate originally was valued at $800,000. The total claims were $551,346. Nearly one-third of that was covered by cash Ullman advanced to the three heirs of Valentino, and sums paid for legal and other services.

NATURAL 100% BRAN FAVORED BY DOCTORS

83% of Group of Physicians Express Preference

Every man or woman who suffers from atonic constipation will find really helpful advice in the words of this group of physicians.

Not long ago ten thousand doctors were asked this question, "Do you believe that raw, natural 100% bran is the best form of bran for the relief of constipation?"

83% of the answers were "Yes."

Here is expert opinion. Do you suffer from bowel irregularity resulting from intestinal sluggishness? Are you troubled with headaches, lassitude, sleeplessness, nervousness, sallowness, loss of vitality, and the increased susceptibility to serious disease which result from constipation? You need natural 100% bran. Your grocer has it—Pillsbury's Bran, natural 100% bran, nothing added, nothing taken away.

Pillsbury's Bran supplies the roughage which is so necessary nowadays. Primitive man had roughage in his ordinary diet, and had no constipation. Modern man should add roughage to his soft food—should add it every day.

Pillsbury's Bran is roughage in a most effective form. You can use it to prepare many delicious foods—muffins, tea cakes, apple cake, macaroons, doughnuts, etc.—recipes are on the Pillsbury package. You can sprinkle it over salads, or mix it with cereals. You can eat it as it comes from the package with cream and sugar. No matter how you use Pillsbury's Bran, you may be sure you are getting the right kind of bran—natural 100% bran, recommended by this overwhelming majority of physicians.

Brighter Days!

You need not punish a sluggish system with purgatives that do violence. Just chew a pleasant Cascaret before bedtime. Next morning you'll be a new person. Candy Cascarets are made from cascara—which doctors say actually strengthens the bowel muscles. So their action is always beneficial. They clear up a stubborn, bilious, headachy and constipated condition every time. You awake with coating gone from tongue; with eyes brightened; breath sweetened; appetite on edge. For a bright morning, try a Cascaret tonight. Then you'll know why 20 million boxes are used every year.

EXPERT TRACES FATAL BULLETS TO PURVES' GUN

CRIMINAL COURT.

Norman Greene, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life in Pontiac reformatory by Judge Harry Fisher.

The state called Col. Calvin Goddard, ballistics expert, yesterday to assist in its case against Melville Purves, former business agent for the Sign Painters and Bulletin Board Hangers' union, who is on trial before Judge Daniel P. Trude in the Criminal court for the murder of Edward J. Tracey, his successor as business agent for the union. Assistant State's Attorney Walker Butler, who is prosecuting the case, found himself with only one actual eye witness, a policeman, although more than 100 young men and women were crowded into the Club Arlington, 2418 West North avenue, on the morning of Nov. 24, 1929, when the killing occurred.

Traces Bullets to Gun.

Col. Goddard said he had determined that the bullets taken from the body of Tracey were fired from a revolver taken from Purves on the street, almost immediately after the murder. He said his microscopic examinations showed that the two bullets taken from Tracey's body bore the same rifling marks as two other bullets fired later from the revolver taken from Purves.

"You experts do not always agree on your findings, do you?" asked Attorneys Harold Levy and Emmet Byrne for the defense. The witness admitted this to be a fact.

"In a case in Edwardsville, Ill., you refused, did you not, to testify for the state because your scientific findings did not correspond with those of one of your former pupils?" the defense counsel asked.

"That is correct," replied Goddard.

Bring Surprise Witnesses.

The remainder of the session yesterday was taken up by surprise witnesses for the state. Attorneys Levy and Byrne objected because their names were not submitted as witnesses before the trial. The judge, however, ruled that they might testify. The witnesses were celebrating a Notre Dame football victory at the club, where the killing occurred. None of them, however, identified the defendant as the slayer. Among the witnesses were two young attorneys, John Kelly, 4613 Woodlawn avenue, and William L. Daley, 4208 Sheridan road. Thomas Fitzgerald, 1239 Foster avenue, was another member of the party.

Judge Trude and his personal physician, Dr. French Cary, hurried to the Criminal Courts building last night when it was reported one of the jurors was ill. Dr. French found the illness was merely a slight indisposition and said the jury member would be able to appear in the courtroom when the trial is resumed today.

"Abie," Who Loved Rose in Play, Dies After Holdup

New York, April 9.—(AP)—Brooklyn police disclosed Tuesday that Edward Whitmore Morgan, 42, who for several years played the role of Abie in "Abie's Irish Rose" when the show was on the road, died Sunday night from injuries presumably inflicted by holdup men. His stage name was Ted Gibson.

BRUENING HANDS OUT ULTIMATUM ON BEER WAR TO BAVARIANS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, April 9.—Chancellor Heinrich Bruening late tonight served an ultimatum on the Bavarian People's party in the "beer war" over the proposed increase in the beer tax. He demanded that the Bavarians must agree to a 50 per cent raise in the tax by tomorrow noon or he would dissolve the reichstag because, he said, without an increase in revenues from a beer tax the government cannot make both ends meet.

President von Hindenburg also ordered the chiefs of the Bavarian People's party to report to him this afternoon. He severely reprimanded them for starting the "beer war" and endangering the new government and Germany's finances for the sake of a 4 cent increase in a quart of beer.

Herr Scheffer and other Bavarian leaders promised to try to induce Munich to back down and agree to accept the 50 per cent increase.

TIFF OF LOVERS ENDS IN DEATHS OF DOCTOR, GIRL

Physician and Office Aid Found Slain.

New York, April 9.—[Special.]—A sweetheart's quarrel, a hasty shot, and suicide—thus the police reconstructed the background of the discovery today of the bodies of Dr. Maxwell Berkeley Allen, a 32 year old physician of the fashionable Sutton place district, and Florence La Pelle, his 26 year old office assistant, in the doctor's apartment-office.

The physician's brother, Dr. Gustav Adlerburg of Brooklyn—Dr. Allen had his name changed from Max Adlerburg—at first suggested double murder and spoke of a jealous, discarded woman, but later concurred in the police theory.

The police came in response to a call from Miss Evelyn Burns, telephone operator in the Wickersham exchange.

Police believe the doctor after shooting the girl had telephoned for aid and then finding the girl was dead, killed himself.

Slight Temblors Shake California and Nevada

San Francisco, Cal., April 9.—(AP)—Slight earth temblors were reported from several points in central and eastern California and western Nevada this afternoon. The University of California seismograph at Berkeley recorded a slight shock at 1:57 p. m. "not far away." Dishes and windows were rattled, but no damage was reported.

Chandeliers and doors swung, window panes creaked, and dishes rattled at Stockton, Cal. A slight tremor was felt at Sacramento. The towns of Carsonville and Minden were shaken in Nevada.

U. S. FLYER WANTED TO USE AIRPLANE HE KNEW WOULD CRASH

Washington, D. C., April 9.—(AP)—How he planned to make a start in Schneider cup races, off the English coast last fall, even though tests en route to the starting line proved his Mercury racer would crash in the attempt, was told by Lieut. Alford J. Williams, racing pilot, before a senate committee.

Williams said he pleaded with naval authorities for the opportunity to take the risk, rather than admit to the world that his ship, the only American entry, would not fly.

"I wanted to go to the races and make a start," Williams said. "If I found on the way that the ship would not fly, I had the opportunity to crack it up in a start—and in the back of my mind was the thought that I would do that instead of admitting that the ship would not fly."

American Business Record-Breakingly Selects Cosmopolitan

A YEAR ago Calvin Coolidge chose Cosmopolitan as the magazine to publish the story of his life . . . a work that was an inspiring history of our times, and a noble record of progress from humble beginnings to the greatest office the American people can bestow.

Today, Calvin Coolidge confirms his original choice of Cosmopolitan as a means of speaking to the intelligent families of America.

The judgment of American business leaders coincides emphatically with that of Mr. Coolidge in selecting Cosmopolitan.

16 consecutive issues have shown a gain in advertising linage and revenue—an unparalleled record among large monthly magazines.

June Cosmopolitan is the largest in advertising linage of any issue in the history of the magazine.

It beat its great record made the previous month, for May Cosmopolitan was up to that time the largest in advertising linage and revenue in Cosmopolitan's history.

We speak from knowledge when we predict that 1930 will be Cosmopolitan's most prosperous advertising year . . . what was a trend on the part of American business toward Cosmopolitan is now a habit.

Since halitosis never announces itself to the victim, you simply cannot know when you have it.

Get rid of halitosis—it may get you fired

What kind of people do employers like to have around them? Certainly not people with halitosis (unpleasant breath). You can't blame a man for firing an employee with halitosis to hire one without it.

Don't fool yourself that you never have halitosis. It's impossible for you to know when you are a victim. Don't take the chance. Keep yourself continually on the safe and polite side by daily rinsing the mouth with Listerine, the safe antiseptic.

Being an active germicide capable of killing 200,000,000 germs in 15 seconds, full strength Listerine checks mouth fermentation and infection—both a cause of odors. Then it gets rid of the odors themselves; it is an instant deodorant.

N. Y. FINDS REAL PRIVATE HOME IN FIZZLING FIFTIES

In Fact the Owner Had to Label It.

New York, April 9.—[Special.]—A sociological note on the congestion of speakeasies in the fizzling fifties was contributed to the records of the state Supreme court today through the instrumentality of Harry K. Thaw. There is, however, one private residence in West 53d street between Fifth and Sixth avenues and the tenant has been compelled to advertise the fact or employ a doorman.

This discovery was brought to the attention of Justice Aaron J. Levy by Paul McCauley, attorney for Mr. Thaw, when the lawyer asked for the setting aside of a $25,000 verdict awarded last year to Marcia Estardus, night club hostess, who alleged she was beaten by Thaw.

Thaw operatives, treading the wet, wet trail in the interest of their eccentric master, discovered that the occupant of the private house in the block had to tag his door to get a good night's sleep. The sign tacked to the door read :

"This is a private house."

DRIVER CHASED BY POLICEMAN KILLS HIMSELF

New York, April 9.—[Special.]—Arnold D. Beckermann, an employé of the importing firm of Beckermann & Co., committed suicide today rather than surrender to a patrolman pursuing his automobile along the Heathcote road, Scarsdale.

Beckermann, as the officer's car gradually closed in on him, suddenly stopped his machine, and shot himself through the head with a small caliber revolver. He was slumped over the steering wheel, dead, when the policeman came alongside.

On the seat of the car lay the pistol from which one shot had been fired. Beckermann apparently pulled the trigger with his right hand, as he guided his automobile to the curb with his left.

GOVERNMENT STARTS SUITS TO PADLOCK 2 HOTELS IN NEW YORK

New York, April 9.—(AP)—Suits to padlock the Cornish Arms hotel or "such parts thereof as the court may determine" and to padlock the grill and 16 guest rooms of the hotel manager were begun in federal court today by Charles H. Tuttle, United States attorney. The suits are the outgrowth of recent raids on the hotels by federal prohibition agents.

The agents had stayed at the hotels several days as guests and charged that bellboys had acted as intermediaries for bootleggers and often delivered liquor themselves.

"It is hard for any hotel management, however well informed, to protect itself when government agents entice bellboys and waiters with bribes and heavy tips to violate the law," read an announcement by attorneys.

Find Purse Dropped from Airplane Last Autumn

Richmond, Ind., April 9.—[Special.]—Last fall Mrs. E. G. Milne, New York, flying over Richmond via T. A. T., dropped her purse out into the air. Today it was found by two small boys where it had lain in a neighbor's yard, neglected because it was regarded worthless. It contained $130.36.

HOG ISLAND YARD OF SHIP FAME TO BE BIG TERMINAL

Philadelphia, Pa., April 9.—(AP)—Hog Island, the greatest shipyard in the world in time of war, is planned to become one of the greatest air-marine-rail terminals in the United States in time of peace.

After much dickering between Philadelphia and Washington, the federal government, through the United States shipping board, has agreed to sell the world war shipyard site to the municipality for $3,000,000.

Slowly decaying since it made its great wartime record in the building of ships, Hog Island is to be transformed into a great terminal, according to present plans, where ocean steamships, trans-Atlantic ships of the air, and transcontinental trains and airplanes may load and unload passengers and cargoes.

The total area involved in the purchase is 946 acres. Of this 307 acres will be used for the airport, 70 as a seaplane base, and 569 for the marine and rail terminal.

HOSE VICTORY CHEERS BUSH'S MARCHING CLUB

Caraway Shuts Out N. Y. in 8th, 9th.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Indianapolis, Ind., April 9.—[Special.]—A one hit ball game was Ol' Red Faber's contribution to Donie Bush's homecoming celebration here this afternoon. One hit is what those slugging New York Giants got off our patriarch in seven innings of a ball game which ended in an 8 to 1 victory for the Chicagoans. And that was all the Giants got, for Pat Caraway finished and didn't give up a blow.

RED FABER.

It was a Chicago boy who made the no New York hit. Freddie Lindstrom got a single with one out in the fourth inning. So it was pretty much a Chicago-Indianapolis party.

Jolley Muffs Fly.

Two errors at the start of the game spoiled Red of a shutout. Reese, batting for New York at the start of the game, sent a fly to J. Smead Jolley, which J. Smead muffed to the extent that Andy reached second. Cissell then booted Leach's grounder, Reese taking third. Lindstrom hit into a double play and Terry flied to Reynolds. From then on, save for that Lindstrom single, and a walk by Caraway in the ninth, the Giants were utter strangers to first base.

As a result of Ol' Red's ruthless exploit this afternoon the proud men of McGraw must sweep the remaining four Giants-Sox games to win the spring series, for the tabulation now is eight victories for the Sox to five for the National leaguers. The game was the third in as many days that Bush's charges have thrashed the McGraw pupils, and was the most decisive game of the spring.

Cissell Starts It.

For a long time it appeared that Red might star in vain, for Freddie Fitzsimmons was a pretty wicked fellow himself and had our nine shut out for four innings, mostly because of two devastating double plays which he started personally as a part of his eight assists. But in the sixth, seventh, and eighth innings the Giants blew up, causing derisive laughter from the stand reserved for the Owen Joseph Bush Marching and Pleasure club of Marion county, Ind.

In the sixth Cissell doubled with one out and scored when Reynolds also doubled. Jolley lined to Leach. Shires seemed content to let the score be tied at 1 to 1 when he sent an easy grounder to Terry, but Big Bill's mind was elsewhere, and the thing got away, Reynolds stopping at third and Shires at first. Watwood walked, filling the bases, then Fitzsimmons, utterly distressed, committed a wild pitch and Reynolds came in with what would have been enough to win the contest.

Sox Score on Errors.

The Sox really were a little greedy in the seventh. They made four runs on errors by Marshall and Fitzsimmons and hits by Reynolds, Jolley, Shires, and Kamm. And, by the way, the Kamm hit was his third of the afternoon, which indicated Willie has improved these last few days.

Two more runs were added in the eighth. Jefferies batted for Faber and walked, went to second on Smith's sacrifice bunt and scored on Cissell's second high calibered hit, a triple to right center. Spider Bill came in on Reynolds' sacrifice fly to Leach.

Bush Gets Flowers.

In addition to the aforementioned derisive laughter contributed by the Owen Joseph Bush Marching and Pleasure club of Marion county, Indiana, the organization added to the festivities of the homecoming by presenting Mr. Bush with a floral horseshoe exactly twice as high as Donie is himself. In addition many neighbors sent him potted geraniums, etc.

The two clubs will play again tomorrow at Fort Wayne. Dutch Henry will pitch for Chicago and Hubbell is the probable choice of Mr. McGraw.

DAWSON QUITS PINEHURST GOLF; STATUS IN DOUBT

U. S. G. A. Questions His Amateur Standing.

Pinehurst, N. C., April 9.—[Special.]—John Dawson of Chicago, who tied with C. Ross Somerville of London, Ont., for the medal yesterday in the qualifying round of the north and south amateur golf championship, withdrew today because of a question concerning his status as an amateur golfer.

Dawson was scheduled to enter the match play round this afternoon against J. T. Hunter of North Adams, Mass., but after attending a session of the tournament committee at which William C. Fownes Jr., former president of the United States Golf association and one of Pinehurst's winter residents, was present he decided to drop out of the play.

Mr. Fownes advised the committee of the United States Golf association's opinion that Dawson was not eligible to compete in amateur competitions because he is employed by a sporting goods house.

What Rule Says.

The U. S. G. A. ruling on amateurs states that an "amateur golfer is one who, after attaining the age of 18 years, has not, because of his skill as a golfer, received a salary or remuneration, either directly or indirectly, from any firm dealing in goods relating to the playing of the game."

This golfing resort, which has seen veterans come and go and watched the stars from Harry Vardon on down the line play over its links, talked of little else than Dawson's case today.

There was no official U. S. G. A. action concerning Dawson's withdrawal. Mr. Fownes stated he had no communication with the ruling body of the game, except a personal note from the secretary.

Similar Trouble in 1929.

Mr. Fownes, who is a member of the rules committee of the U. S. G. A. and a former national amateur champion, said the letter, although it mentioned the attitude of the U. S. G. A. concerning Dawson, was entirely personal and that his action in discussing Dawson's case with the tournament committee simply was to have Dawson's status defined for the best interests of all concerned.

Dawson entered the United States championship amateur at Pebble Beach, Cal., in 1929, but after a discussion concerning his status, he withdrew.

ROCKNE JOVIAL; UNDERGOES TESTS AT MAYO CLINIC

Rochester, Minn., April 9. — (AP) — Knute, Notre Dame football coach, in jovial mood after his long journey from the beaches of Florida to Minnesota, entered Mayo clinic today and underwent a number of tests, the first of a complete physical examination.

Examination of Rockne will not be completed for perhaps a week, and his departure from here will be determined by the diagnosis, depending upon the length of the treatment. Rockne said he was prepared to stay for the remainder of the summer if necessary, to effect a complete cure and be in shape to take over the reins of active coaching next fall.

10,000 Seats to Be Added to Ross-Ade Bowl This Year

Lafayette, Ind., April 9.—The Ross-Ade stadium of Purdue university, which has been in use since 1924, only partially completed, will receive the finishing touches during the summer. This was the verdict of university trustees and directors of the Ross-Ade foundation who held their quarterly meeting at Purdue today. The new work will give the stadium nearly 10,000 more seats, making a total of 23,300, and will cost approximately $70,000.

PERFECT START OUT OF A NEW GATE

With inventors springing up in all parts of the country to provide a starting device for horse races, owners of the different tracks are bewildered with the problem of selecting the best one. The above start, and it was good, as you can see, was made out of the permanent stall gate now in use at the Bowie track in Maryland. The Bahr gate, the Waite gate, the Cassidy gate, and many other gates of different makes are on the market. Chicago tracks have adopted the Bahr gate after it successfully met different tests here last season. It has an overhead contraption not evident in this new Bowie gate. (Race news on page 26.)

STATUS IN DOUBT

JOHN DAWSON.

There's No Justice Even in Amateur Wrestling Tourneys

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 9.—Karre Krogh, a football player and wrestler who attended the University of Chicago until his graduation last year, was sent on to New York last week by A. A. Stagg to defend his title of 175 pound champion in the national amateur championship bouts at the New York Athletic club.

The National A. A. U. light heavyweight wrestling championship is a title of little or no interest outside a small group of wrestlers belonging to college and club teams, but the treatment to which Krogh was subjected on this occasion at the New York A. C. seems to have been much more harsh than that dealt Fainting Philip Scott, who was tapped on his left hip in the battle of the itching palms in Miami and thereupon uttered a squawk heard round the world.

Fainting Philip and his apologists misconstrued the gay indifference of the customers there as hostility to a stranger in their midst, but in the case of Krogh, wrestling before a partisan crowd, the hostility was official and he lost his title on a dubious ruling, prompted, to some extent, by an officer of the club with interests of his own to serve.

Disqualified with Minute to Go.

In the course of his bout with Glenn Stafford of the New York A. C., formerly of Cornell university, Krogh was disqualified by the referee, William Sheridan of Lehigh university, with the bout virtually won on points and with only one minute to go. The wrestlers had gone to the ropes and when Sheridan brought them to the center he awarded Stafford a leg hold but refused to allow Krogh a counter hold on Stafford's arm, to which he claimed he was entitled. The leg hold might have permitted Stafford to dump him on his spine for a fall and Krogh insisted that he had taken his counter hold before they were called off the ropes.

This was the overt act for which Sheridan finally disqualified Krogh, but before this Paul A. Spitler, vice chairman of the A. A. U. wrestling committee and chairman of the wrestling committee of the New York A. C., and thus a sort of noncombatant party to the bout, had harassed Krogh from the ringside and badgered the referee with prejudical demands that the visiting athlete be ruled out for roughing.

No Credit to New York A. C.

This, of course, was beyond the duties or privileges of the vice chairman of the A. A. U. wrestling committee and quite unseemly in the man who was striving to deliver the national team championship to the New York A. C. Last year the New York Athletic club's score was two third places in the national tournament and the winning of the team championship the next time out ordinarily would reflect honor on the chairman in charge of the effort.

I did not see the wrestling bouts, but I gather from the accounts of witnesses, including one authority of high prominence in amateur athletics, and from the routine newspaper accounts of the match that the rights of the visiting athlete were abridged in a manner that did no credit to the New York A. C.

"Every time Krogh touched Staf-

Bruins Start Four Game Series Today.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Kansas City, Mo., April 9.—Mainly because he was curious about the state of his cripples, Joe McCarthy borrowed the use of Muehlebach field for two hours this afternoon and sent the entire Cub squad through a workout that resembled the daily routine of a training camp.

While his able bodied and ailing athletes were mingling in various baseball poses, the manager of the champions saw things both surprising and disappointing. He was disappointed to see that there had been no improvement in Lester Bell's throwing arm during the two days consumed in travel from California. But he was agreeably surprised to learn there were no additions to the casualty list. The list now embraces Capt. Grimm, Bell, Hornsby and Beck, but there will be at least a few changes for the better within the next forty-eight hours.

Bell Still Unable to Throw.

McCarthy now is ready to admit that the possibility of employing Bell at third base when the season opens next Tuesday is about nil. The ex-Brave cannot throw any better than he could three weeks ago. The ailment is so persistent that Bell may discover he has pulled a tendon or thrown a muscle out of place. The arm was perfect when he finished with the Braves last fall, so something must have happened in the training camp.

When the series opens with the Blues here tomorrow, Beck, the only extra infielder present, will be given a job. He either will go to third or fill in at second, so that Blair can operate at the far corner. Beck still is bothered slightly by an injured finger, but he did well enough today in practice to indicate he will have no trouble in a game unless he should take another bump on his jammed digit.

Grimm Forgets Injury.

Capt. Grimm was on first base today while the so-called regular infield was working out, and he didn't act like a man with a cracked rib. Some of this indifference to his injury may have been due to the fact that he felt he was amply protected by the layer of adhesive tape stretched about his torso by Dr. Lotshaw, the tireless trainer. Grimm will be permitted to play his position about Saturday, so that makes one regular infielder for use in the season's opener.

Hornsby hasn't informed McCarthy when he intends to come over from his home at St. Louis, but the Rajah loves his baseball and can be counted upon to appear just as soon as he feels he won't be doing himself any harm. McCarthy expects him Saturday afternoon.

Root Hunts His Trunk.

The Cub boss, however, is none too sure about the real condition of Hornsby's heel. The Chicago doctor who rendered a decision in the case said the horns had not reappeared after the operation performed last winter. But the X-ray negative taken in Los Angeles showed positive signs of two fresh growths, and if the X-ray is correct there may be trouble later in the season.

Blake will do the hurling tomorrow and will stay on the job as long as he looks good. In the remaining three battle with the Kaws only regulars will be employed on the mound, at least as starters.

After practice today Charley Root went on the hunt for a missing trunk. It is reported to be somewhere between here and Los Angeles. Until it arrives the speed ball wizard will make daily purchases of fresh garments.

PIRATE HOLDOUT GOES TO BOSTON TO SWING DEAL

Receives Pittsburgh O. K. by Phone.

Boston, Mass., April 9.—(AP)—The trading of Burleigh Grimes, Pittsburgh pitcher, who has been a holdout all spring, to the Boston Braves for Percy Lee Jones, a left handed pitcher, and a "large cash consideration" was announced here tonight by Emil Fuchs, president of the Boston National League club.

BURLEIGH GRIMES.

Grimes, right handed ace of the Pirates' pitching staff, refused to join that club at the training camp this spring when his demands for a two year contract calling for a $20,000 salary were refused.

Braves' Second Largest Trade.

President Fuchs refused to give the exact figures of the cash consideration involved in the Grimes' deal, but said it was the second largest sum the Braves ever had paid for a ball player. Two years ago Fuchs said he gave the New York Giants $100,000 for Rogers Hornsby, whom he later traded to the Chicago Cubs.

Jones, the southpaw pitcher included in the deal, came from the Cubs in the Hornsby trade last year and had a poor season with the Braves.

The trade was made during a conference here between Grimes and President Fuchs. They came to an agreement with the Pittsburgh club by telephone.

Grimes went to Pittsburgh in 1928 from the New York Giants. It was his second connection with the Pirates he having been secured by Brooklyn from Pittsburgh in 1918. He was with Brooklyn until 1928, when he was sent to the Giants.

Won 17 Games Last Season.

The spitballer was one of the mainstays of the Pirates last year, winning 17 and losing 7 games. He was injured late in the season and was out of the game for several weeks, but finally recovered and took his place on the mound before the season closed.

Grimes was unable to come to terms with the Pirate management this year. A demand by the pitcher for a two year contract prevented negotiations from attaining a settlement. The club made known it was against policy to tender more than a one year contract to any player. Grimes also asked an increase in salary.

The veteran moundsman went into spring training at Hot Springs this spring after he could not agree on terms with the Pirates, who trained at Paso Robles, Cal. His last conference with President Barney Dreyfuss of the Pirates took place on Monday at Pirate headquarters. A club announcement that day said contract matters had not been discussed but that the conference concerned only Grimes' personal affairs.

Illini Sunday Ban on Tennis, Golf Lifted

Urbana, Ill., April 9.—[Special.]—Students enrolled in the University of Illinois will be permitted to play tennis and golf on university courts and courses on Sundays as a result of action taken by the board of trustees at its monthly meeting today. The student body's petition to the board of trustees last month led to the action.

George Huff, director of athletics, reported that all but seventy of the twenty-four institutions to which he had written for information allow some form of Sunday sports. Dean C. M. Thompson stated that there apparently was no opposition on the part of the dads' association and others with whom he had talked.

Misses 10 Pin; Angry, Hurls Chalk; It Falls

Chalk this up in the big book of bowling! Tom Lahr, rolling in a Chicago Western Electric league, needed a strike to win. He made a perfect one-three, but pin No. 10 refused to topple. In an outburst of disgust Lahr hurled the scorer's chalk down the alley and sent the pin sliding into the pit. Members of competing teams insisted on chalking up a strike for the bowler.

Schmeling Leaves Next Week for Sharkey Bout

New York, April 9.—(AP)—Max Schmeling will leave Germany for the United States either April 18 or 23 and resume training May 1 for his 15 round heavyweight match on June 12 at the Yankee stadium with Jack Sharkey, Schmeling's American manager, Joe Jacobs, made this announcement today.

IN THE WAKE OF THE NEWS

CALIFORNIA RACING.

TANFORAN track, near San Francisco, is now conducting a thirteen day race meeting. Its purpose, confessedly, is "educational"—to create sentiment for favorable legislative action by providing high class sport. Wagering is an "option" plan, with whose details we are not familiar, on the pari-mutuel order with some legal fiction to escape the gambling laws.

Agua Caliente has announced a summer meeting to begin July 4 and to close on Labor day, Sept. 1. Over the Mexican border, there is no need of legal fictions so the speculation is by mutuels.

Tanforan previously has offered a so-called betless meeting in the interest of racing. Agua Caliente's move, however, is an innovation. Whether it comes in response to demand for racing or whether it is intended merely to attract patronage to the casino adjunct, one cannot say from this distance.

This column, however, frequently has pointed out that interest of local sportsmen, who eventually buy racing strings, is essential to development of racing in any community and likewise to improve the class of horses competing.

Whether or not the purposes are the same, these two meetings indicate that California is nearing the point where it will join other states enjoying legislation permitting state supervised speculation.

ford's face the crowd would shout foul and yell to the referee to disqualify the Chicagoan," said the New York World. "Twice Mr. Spitler interrupted the bout to tell the referee that he should disqualify Krogh for roughing. Coach E. E. Brett of the University of Miami, an amateur wrestler himself, believed Krogh at no time fouled his opponent, and other disinterested parties agreed with him."

Seized Upon Act of Disobedience.

It can be argued that Sheridan, when he finally did rule off the defending champion, seized upon an act of disobedience for his justification, but the fact remains that Spitler actually disqualified his own man when he interfered with the referee's authority. The prerogatives of the vice chairman of the wrestling committee of the A. A. U. are unknown to me, and they may include the right to rap for attention with a walking stick, but I am assured that no vice chairman, nor even a full chairman, has any authority over a referee once a bout begins, except to relieve him for glaring malfeasance or incompetence.

To be sure, the boys concerned were only amateurs and sportsmen, and I seem to be creating great bother over an affair which cannot compare with a heavyweight prize fight in news importance. They were struggling with wild fury, as amateurs do, and there seems to have been no doubt that the contest was strictly on the level. All these considerations count against them in the calculation of their news importance, for the greatest interest attaches nowadays to prize fighters commanding the greatest possible prices for the least possible effort, preferably under the ethical dictation of politicians nad racketeers.

Perhaps I shouldn't have mentioned the matter, but, on the other hand, Mr. Brundage of the A. A. U. and the members of the New York A. C. might wish to reopen the case and run the bout over in some neutral clubhouse having an umbrella rack, where all chairmen, vice and otherwise, might check their walking sticks.

"Big Train" Places "John Henry" on Son's Plaster Cast

Washington, D. C., April 9.—(AP)—A space on the plaster casts which encase the broken legs of Walter Johnson Jr., son of the Washington Senators' present manager and former pitcher, was filled in today with the signature of his father—the famous "Big Train" of other days.

Walter Johnson Sr. left his baseball team in the south to come home today. It was the first time he had seen his son since the latter was run over by an automobile March 13 while roller skating. The 14 year old youngster wore a wide smile as the signature of one of baseball's most famous pitchers was being inscribed on the already liberally autographed casts.

Busy Season Starts Monday for Fighters

This leather pushing business promises acceleration beginning Monday night at White City. Jim Mullen has scheduled a pair of ten round fights, and in addition is bringing Shuffle Callahan back to the ring after a year's vacation.

All of which will keep the customers busy until the twenty-first, when Jack Dempsey offers Fidel la Barba and Bud Taylor at the Coliseum. Then comes the Tuffy Griffith battle at the Stadium April 30 against Jack Gagnon, who so inconsiderately stopped Tuffy recently at Philadelphia.

Ted Ross of South Chicago is paired with Jack Barry in one of the White City finals, and Ted Goodrich, Atlanta welterweight, meets Duke Tramel of Oklahoma City in the other. Mullen announces he hopes to secure Bill Hall to fight Shuffle Callahan. The last time Shuffle made the papers was in the course of an examination to discover whether he was "punch drunk" and more or less irresponsible in the ring. The verdict was not guilty.

Some of Chicago's amateur ring graduates have been called upon by Promoter Dempsey in support of the La Barba-Taylor fight. Paul Leberto, 1930 Golden Gloves bantamweight champion, will meet Joey Bosak, 1929 king. Joey has nine consecutive victories. The bout will be five rounds.

Frankie Almarez of national amateur fame and Sammy Levine also are scheduled for five rounds. It will be Levine's first professional attempt. Barney Ross, Golden Gloves featherweight who won his intercity bout last year, meets Eddie Kopy of Detroit. Solly Schuman and Jackie Stewart are booked for six rounds with two more fights yet to be announced.

Red Vickery, a fireman on the Illinois Central railroad, and Russ Buelick lead the boxing show tonight at the Viking arena, 69th street and Emerald avenue.

Nate Lewis of the Stadium originally planned a heavyweight supporting card for the Griffith-Gagnon fight. Finding there are not enough heavies inclined to do battle on that night, he now has switched to the lighter classes. Lewis has Joey Medill signed but can't seem to locate an opponent. Lewis has requested terms from Tony Canzoneri, Jack Berg, Al Singer, and Stanislaus Loayza.

CALMES FLOORS MADEY FOR TEN COUNT IN SIXTH

Fay Scores Three Round K. O. Over Reese.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Baxter Calmes, Wichita, Kas., heavyweight, stole the show at the Pavilion last night. The western fighter met Walter Madey, Chicago, in what was scheduled to be an eight round semi-windup to the press agented return of Al Fay. But the skill of Calmes, with his decidedly pleasing ring personality, took the edge from Fay's third round knockout of a Pittsburg, Kas., coal miner, Fred Reese.

Madey Jars Calmes.

Madey had his only chance of victory at the start of that round, for Calmes walked out of his corner into a right uppercut which nearly ended the fight. But Calmes worried through a bad thirty seconds on the ropes and that was that. On several occasions Calmes shifted to a left hand style and seemed to punch as well from that position as his orthodox manner. Then, too, for five rounds he declined to sit down between rounds, which amused a crowd already applauding his aggressiveness.

Madey went down for a no count in the third, caught a right to jaw for a nine count a bit later, and again was dropped in the fourth round. Two successive right crosses prepared the way for a similar blow which knocked out Madey after two minutes 21 seconds of the sixth round.

Al Fay was undermatched, his coal miner swinging 'em in roundhouse fashion. Al jabbed him with his left until it seemed Reese's head was on a pivot. At that a wild right to the body tumbled Fay to his keens just before the Kearns protégé swung the right upper cut which wrote finis to the fight in the third round.

Gibbons Stops Doran.

Nisse Ramm of Sweden proved too rugged for his Chicago compatriot, Joe Gorman.

Paul Leberto, Golden Gloves champion, outpointed Sorio Madamba in four rounds. Madamba went to the canvas for nine seconds in round two. Another Golden Glover, Harry Garbell of the 1929 team, did not do so well. Harold Brown, colored, won a close decision in four rounds.

Jim Mullen, promoter, said two thousand saw the card. The receipts were estimated at $3,000. Tom Gilmore divided the refereeing with Thomas.

Collins Rated as Greatest Second Baseman

(This is the fourth of a series of articles in which Irwin M. Howe discusses the ten players he considers best of those who have come under his observation in forty-two years of baseball writing.)

BY IRWIN M. HOWE.

After considering Fred Dunlap, Fred Pfeffer, Bobby Lowe, Lawrence Napoleon Lajoie, John Evers, and Rogers Hornsby I am compelled by all the laws of logic and reason to pass them all up and choose Eddie Collins as the best second baseman in my time.

As the leading member of two of the greatest teams ever assembled the name of Eddie Collins was a household word among fans for a score of years. Remarkable physical stamina, a driving resistless energy, keen mind, a sense of humor and a spirit of fair play that would have done credit to an amateur of any sport, supplementing rare mechanical ability were his outstanding characteristics.

Six times within a space of twelve years Collins' teams won the American league flag, and four times out of six they also took the world championship. In all these battles as well as in a half dozen more between the rival Chicago teams for the city championship, "Cocky" was an outstanding figure, usually the most prominent. Undoubtedly he was one of the greatest "money players" of all time, and, if a vote could be taken, confined to managers and veteran players, for the most valuable player of the last quarter century, Collins should win in a canter over everybody except Wagner.

Plays as a Regular for Eighteen Years.

In eighteen years of the twenty-four in which he has appeared in major league uniforms Collins was a regular and participated in nearly every game, whether championship, pre-season or post-season that his team played. Cobb is the only man who ever appeared in more major league games than Eddie. This endurance record is the more remarkable for the fact that during all his career Collins was handicapped to some extent by a weak throwing arm. Yet he became known early as a great defensive player.

Collins signed an American league contract after but three months' professional experience and thought so little of his chances as a major league player that he insisted the Philadelphia club should not "farm" or trade him to any minor league club but release him outright if he failed. One of the results of this agreement was that Eddie went to school as it were during the entire season of 1907. He had signed a contract with Mack in September, '06, and played six games. During the '07 season he appeared but three times in league games but was working hard every day and with the beginning of the 1908 season Collins took Dan Murphy's place at second base, Murphy moving to the outfield.

The .346 average placed him second in the league, Cobb being first.

In 1910 the first championship year of the new A's Collins batted .322 and stole 81 bases. For the next seven years he was Cobb's closest base running rival, and on Sept. 11, 1912, he stole six bases against Detroit and repeated against the Browns of St. Louis a few days later, Sept. 22. This record has not been equaled since 1894.

I have referred to Collins' resourcefulness as a fielder, in which he overcame to a considerable degree a natural handicap. In order to conserve his arm Collins learned to get the ball away like a flash and he also acquired the knack of making his short throws almost absolutely straight.

Collins Helps Abolish Freak Pitching Methods.

Collins had not been in the American league long before his influence could be felt. Almost imperceptible at first, it is true, but growing stronger with each passing year. Around second base umpires were careful. They did not like to be in a position where "Cocky" could criticize them. As a result of this confidence in his honesty in the matter of decisions he was instrumental in having the spit ball, emery ball, shine ball and other adventitious aids to pitching abolished by the American league.

The particular pitching incident that started the wheels of justice rolling occurred in New York. Now a giant recruit, Ray Keating, joined the Yankees. He was billed as a spit baller.

One day Keating started a game against the A's and fanned the first two batters on seven pitched balls. Collins was next and refused to take his place at bat until the umpire had examined the ball. The ump refused to do that until Collins had taken his turn at the plate. Eddie stood far away while the arbitrator called three strikes and then insisted on an examination of the ball. To his surprise, the umpire found the ball roughened and a piece of emery in Keating's glove. Shortly thereafter the first of the present restrictions were imposed.

Larry Lajoie was not only a better hitter than Collins, he was also a better fielder, probably the best that ever played second base. Rogers Hornsby is certainly a far greater slugger than Collins ever was and of the old timers Fred Dunlap, Fred Pfeffer, and Biddy McPhee outranked Cocky in some particulars. None of these great performers were Eddie's equal all round. He could hit better than most of them, run bases faster, and with better judgment than any, field fairly well, and excepting Pfeffer, was a minute ahead of all of them in thinking.

PREP MATMEN ENTER DIAMOND MIDWEST MEET

Tilden Technical High school wrestlers, city champions, will furnish most of the competition in this division of the Diamond Midwest amateur tourney which starts next Tuesday. Harrison Tech wrestlers also are entered.

Wisconsin leads in the number of wrestlers in the university-college class. Michigan's best light heavyweight also has entered the meet. The majority of the 300 entries which the A. A. U. committee now is classifying is in the open class. Chicago's playgrounds and parks have led in support of the tournament.

Elmhurst Cagers Elect Two Captains for 1930-'31

AMATEUR BOXING KINGS CROWNED IN BOSTON MEET

Boston, Mass., April 9. — (AP) — George Ostrow of Boston became the national 112 pound amateur boxing champion tonight by inflicting Anthony Farentelli of New Orleans with such terrific body punishment that the latter was unable to come out for the second round.

Able Miller brought the 118 pound championship to Los Angeles by outpointing Frankie Wallace of Cleveland, the junior national champion, in a furious final engagement. They battled evenly in the first, but Miller forged ahead in the second and third, though not enough to get a unanimous ruling.

Meyers Beats Astos.

The third national title, in the 126 pound division, went to New York when the experienced Ray Meyers outsmarted rugged and gritty Don Astos of Uniontown, Pa.

The lightweight title also went to New York when Alex Santora, a veteran in national amateur tourneys, barely edged George Parker of Buffalo, out of the decision with a last minute rally in the 135-pound final event. William Kenny of Chicago was beaten by Parker in the semi-finals.

Charlie Kelley of Boston, won the 147 pound championship from Joe Bernal of San Francisco, when the officials gave him a decision which the crowd jeered for several minutes.

Boston Wins Third Title.

The Boston team obtained its third championship when Ring Larsen gave Al Becker of Pittsburgh a terrific beating for the 160 pound title.

Frank Tucker of San Francisco subjected Frank Mills of Worcester to a terrific battering to succeed Martin Levandowski of Grand Rapids as the national 175 pound champion, Tucker, who fought in last year's tourney, chopped Mills with stinging rights and lefts to the head in the first.

Jack Pallat of Cleveland scored an impressive victory in gaining the national heavyweight crown. He flew at Sylvan Taylor at the opening bell and unleashed a heavy barrage of lefts and rights to the body and then finished the New York Negro with a terrific right hook to the jaw in less than a minute.

Antics of 70 Year Old Actor Make Michigan Track Candidates Gasp

Ann Arbor, Mich., April 9.—[Special.]—The appearance of a 70 year old actor, working out with Coach Steve Farrell's track team today, created the most excitement on Ferry field this year. The youthful septuagenarian is believed to be the oldest athlete ever to work out at Michigan. He is Everett Sylvester, and he gave Minneapolis as his home.

After watching the track activities, the man with the weatherbeaten face and generous thatch of gray hair asked Farrell if he could do some work. Farrell replied that he had nothing to do with hiring groundkeepers, and that brought forth the expostulation that the visitor wanted to run, not take care of the grounds.

Sylvester produced a pair of spikes from his hip pocket and trotted a quarter mile after warming up. He said he never had run until two years ago and that he hoped to equal his marks of :06 for the 50 and :11 for the 100 yard dash this spring when he got in shape again.

Until 15 years ago Sylvester was employed as a circus acrobat, he said.

HITCHCOCK SETS SPEEDY PACE AS REDS BEAT BLUES

Aiken, S. C., April 9.—[Special.]—After a slow start, Tommy Hitchcock and his Red polo team got the range of their opponents' goal and downed the Blue team, 9 goals to 3, in a match game this afternoon on Turner field.

The Blues began the game with a rush, scoring two goals before Hitchcock and his teammates could register. They made another score, which was destined to be their last, after Hitchcock and Butler had put two goals through the posts to tie the count for the Reds.

Then America's first polo player, with his team one goal behind, proceeded to shoot goal after goal, scoring six of them. The Blues were helpless before the attack, although they played valiantly.

The lineup:

Amateur Boxing

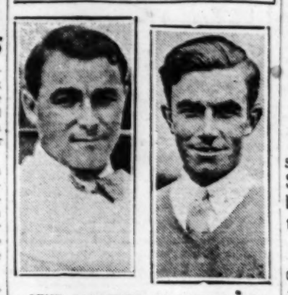
The Belle Plaine Athletic club has matched Dave Hendrickson, Swedish heavyweight, with Orvald Lavord in the feature bout of the show tonight. Frank Armanetti and Jack Brozak trade punches in the semi-windup.

Six amateur bouts and two mat matches are on the fronton program tomorrow night. George Shrosbree, Lake View High school star, and Pete Verri top the card.

Sixty-five boxers have entered the Du Page county tourney to be staged at Wheaton Friday and Saturday by Wheaton American Legion post No. 76. All bouts will be conducted in the Wheaton Community High school. Officials will include Jabber Young, who will referee final bouts Saturday.

Eight bouts have been arranged for the weekly boxing show at the Coulon club, 1154 East 63d street, Friday night. Joey Espinoza, Georgie Keenan, Eddie Chinski, and Mickey Prescott are among those who will appear on the card. Bouts start at 8:30 p. m.

STAY HOME



GENE SARAZEN. JOHNNY FARRELL.

New York, April 9.—(AP)—Johnny Farrell and Gene Sarazen have decided definitely not to join the golfing invasion of Great Britain this year. The two metropolitan stars have signed vaudeville contracts calling for appearances in Chicago and Detroit in May, thereby eliminating any prospect of a trip abroad in time for the British open championship, which begins June 16 at Hoylake.

Sarazen was runner-up to Walter Hagen in the 1928 British open and Farrell was second to "The Haig" last year. Some time ago Hagen, now in Australia, decided not to defend the British crown he has captured four times altogether.

Despite these defections, the American contingent will present a strong threat with Horton Smith and Leo Diegel, the professional stars, in addition to Bobby Jones, captain of the Walker cup golf team and present holder of the American open title.

If you buy enough pairs of $11 shoes you can sell them at $7.50, provided you are willing to take a smaller profit, and provided your selling costs are low enough. We buy more men's shoes than any other men's shoe store in America. We sell more, too, so we can afford to take a smaller profit—and it's certainly less expensive to do this tremendous business in a Dearborn Street location.

When our setup is so perfect, it's only good business for us to insist that our shoes must qualify for an $11 label before we sell them for $7.50. Chicago men think so, too—you should see the way they flock here!

JOE MARRONE III. RUNS OFF WITH BOWIE STAKE

Grey Coat Quits; Voltear Distanced.

Bowie, Md., April 9.—[Special.]—The consistent Joe Marrone III. kept up his good record in the Fairfax feature race here today, when he merely galloped to beat a field of five others.

Fresh from a campaign in Florida came Mrs. T. R. Queen's 8 year old to score the fifth victory in his last eight starts. Fit and strong, he carried 105 pounds, as much weight as others had in the race, and was fast enough at the end of a mile and a sixteenth to beat Cog Air by three lengths. A distant third finished Ormonbird, and then, in order, came Grey Coat and Voltear, two of the best of the 1929 3 year olds.

The race was one of the most speculative of the meeting, every horse being strongly supported. Cog Air, on the strength of good sprinting form here, opened as the favorite, but closed an outsider. Grey Coat, which opened the longest shot in the test, was at one time the public choice, although Joe Marrone III. closed favorite. He paid $6 and finished the route in 1:47.

Grey Coat beat Blue Larkspur in the Dwyer last year in one of the major upsets of the season, and for almost a mile of the Fairfax it looked as if he were going to score.

But going around the bend to the stretch turn Joe Marrone III. closed ground and, at the top of the stretch, he challenged Grey Coat. Either Grey Coat was merely out for a tight-ener or he is not the horse of a year ago, for he folded up and three of the four others in the race rushed past him.

FORD MOTOR CO. INDICATES NET OF 81 MILLIONS

Figures Show a Big "Comeback."

BY O. A. MATHER.

The Ford Motor company had one of its best years in 1929, staging an unusual comeback. Profits of more than $81,000,000 last year as contrasted with a loss of $71,000,000 in 1928 form willnigh a record.

The Ford company yesterday filed its yearly statement with the Massachusetts commissioner of corporation. On the basis of its profit and loss surplus, which was $664,427,424 on Dec. 31, 1929, the company's indicated net earnings last year were $81,797,861. However, they may have been even larger to the extent of any dividends taken by Mr. Ford and his son, Edsel B. Ford, who are the sole owners. As a private corporation it is not required to file a detailed financial statement.

Losses Yield to Gains.

But the indicated figures show that the Ford Motor enterprise had earnings exceeded only in 1922, 1923, and 1924, when the company was at the height of production of its former model. And last year's earnings are the more remarkable in contrast with losses of $72,221,498 and $42,786,727 in 1926 and 1927, respectively, when the Fords were changing over their great plants in order to produce a new model.

The Ford company again came close to its old heyday of production with last year's output of nearly 2,000,000 cars, compared with its record of 1,980,959 units in 1923. How the Ford enterprise will fare this year remains to be seen, of course, but the company recently announced a $30,000,000 budget for plant and equipment this year.

It may be of interest to note that last year's indicated earnings were equivalent to $473.79 a share on the 117,264,500 capital stock. And the total assets of the company are placed at $781,077,996, including nearly $247,000,000 in cash. When Henry Ford incorporated the company in 1903 it started with a cash investment of $28,000.

Industry a Bright Factor.

The automobile industry is the bright factor in the steel industry this week, according to midweek trade reviews. "With tendencies mixed and in many instances neutralizing one another," the Iron Age says, "the iron and steel market lacks a definite trend. Open weather has brought a rise in seasonal demands and further expansion is seen in the requirements of the automobile industry. But specifications from the railroads are being curtailed and heavy construction work is subnormal. Steel ingot output for the country at large has receded to 76 per cent, compared with 78 per cent a week ago."

But the Iron Trade reports some expansion in production, estimating that mill operations now stand at 77 per cent of capacity, compared with 76 per cent a week ago and 74 per cent a fortnight ago.

Nash Motors Pays Dividend; McCarty Back

The Nash Motors company confounded gloomy gossip yesterday when the directors declared the regular quarterly dividend of $1.50 a share. Net earnings for the three months ended Feb. 28 were $1,782,512, equivalent to 65 cents a share on 2,730,000 shares of capital stock.

C. W. NASH.

"The company over a period of years has been accumulating a large cash surplus to take care of dividends at just such time as we are now passing through," President C. W. Nash said. "This accumulation of cash surplus rightly belongs to the stockholders and, in my judgment, this is the proper time to distribute a little of it. Conditions are looking much brighter for business in the immediate future and I believe it will go forward with more genuine activity in the future than it has for many months in the past."

Mr. Nash also announced the election of E. H. McCarty as vice president, general manager and director. He returns to the company after a year's retirement from active business.

KREUGER & TOLL HAS 1929 NET OF $29,095,130

New York, April 9.—(AP)—Kreuger & Toll company, the Swedish holding and financing company, today reported net earnings for 1929 of $29,095,130, before interest on the participating debentures, as compared with net of $21,025,988 for 1928.

Directors of the company have proposed a 20 per cent increase in the dividend rate on the debentures and on the shares. This will be equivalent to $1.61, against the old rate of $1.34. Consolidated assets totaled $350,631,510 on Dec. 31, as compared with $157,523,403 at the end of 1928.

The company's business is divided into three branches, the granting of government loans in return for concessions, the holding of interests in industrial and banking enterprises, and participation in trading operations.

EATON STAKES ALL IN MOVE TO BLOCK MERGER

Action Is Postponed Until Today.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Youngstown, O., April 9—If Cyrus Eaton finally stops the merger of Sheet and Tube with Bethlehem, the means he used will go down in history as one of the classics of bold and shrewd financial operations, it was stated here tonight.

No action was taken tonight at a special stockholders' meeting of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company on the proposed merger with Bethlehem Steel corporation.

This was an adjourned meeting, which was again adjourned until 4 p. m., Thursday. Newton D. Baker, attorney for the Sheet and Tube management, announced that owing to the length of time required to count the proxies and to straighten out the legal tangles, it would be impossible to conclude the count this evening.

Spends Millions.

It is new generally admitted that if Eaton blocks the merger he will accomplish it by means of the 51,000 shares which are in contest before Judge Turnbaugh.

Upon his acuteness and the opinion of his legal counsel he staked his eleventh hour purchase of $7,500,000 worth of stock.

This is stock Eaton bought after the books of Sheet and Tube closed. The ability to transfer voting rights on the books of the company ceased eighteen days ago. Everybody assumed, or almost everybody, that those who owned the stock at that time would decide the issue.

Now it appears that Eaton did not have, prior to March 22, shares enough to prevent the sale of the company. He could have been buying the stock before that, but he refrained. To have done so in the volume required, he would have run the price up and disclosed his method. He waited quietly. The lunch hour of March 22 passed. The market sagged a little.

Begins to Buy.

But Eaton was beginning to buy. If anybody had discovered he was buy-

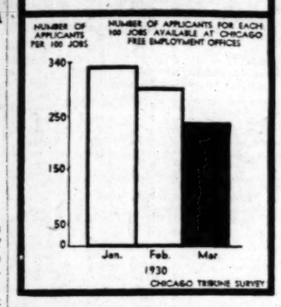
THE UNEMPLOYMENT SITUATION IS IMPROVING IN CHICAGO



GRIGSBY CO. TO APPEAL ADVERSE "DYNAMIC" SPEAKER DECISION

San Francisco, Cal., April 9.—(AP)—Federal District Judge A. F. St. Sure today enjoined the Grigsby-Grunow company of Chicago from making or selling "dynamic" loud speakers for radio receiving sets.

The decision was declared to be a sweeping victory for the Magnavox company, which held the Grigsby-Grunow company infringed upon its patents. The court's decree provides for an injunction against the Majestic company for making or selling any devices embodying the inventions disclosed in the Magnavox patents, and also provides for an accounting of the profits realized by the Majestic company from the "unlawful use and sale" of the inventions owned by the Magnavox company.

The decision of Judge St. Sure sustained the contentions of the Magnavox company that Edward S. Pridham and Peter L. Jeneen were the pioneer discoverers and joint inventors of what is known as the dynamic loud speaker.

The nominal defendant to the patent infringement suit was the Frederick H. Thompson company of San Francisco, a distributor of the Majestic loud speaker. The Grigsby-Grunow company defended the action, however.

Officials of the Grigsby-Grunow company said here last night that the decision of Judge St. Sure enjoining them from making dynamic loud speakers would be appealed immediately.

Scrutator Sees Passing of Chain Store Bonanza Period

BY SCRUTATOR.

Several factors combined give indications that the chain store groups are not going to have quite the smooth sailing in the future that they have had in the past.

Among these may be listed unfavorable legislation; the fact that the chains have themselves educated their competitors, the independents, into being better merchants; the increasing tendency of these independents to form their own stores into voluntary chains; the saturation of the best territories, and the possibility that chains may become so large as to be unwieldy.

Two states already have passed laws that are discriminatory in favor of the independent merchant. Georgia assesses a tax of 2 mills, or $20 in the $1,000, on all merchants whose organizations do more than $30,000 annual business. The exemption frees more than four-fifths of the Georgia distributors from the tax. Kentucky last month passed a law that taxes sales of more than $400,000 and runs the rate up until it is 1 per cent for organizations selling more than a million a year.

Makes Investigation.

These laws are subject to attack in the courts and doubtless will be opposed. The result is uncertain. Besides these restrictive measures, the federal trade commission is engaged in an investigation of the whole chain store field, with orders to report to the senate on the relative efficiency in distribution of chains as compared with independents, and to recommend legislation to curb the big combinations if the commission believes they should be curbed. Some politicians, notably Senator Brookhart of Iowa and Senator Black of Alabama, are definitely anti-chain and make it known.

For some years in their early history the chains had no very serious opposition. The independent, particularly in the grocery field, was conducting his business as it had been conducted for decades. Chain management applied business principles that were, if not new, at least little observed before its advent. It is claimed, and to a large extent correctly, that selling methods rather than the mooted buying power were the principal factor in chain success.

Now the independent has learned the lesson. He does not appeal for public sympathy against his competitor any more. Instead he puts the best features of the chain store in his own emporium while keeping his individuality. To get the buying power he allies himself with his independent brethren, and it is estimated that 65,000 of the country's 350,000 or 400,000 groceries are now in voluntary chains.

Nature of Opposition.

So opposition grows more powerful. Chains themselves are doubtless furnishing each other stronger competition than they did in the earlier days.

None of this can be taken to mean that the chain store is losing out or even in danger of passing. It is, however, likely that the bonanza period has passed. It has too many good principles included in its makeup to slip, but it is going to be more difficult to invest $100 and get back at the end of a few years something like $4,000 or $5,000, as some investors have in the past.

EXTENSION OF TICKER LEADS TO SEAT SALES

Extension of the Chicago stock exchange's ticker service to the west coast has led to the purchase of memberships by five brokerage houses in San Francisco and Los Angeles.

The exchange announced yesterday arrangements have been completed for the sale of seats to the following firms: Jones, Hubbard & Donnell, McCabe, Fewell & Co., and Young, Clarke & Co. of Los Angeles. Holt & Richey and Lawrence J. Steinhardt & Co. of San Francisco are the others.

Transfer of seats to Bertram Nussbaum and John P. Hermes, both of Chicago, was approved yesterday by governors. The purchase price of the last membership sold was $37,000.

Exchanges Will Close Two Days Next Week

The New York stock exchange and the Chicago stock exchange will be closed April 18, Good Friday, and the following Saturday. Most of the country's security and commodity markets will remain closed the two days. The Chicago Board of Trade, however, will be closed only Good Friday and will be open the following day.

New York, April 9.—The beleaguered stock market pulled itself together in the late trading today and drove forward in rather impressive fashion. Nearly all the recognized leaders scored good net gains and many of the more volatile favorites of the movement bounded ahead sharply.

With good buying coming in to the advantage of constructive operations, the pace of activity quickened anew and the turnover once more mounted above the five million mark—to 5,189,210 shares.

News None Too Good.

News of the day was none too good, what with car loadings running far under those of the corresponding week last year, crude oil production showing another increase—the first in several weeks—and the mid-weekly steel trade journals reporting production tapering off. This worked strongly against speculation for the rise in the early dealings. Indeed, the market was pretty much of a tug of war between opposing forces of traders for the first half of the session, with profit taking and selling for short account going on rather extensively.

After the turn of the day, however, the bull element gained the saddle and pushed their advantage with increasing vigor from then on up to the

Eight Hundred Million Dollar Growth in Six Years

THIS is the phenomenal record of the Associated Gas and Electric System, which now, with assets in excess of $1,000,000,000, is one of the foremost public utility groups in the country. Today this vast system serves one in every thirty-one electric and one in every forty-two gas customers in the United States. The population served exceeds 5,300,000 and its customers total 1,350,000.

Along with the System's growth in size, there has been an equally remarkable increase in earnings. Gross revenues last year exceeded $100,000,000, and for the year ended February 28, 1930, earnings of the Associated Gas and Electric System, available for dividends and surplus, showed an increase of 154% over the preceding twelve months. The possibilities of this growth continuing are well assured. Three important railroads, which cross the territory served, are planning to electrify. Furthermore, industrial and residential developments forecast a substantial and rapid increase in the demand for electricity and gas.

In this gigantic system, which daily is increasing in size and scope, the principal and controlling unit is the Associated Gas and Electric Company. It is the equity stocks of this company that reap a large proportion of the benefits to be derived from the impressive earnings which this system has shown. To fully participate in the growth of this great public utility system, we recommend for long term investment the Common Stock of Associated Gas and Electric Company.

CHICAGO STOCK PRICES BOUNCE HIGHER AGAIN

Zenith Radio Shares Rise 4½ Points.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Stocks bounced back with vigor in yesterday's session on the Chicago exchange. The setback received on the previous day was apparently forgotten as the market pushed forward again. Gains were well distributed throughout the list at the close and a few issues had reached new peaks for the year.

Conspicuous gains were made by Zenith Radio, Electric Household, Libby-McNeill and Great Lakes Dredge. More than 32,000 shares of Zenith changed hands as the price rose steadily and closed at its best price of the day at 14½, a net rise of 4½ points. Electric Household was up nearly 4 as the session ended. It is understood that General Electric, which already owns a substantial block of the firm's stock, is increasing its holdings.

List Majestic Issue.

Libby came back nearly 2 as the pressure under which the stock has been since the release of the annual report eased. Great Lakes on light trade jumped 5½.

Lively interest was shown yesterday in the listing by exchange governors of 500,000 shares of no par common stock of Majestic Household Utilities corporation, refrigerator manufacturing affiliate of the Grigsby-Grunow company.

Of the stock listed 125,500 shares are reserved for the Grigsby company and the remainder will be offered by the parent company for subscription, upon allotment, to its stockholders, distributors, and dealers at $25 a share. Details of the offering will be announced following the monthly meeting of the Grigsby directors this afternoon. The issue was admitted to trading on an "if, when and as" issued basis. The stock was being traded yesterday on the same basis over the counter and was quoted at one house at 28¾ bid and 29¼ asked.

Total assets of the company upon completion of the financing will amount to $12,499,750, consisting of real estate and buildings, $1,000,000; machinery, tools, and equipment, $3,000,000; working capital, including receivables, inventories, etc., $5,374,750, and intangible assets, including development, trade name, patents, license and organization, of $3,125,000. The net tangible assets of $9,374,750, equal $18.75 per share on common stock.

Among the other issues listed yesterday were 250,000 shares of convertible preferred shares and 250,000 common stock purchase warrants of the Midland United company. Public offering of the preferred stock will be made next week by a syndicate headed by Utility Securities company. Proceeds will be used to finance the 1930 expansion of the company's subsidiaries in Indiana and Ohio. The stock carries rights for conversion into common and detachable warrants for the purchase of common stock.

Listing of 175,000 shares of no par common stock of the Investment Company of America was also approved. The company, which was formed and is sponsored by E. E. MacCrone & Co., Detroit, is an investment trust of the general management type. Net assets of the company on March 31 this year amounted to $3,163,143, equal to $27.08 per share of common stock.

One month ago, 10.00@11.00
One year ago, 16.25@17.25
Top yesterday, $10.25; average, $9.75.
Estimated receipts at Chicago today: 6,000 cattle, 23,000 hogs; 10,000 sheep.

Cattle and sheep sold barely steady, while hogs were pounded down 10@25c on small supplies yesterday. The top and general average hog prices on the cash trade showed 10c decline at $10.65 and $10.25, respectively.

In spite of the fact that receipts are running smallest of the year and 25 per cent smaller than a week ago, activity was lacking throughout the session. Some local interests remained practically out of the market and 4,000 hogs were still in the pens at the finish, the low point of the day. Five western markets expect 61,000 hogs today, against 50,900 the previous Thursday.

Hog Futures Lower.

Declines of 5@25c were recorded in the hog futures market, last sales of September light showing the most loss. Contracts for light weights for next September delivery were hard to dispose of at $10.70 at the opening, but when prices dropped to $10.50@10.55 there was a rush of buying.

Six loads at the close sold at $10.50. Trading in other months and in medium and heavy hogs dragged most of the day. May heavy closed at $9.95 and September at $10.35. On the "to arrive" market light for today and tomorrow were bid $10.50.

Cattle sold slowly and at barely steady prices yesterday, although some sales of yearlings showed strength in midsession and later. Choice 1,090 lb yearlings topped the market at $14.50, while $14.40 was paid for baby beef steers averaging 872 lbs. Few medium and weighty steers were good enough to bring more than $13.50 and some plain quality 1,200 lb cattle ranged downwards to $10.75.

The poorest light weights were sold as low as $9.25. Butchers stock sold slowly and barely steady, a string of 738 heifers averaging 600@775 lbs. selling at $12.65@12.75. Calves ruled weak to unevenly lower. Stockers and feeders sold steady.

Lambs Bring $10.25.

Buyers blocked additional advances in the lamb market yesterday, despite the small supply available. Top prices were not quite up to the previous day's peak, the best wool lambs selling at $10.25, while shorn stock stopped at $9.50.

Aged sheep were scarce and unchanged, although none were good enough to test top quotations in either division. Receipts at seven leading markets during the first three days of the week totaled 169,000 and compare with 223,000 a week ago.

BUTTER FUTURES LOWER

A drop of ¾c or $120 a car in April butter futures on the Chicago mercantile exchange yesterday followed a decline of ½c in spot prices. May futures fell ¾c or $72 a car. Sales were 11 cars and receipts 7,303 tubs.

Firmness displayed by egg futures was due to the ability of the market to handle the heavy Wednesday arrivals of eggs for the Passover and Easter trade. Sales were 62 cars and receipts 22,574 cases.

Trading has been instituted on an experimental basis in butter and egg "rights" corresponding to puts and calls or privileges on the Chicago Board of Trade. Prices follow:

NATIONAL BAR ASSOCIATION BUYS BUILDING

To Move Headquarters to Elm-Dearborn.

BY AL CHASE.

National headquarters of the American Bar association, now located in the Rookery, at La Salle and Adams, are to be moved shortly to the near north side, as a result of the purchase yesterday of the three story residence at the southwest corner of Dearborn and Elm streets. The bar association bought the property from the United Association of Plumbers and Steamfitters of the United States and Canada, which moved to Washington, D. C., a year ago. The price was not disclosed.

Silas H. Strawn of Winston, Strawn & Shaw was chairman of the special committee in charge of the purchase of the new national headquarters of the American Bar association. Edgar B. Tolman of Tolman, Sexton & Chandler and John H. Voorhees, treasurer of the association, also were members of the committee. Prussing & Co. were brokers for the plumbers' union. Fred D. P. Snelling represented the bar association.

Former Adsit Residence.

The property just purchased fronts 50 feet on North Dearborn street and 150 feet on West Elm street. The brick and stone residence was erected many years ago by James Adsit, one of Chicago's early settlers. It was later occupied by his son, Charles Adsit, well known La Salle street broker and realty owner.

The plumbers' union purchased the property in 1920, at which time it was the home of Edwin F. Gillette. It was then completely remodeled from a residence into a modern office building and used by the plumbers until their organization moved east. Prussing & Co. also were brokers for the plumbers when they purchased the property a decade ago.

Plan New Building.

August and Nanny Nelson have purchased the six apartment building at 8543-45 Drexel avenue from John and Hilda Palmer. In part payment they gave 75x107 feet of vacant at the southeast corner of 82d and South Park avenue. The Palmers contemplate the construction of a three story building on the vacant to contain four and possibly six stores, two offices and eight flats. The 79th street office of Carl F. Lindee was broker.

Henry John Rausch has purchased the Rogers-Touhy garage at 7230 Rogers avenue from Samual Wenig and Joseph Tenney for a reported $105,500. The structure has a capacity of 96 cars and occupies an irregular sized lot.

OPEN SAN FRANCISCO PLANT.

The Twentieth Century Press has opened a plant in San Francisco.

COMPANY, INCORPORATED

25 Broad Street New York, N. Y.

Why we recommend an Immediate Investment in . . .

INDIAN TERRITORY ILLUMINATING OIL COMPANY

Class "A" Stock

A Great Subsidiary of Cities Service Company

The recent spectacular bringing in of the Mary Sudik well, in the Oklahoma City pool, with an estimated daily production of 200,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas and between 50,000 and 75,000 barrels of oil, has tended to obscure other great achievements of the Company in its 28 years of corporate existence.

It is true that the Oklahoma City pool, which the Company discovered and in which it owns leases on 9,000 acres and royalty interests in about 3,000, is the greatest oil pool ever known . . .

. . . true, too, that it is one of the greatest natural gas pools the world has ever known . . .

. . . true, likewise, that the Company's Mary Sudik well, which took a ten day titanic battle to bring under control, is the greatest high-gravity oil well ever brought in by any company anywhere and also the largest producer of natural gas.

But these are merely climactic facts. They are not the principal reasons why we recommend an immediate investment in the Company's stock.

Glance at These Salient Facts

STABILITY—The Company has been in successful operation since 1901. Its predecessor company was an important factor in the Mid-Continent field as far back as 1896.

MANAGEMENT—As a subsidiary of Cities Service it enjoys the same quality of management that has built that organization in 19 years from modest beginnings to a billion-dollar organization.

RECORD—The Company has to its credit the discovery and opening up of four of the greatest petroleum fields in the Mid-Continent area—three famous Seminole pools and, latest and greatest, the Oklahoma City pool.

RESERVES—Petroleum and natural gas reserve acreage of the Company, scientifically selected, totals 1,122,000, located in 9 states. In addition to this immense oil-and-gas acreage, it holds natural gas leases in 340,640 acres. It also holds natural gas and petroleum royalty interests in 382,000 acres.

PRODUCTION—Potential daily production of the Company in the Oklahoma City field alone is conservatively estimated by independent authorities as in excess of 700,000 barrels. Under curtailment agreements, production is limited to 12½% of this amount—the remainder being kept in the ground. This is in line with Cities Service's well-known advocacy of conservation.

Initial daily production from the 93 wells already completed in this area is 891,779 barrels.

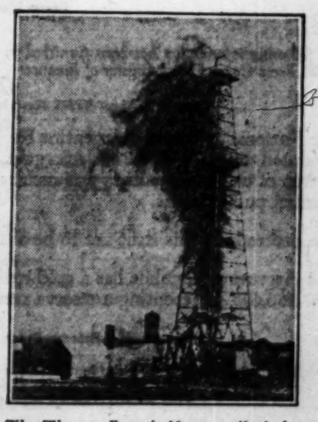
OIL STORAGE—On January 31, 1930, the Company had in storage 8,867,797 barrels of oil.

NATURAL GAS—The Company owns the largest and most valuable natural gas reserves in the State of Oklahoma. Wells which have been permitted to flow for a limited period have broken all records for the State. A single well in the Oklahoma City pool had an open flow of 200,000,000 cubic feet daily.

MARKET FOR NATURAL GAS—Through the Cities Service organization, the Company has access to one of the largest natural gas markets in the world. And important developments already under way will further strengthen the Company's position in this respect—with corresponding influence on future earnings.

NATURAL GASOLINE—The natural gas from the Company's wells in Oklahoma City area is rich in gasoline. The extraction of this product furnishes another substantial source of revenue. The Company has 3 natural gasoline plants in operation with a total capacity of 130,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day, and a half interest in others with a capacity of 95,000,000 cubic feet daily.

The raging Mary Sudik No. 1, said to be the greatest high-gravity oil well ever brought in by any company anywhere, with an estimated initial daily production of 200,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas and between 50,000 and 75,000 barrels of high-gravity oil. The story of the titanic struggle to cap this monster was front page news all over the country.



The Thomas Fuzzel, No. 1 well of the I.T.I.O. Company also located in the Oklahoma City pool, which the Company discovered and developed. Initial daily production of this giant gusher was 43,000 barrels.

What of the Future of this Great Company?

Taking all of the above facts together—the stability of the Company, the character of the management, the immense productive capacity in both petroleum and natural gas, the enormous reserves, its exceptional marketing facilities through Cities Service organization, and the Company's strategic position with relation to important new developments in the natural gas industry—these all point to tremendous possibilities of expansion in both output and earnings.

On this basis we recommend the Class "A" Stock of the Indian Territory Illuminating Oil Company as a sound investment with unusual opportunities of market enhancement.

WHEAT PRICES GAIN ON BETTER CLASS OF BUYING

Gov't Report Emphasizes Need of Moisture.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

The wheat market ran into free selling orders on all bulges yesterday and met with an excellent class of buying on the declines, holding values within a range of 2c, but the average was higher, due to strength in Liverpool and on the continued dry weather in the southwest, and the finish was at net gains of ⅛@¼c, with May, $1.13⅜@1.14, with July at $1.15⅛@1.15¼.

Complaints from the southwest over the condition of winter wheat, incident to the near record drought in Kansas and Oklahoma, are increasing and, while local crop observers fail to find any material damage, the government weekly weather report again showed deterioration in both states and emphasized the need of moisture. The general run of trade reports suggested that, while there had been irreparable damage to date, the crop was nearing the limit of its endurance and unless rain came shortly heavy losses were in prospect.

Europe Buys Winter Wheat.

No rain of consequence was forecasted for the winter wheat belt, although threatening weather was indicated for Nebraska. Dry weather also prevails in the American and Canadian northwest, with seeding under way both sides of the international line. Farmers in the spring wheat belt are keeping close watch of developments in the southwest and, should damage reports start to come from there, a larger spring acreage than anticipated would not be surprising.

The bulls received some encouragement from the sale of 200,000 bu hard winter for export via the gulf, with No. 2 hard there quoted at 1½c over Chicago May. Sales Tuesday were placed at 100,000 bu, suggesting that Europe is coming in for cash wheat on a larger scale. In addition around 400,000 bu Manitobas were taken during the day.

France has temporarily prohibited the exportation of wheat, which removes one of the disturbing influences from the market for the time being. Higher Argentine exchange rates and freights had some effect on Liverpool, which failed to reflect the decline in North Amreica on Tuesday and was ⅝@1¼c lower at the last. Buenos Aires closed 1c higher. Winnipeg was as unsettled as Chicago, but closed ¾c higher.

Trading in wheat futures was somewhat restricted by the fact that the government report would be given out after the close, and the pit element were disposed to keep close to shore until it was out of the way.

Corn in Good Rally.

Local operators were on the selling side of corn early, expecting a continuation of the pressure of long grain which has been in evidence of late, but were disappointed, and covered toward the last, making a rally with the finish at net gains of ¾@⅞c, May being 85½c, and July, 88c. Planting is progressing in the southwest, with plowing under way in the more northern sections. In some quarters there is a belief that the selling of corn of late has represented the closing of a large spread with wheat. The spot basis was steady to ½c lower. Buenos Aires futures finished ⅜c higher.

WHEAT YIELD PROSPECTS

Dry and windy weather has taken a heavy toll of the prospective winter wheat crop, according to the government report given to the trade yesterday. It suggested a prospective yield of 550,000,000 bu, compared with 581,000,000 bu on April 1, a year ago, and 578,000,000 bu harvested in 1929, and is 19,000,000 bu below the average of the past 10 years.

Preliminary reports from crop correspondents indicate that around 11.8 per cent of the 43,690,000 acres seeded last fall will be abandoned prior to harvest. The prospective loss is practically the same as the 10 year average and was well above the estimates of the trade.

A condition of 77.4 for wheat was shown, or 4 points below the average of the recent private estimates, and 6.3 points below last year. In the past 48 years there have only been 10 times when the condition on April 1 was lower than at the present time.

A probable crop of 342,000,000 bu hard winter wheat is suggested by the department, or the same as last year, while the yield of soft red winter is placed at 169,000,000 bu against 191,000,000 bu in 1929, and of white winter at 30,000,000 bu, or 6,000,000 bu under the final returns of last year.

Rye condition is 82, against 87.2 on Dec. 1; 84.9 last year, and a 10 year average of 85.2. A crop of around 46,000,000 bu is indicated against 40,629,000 bu harvested in 1929. Condition of winter oats is 71.7, against 81.2 last year.

Condition of winter wheat in the leading states east of the Missouri river where the bulk of the red winter wheat is raised, shows declines of from 4 to 22 points in condition as compared with last year, conditions ranging from 67 to 79, compared with 83 to 89 last year. The states with their condition this year and last, the first figure being this year and the second for 1929, follow:

Penn.	86-89	Neb.	90-84
Ohio	67-80	Kas.	78-77
Ind.	71-80	Okla.	72-80
Mich.	79-83	Tex.	80-78
Ill.	71-83	U. S.	77.4-82.7
Mo.	75-80

Nebraska has the highest condition of any hard winter wheat state. Washington has a condition of 50, and Oregon and California, 85 each. Conditions last year were 75, 86 and 82, respectively.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

All switched investigation into the posting of 1,247,000 bu of wheat by the South Chicago Elevator in its warehouse "C" is being made. John J. Stream, of J. C. Shaffer & Co. and former president of the Chicago Board of Trade, was before the directors of the latter body Tuesday afternoon and made an extended statement which is said to have shown that they were suspicious as to the condition of the wheat some time ago. Apparently there was so much of it that it was difficult to handle all the grain and keep it in good condition.

After hearing Mr. Stream, board of trade directors authorized President John A. Bunnell to appoint a special committee to investigate the affair. The committee was in session yesterday afternoon and perfected its plans for working. The special committee is composed of F. T. Bascom, chairman, S. C. Harris, J. E. Brennan, W. J. Farrell, E. D. Norton, W. M. Homerding and Alexander Moore.

EATON STAKES ALL IN MOVE TO BLOCK MERGER

Steel Action Is Postponed Until Today.

ing it might have been assumed that the shares would do him no good. Shares bought outside the market could be made to carry a proxy, but not the shares bought on the New York market. Their voting rights could not be transferred.

But if Judge Turnbaugh's temporary injunction of today is made permanent, the voting rights cannot be exercised by either side, and that, to Eaton, is just the same as if he were voting them against the merger.

From what was known prior to the hearing in federal court in Cleveland Monday, and from what came out in testimony there, it begins to be possible to reconstruct what Eaton's situation was when he came down here yesterday.

He needed 395,000 shares to block the kick. He was assured that 125,000 shares owned by the Cliffs corporation would not be voted. He and his friends owned at least 185,000 shares, which included the 50,000 owned by five or six members of the Wick family of Youngstown. He was definitely counting on at least 40,000 more shares which had been pledged to his side. He would need, on this computation, possibly 45,000 more shares, and if the 51,000 shares he bought just lately were not included in the previous totals it would make up the amount he needed.

What Might Have Been.

He could hardly expect to vote this 51,000 shares himself, but if the federal court in Cleveland had ordered yesterday's meeting of stockholders postponed, then voting rights would have been restored to this big block of stocks, and Eaton, the new owner, would be safely in possession.

Eaton blocked the amalgamation, temporarily at least, today through an injunction obtained by Myron C. Wick Jr., out of the anti-merger group.

The injunction was granted by Judge C. S. Turnbaugh, the same jurist, who, earlier in the day, had ruled against the anti-merger forces in a case involving almost identical facts. A block of 51,038 shares of Sheet and Tube, owned by Otis & Co. of Cleveland, was the issue in both legal actions.

Refuses First Action.

Judge Turnbaugh, at the first proceedings of the day, refused Otis & Co. an injunction. He ruled that the firm did not have the right to bring action because it is bound by the by-laws of the New York and Cleveland stock exchanges. The effect of this decision was to open the way for the merger, as the block of stock was believed to be the controlling item.

The second request for injunction was brought by Mr. Wick as a stockholder. It charges that the former owners of the stock surrendered all rights, including the right to allow proxies by the proxy committee, when they sold the stock to Otis & Co.

The hearing on the temporary injunction granted by Judge Turnbaugh probably will be held tomorrow morning. Sheet and Tube officials announced a motion would be filed immediately to dissolve the temporary injunction.

"The merger will not go through," Mr. Eaton said this afternoon. "We will leave no stone unturned."

Sheet and Tube management claims to have proxies for 870,000 shares voted in favor of the merger, 79,000 shares over the amount required to put the deal through. Of the 870,000 more than 100,000 shares have been protested, including the 51,038 shares owned by Otis & Co.

If the merger is carried through the Eaton forces plan to carry on a vigorous legal fight that promises to tie up the deal for several months, possibly years. Eaton attorneys intimate suits would be brought in the federal courts, based on the Sherman anti-trust laws.

close. Final prices in most cases were about the best of the day.

Public utility shares were prominent again, with the motors, farm implement stocks, merchandising issues and a broad list of specialties making their marks on the right side of the record.

Autos Come Back.

Automobile shares appear to be returning to favor. At times during the afternoon they absorbed a good share of speculative interest, the buying in General Motors and Chrysler being particularly heavy at or near the best levels of the year. Nash advanced two points in the face of rumors from the bear camp that the company might reduce its dividend payments. But at the directors' meeting late yesterday the regular quarterly payment was ordered.

Leading eastern utility company stocks were in brisk demand under the leadership of Consolidated Gas, Public Service of New Jersey, General Gas and Electric A, and a number of others that figure heavily in the local gas and electric field. The shares of various holding corporations, the most notable being United corporation and United Gas Improvement, were also conspicuously strong, and Wall street did not fail to attach significance to the simultaneous showings here.

Bull on Warner Bros.

In the amusement section, Warner Brothers stepped back into group leadership following a statement by John J. Raskob that he was bullish on the stock and the bear element which had been pounding the issue found their work cut out for them trying to get in their short lines, as the price spurted sharply. Mr. Raskob let it be known that he is interested in the company because he considers it one of the best managed and organized in the amusement field. His remarks were accepted as confirming reports that have been in circulation for some time to the effect that the Raskob-Du Pont factions have acquired a large interest in the company.

News and Gossip of Stock Marts

May Share in Improvement.

American Radiator-Standard Sanitary is expected to participate materi come into the building industry. The company manufactures radiators, furnaces and bathroom and sanitary equipment. Those who are supposed to be familiar with the company's affairs say that a merger with Johns-Manville at some future date should occasion no great surprise.

Strength in Loew's.

Activity and strength in Loew's Inc., has, of course, found reflection in the Loew warrants and rights. Traders who believe in the future of this company have been watching these privileges, especially those with limited capital. The rights have often enjoyed rather spectacular moves. Earlier this year they were selling at 3⅝.

Columbia Pictures.

Those behind in the new move in Columbia pictures on the curb are finding the way made easier because of bullish sentiment in connection with leading amusement issues on the big board. The company is said to have a good outlook, based on the strides it has made in the "talkie" field. Possibility of dividend action has supplied most of the bullish amunition.

Twin States Natural Gas.

Kindly advise me regarding the future possibilities of Twin States Natural Gas company stock.—Mrs. G. E. S.

Twin States Natural Gas company was incorporated in Delaware March 21, 1930, to combine ten natural gas properties in Kentucky and West Virginia. The company announced that it would acquire and operate more than 7,000 acres, having a present daily production in excess of 9,000,000 cubic feet.

Gas from these properties is now being sold under contract to several of the largest purchasers of natural gas in that territory, and the contracts provide for an immediate market for all additional gas produced.

Upon completion of present financing Twin States Natural Gas company will have an authorized capitalization of 500,000 shares of participating no par class A stock, and 250,000 no par common shares. There will be outstanding 100,000 shares of class A stock and 200,000 shares of common. The class A stock is entitled to $1 annual dividends.

Based on sales now being made under existing contracts the company estimates that its present net income, before income taxes, is about $234,220 per annum, which, after deducting $100,000 for class A dividends, would leave a balance of $134,220 applicable to the common.

Inasmuch as this is a new company whose earning power has not yet been demonstrated, its class A stock is not suitable at this time for funds that should not properly be exposed to speculative risk.

The common is highly speculative.

D. W. Griffith, Inc.

Will you please give me some information about D. W. Griffith company, motion pictures?—Mrs. G. McG.

D. W. Griffith, Inc., has made public no financial statement since that for the year 1924, as far as the records show.

That report showed a loss of $403,294 for the year, and a total deficit of $1,142,081 at the close of that year.

No dividends have been paid since July, 1921, on the class A stock and none ever on the common.

The stock appears to be a pure speculation.

Illinois Power and Light.

Please give me your opinion of the Illinois Power and Light corporation 6s due April 1, 1953.—M. E. P.

Illinois Power and Light corporation first mortgage and refunding 6 per cent bonds, series A, due April 1, 1953, are a suitable investment for a business man's surplus funds.

Illuminated and Powered by Natural Gas

The most spectacular public utility development in this country during the next decade promises to be in natural gas. Great companies are to become super corporations. Smaller companies will become giants.

The owner of shares of a well managed natural gas company holds opportunity at the maximum. Two billion dollars are already invested in the industry.

From coast to coast natural gas lines are pushing out in every direction. Millions of potential users assure a market for every cubic foot that can be produced and piped. The next phase of American progress is likely to be illuminated and powered by natural gas.

Would you know more about the opportunities in natural gas developments, and natural gas stocks?

We will send you a booklet on the subject together with the history of a company whose security offers an opportunity for participation in an established, progressive natural gas enterprise backed by proven and potential reserves, and serving a territory which might well be termed the industrial heart of the nation.

SYNOPSIS.

Catherine West of Boston on her way to Paris meets Geoffrey Macadam in the Havre to Paris train. Macadam is an Englishman who lives in Paris. Catherine tells Macadam that she is going to visit her cousin's widow, Mme. Belmont Bender. She is a little apprehensive about the coming visit because she had received, just before sailing, a letter from Adrienne Cushing, who tells her that Mme. Bender is far from well. Macadam is a lawyer and he tells Catherine that his firm handles Mme. Bender's affairs, but he doesn't know the widow very well. He had heard that she was ill. Arrived in Paris, Catherine is a little disconcerted when her cousin's chauffeur is not at the station to meet her. Geoffrey sees her into a taxi, giving her his address and telephone number. He tells her that he will call to inquire to know how things are at the Bender apartment, and she promises to call him. Arrived at Mme. Bender's apartment the concierge tells her that madame is very ill. Catherine waits at the door for some time before her ring is answered. Finally Joseph, the butler, responds to the ring, greets her coldly, and summons Jeanne, Mme. Bender's maid. Jeanne tells Catherine that she cannot stay there and that madame is very ill to see her. Catherine insists and she is finally shown into a bedroom that she learns has just been vacated by a servant. The cook, Berthe, brings her dinner in on a tray.

INSTALLMENT X.

REASSURING NEWS.

When Berthe had gone Catherine sat down to her solitary repast. It was decently served and not unpalatable, though the cold chicken and galantine plainly come out of a tin. However, she was not disposed to be critical, especially as she felt reasonably sure the cook had received no notification of her arrival. Indeed the woman had assured her that Jeanne was in a state of stupefaction at the idea of any one choosing to remain here at a time like this.

So Berthe, with her satin blouse and flagrant makeup, was the cook! It was a violent change from the days when Harry Bender's table had been noted, and his chef, in a tall white cap, had on occasions of ceremony been invited into the dining room to receive congratulations and to partake of a glass of champagne. She sighed, not because she had expected to find anything approaching the former standard, but simply over things in general—her genial cousin gone, his widow mentally unbalanced and confined to her room, the home, in which he had taken so much pride, given over to domestics who neglected, if not abused, his cherished possessions. Already her eye had detected small evidences of slipshod management. Even the best of servants, she reflected, grow careless when left to their own devices.

O, well, of what importance was it, so long as the invalid herself was properly attended? She had seen a good deal of Jeanne, and felt sure that however imperfect she might be as an administrative, she would never fail in devotion to her mistress.

Except for the breezy cook, who returned to bring coffee, no one came near her that evening. She might as well have been in an hotel. In half an hour's time she heard Jeanne reënter the apartment, but she saw nothing of her. Somewhere close by, she assumed, that Mme. Bender was sleeping, protected from shock and stupefied by a sedative. She wondered when she would see her, if at all, and the uncertainty as to what to expect filled her with vague discomfort. Easy to picture the clinging woman as rudderless, dependant, her grip of life shaken, but the idea of recurrent mania she found difficult to grasp. Germaine was, above all, so gentle! One could not think of her as taking any violent action.

Dinner over she set about the task of unpacking and stowing away her belongings, and in so doing made several minor discoveries of a disagreeable nature. The first was that the yellow tole basket on the mantel shelf contained cigaret stumps and a heap of strong smelling ashes; the second was the finding in one of the dressing table drawers, far back, a small, cheap comb, in the teeth of which clung a wisp of blonde hair. There was greasepaint and powder on the paper beneath, while the entire drawer sent forth a wave of the offensive perfume now grown familiar.

Last of all, when she gathered up her towel and sponge-bag to go into the bathroom opposite, she noticed that the cake of brilliant pink soap on the washstand was partly used and still moist.

The conclusion was unavoidable. The room, until this evening, had been used by Berthe herself, who, in her haste to turn out of it, had neglected to remove all the traces of her occupancy

Indignation surged through her. Really this was too much! In an apartment of this size, was there no other room available for a guest? How poor Germaine would suffer if she knew. Useless to remind herself that her cousin in all probability was quite ignorant of the state of her household and so could not be affected by her staff's shortcomings. She could not help resenting the advantage taken of a helpless invalid, and, most of all, she held Jeanne responsible, excellent though she was. For a moment she was conscious of a personal affront, and in order to calm herself had to bring to mind the maid's long and faithful care of her mistress, the undeniable fact that the woman had proved herself both kind and trustworthy.

The hot bath soothed her ruffled temper, and eventually she fell asleep between soft, monogrammed sheets, with the sound of pattering raindrops in her ears. Just before dozing off she thought of the young solicitor she had met in the train. What attentive, serious eyes he had, lighting up now and again with a most agreeable flash of humor! At the beginning there had been a sort of barrier between them, probably because he was English and did not quite know what to make of Americans, but at the last, on the station platform, she had felt suddenly as though he were a real friend. She longed to see him to tell him what happened here, but she did not know that she would have the courage to ring him up, as he had begged her to do. Once more she asked herself if he had known anything about her cousin's condition which he had not seen fit to disclose, but even as the question crossed her mind it was eclipsed by the vision, wholly inconsequent, of his strong, big hands as they grasped the sill of the taxi. . . .

Morning broke brilliant and windy. It promised well that Berthe, bringing her breakfast, should have had the grace to make herself almost presentable, appearing in a clean print frock, even though her hair was adorned with tiny combs to achieve a "water-wave" and secured in place by a purple veil. The coffee was capital, the croissants crisp and delicious.

Eagerly Catherine inquired news of her hostess, and learned that she had passed a peaceful night and, according to Jeanne, was in a fairly calm state of nerves. Perhaps after the doctor had paid his call mademoiselle might be permitted to see her. It all depended on the physician's verdict.

This was fairly reassuring, yet she was more than a little nervous at the prospect of seeing her cousin. What would it be like, talking to a woman who two days ago had tried to take her own life? Of course the poor soul had perfectly lucid intervals. The dreadful part was that one could never tell when a relapse would occur, or what might bring it on. At least, however, she believed she could find out whether her presence here was welcome or not, and act accordingly.

When she was dressed she ventured forth. The salon with its formal magnificence oppressed her, but she remembered that next to it was a small, cheerful sitting room, used by her late cousin as his study. She would sit there and read till the doctor had come and gone.

The door of the study was slightly ajar. She pushed it wide, then stepped back involuntarily at the sight which met her eyes.

In a big leather chair sprawled Eduardo, legs upon the writing table, face hidden by a copy of "Le Petit Parisien." Around him hung wreaths of cigaret smoke, while ashes lay thick on the brown carpet.

Catherine felt herself stiffen with disgust. It was not her place to reprove him, and she was on the point of hurrying away, but at her first movement the butler stumbled to his feet, muttered something unintelligible, hardly to be construed as an apology, and shuffled out. In passing, his dark eyes, muddy brown, like those of a bull, met hers for an instant with a look of bloodshot, yet scornful defiance.

Looking after him she experienced a strong sense of revolt. Her heart pounded uncontrollably. What insolence, to lounge like that in his master's chair, as though he owned the place! It was hard to remember his past obedience.

After a few seconds she forced herself to laugh. Why be exercised over something which clearly was no affair of hers? The slump in manners was probably a reversion to type, not to be marveled at in the circumstances.

GASOLINE ALLEY—FOILED AGAIN

THE BLOODHOUND IS ON THE TRAIL. WALT HAS READ STORIES OF DOCUMENTS BEING TRACED BY PECULIARITIES OF TYPEWRITING, BACK TO THEIR SOURCES. WALT IS GOING TO BE HIS OWN DETECTIVE AND SHOW UP SOMEBODY. NOBODY CAN GET AWAY WITH A PHONEY WILL WITH HIM.
MISS RUFUS, I'VE GONE OVER EVERY ONE OF THESE SAMPLES OF TYPEWRITING AND VERY EVIDENTLY NOT ONE OF THEM WAS WRITTEN ON THE SAME MACHINE AS THE DOCUMENT I MENTIONED. ARE THESE ALL THE TYPEWRITERS IN CORPUS' OFFICE?
YES, FIVE OF THEM, AND THOSE LETTERS ARE FROM TWO MACHINES HE HAS AT HOME.
WELL THAT THEORY FALLS DOWN. I DON'T KNOW WHAT ELSE WE CAN DO UNLESS WE CAN FIND ANOTHER ONE HE MIGHT HAVE USED.
YOU SAID PART OF THE DOCUMENT WAS IN HANDWRITING. THERE IS A HANDWRITING EXPERT WHO IS CONSIDERED A WIZARD AT THAT SORT OF THING. WHY DON'T YOU LET HIM HELP YOU?
WHO IS HE? I WANT TO TURN EVERY STONE POSSIBLE AND GET TO THE BOTTOM OF THIS THING.
HE IS A PECULIAR PERSON BUT I KNOW HE HAS DONE SOME WORK ON A NUMBER OF IMPORTANT CASES. I'LL HAVE TO GET YOU HIS NAME AND ADDRESS.

'Women Telling Hague Secrets,' So Excluded

Head of Law of Nations Parley Explains Fiat.

THE HAGUE, Netherlands, April 9.—(AP)—Dr. Theodorus Heemskerk, president of the conference for codification of international law, today issued a statement regarding yesterday's order barring women from entering the Peace palace. That order was criticized by Miss Margaret Whittemore, representative of the National Women's party of the United States.

"For some time a number of women of the Inter-American Women mission have been in the great entrance of the hall of the Peace palace and spread there among the delegates to the conference their ideas about equal rights for man and woman in nationality," Dr. Heemskerk said.

"Although the Peace palace, as the Carnegie foundation announced March 11, was closed to the public in connection with the codification conference and it could have been mentioned to these ladies that their presence was illegal, this was not done for reasons of courtesy.

"The presence of the ladies and the communiques they spread in the daily press, in which things were mentioned not intended for publication, were offensive to the various delegates and caused the executive committee, which must take care that delegates to the Peace palace may hold confidential conversations undisturbed and unspied on, to decree that no longer should the women be admitted in order to propagate their ideas.

"As is known, these ladies had two opportunities to explain and advocate officially at the conference their wishes and ideas."

Equal rights for all is the watchword of the women who are attending the conference, said Doris Stevens, chairman of the inter-American women's commission, relative to the explanation by Dr. Heemskerk.

"Since the beginning of the conference," she added, "we have made it very clear that we are here for the sole purpose of seeing that all conventions should be based on the principle of equal treatment between men and women in their nationality rights. It will be a matter of regret to women all over the world that a man as distinguished as President Heemskerk should consider our demand for equality as synonomous with an intention to frustrate the work of the conference.

"The expulsion order was a drastic measure taken to prevent failure of the adoption of the nationality convention. Many of the delegates have told us that this order was a great tribute to the power of our opposition

"We have centered our opposition to the proposed nationality convention on four articles. We hold that these are based on discrimination against the nationality rights of women because of their sex."

David Hunter Miller, editor of treaties for the American state department and a delegate to the conference, was asked what steps had been taken to prevent the four articles mentioned by Miss Stevens from being adopted. He said the American delegates felt that since many other nations had reached a substantial agreement upon them the United States could not, with propriety, intervene.

When informed today that the American delegation did not expect to protest against the project on nationality, opposed by American women here Miss Stevens sent this cable to President Hoover.

"The United States delegation to the international law codification conference appears to be making no effective fight to prevent adoption of the nationality convention based on sex discrimination. On the contrary, it is supporting two articles which are based upon principles of inequality. Do you approve? If you do not, we urge you to send immediately precise instructions to Mr. Miller.

"We are further informed that the United States delegation took no steps today to remonstrate with President Heemskerk for the treatment of the American feminists who are to be barred from the grounds of the Peace palace until the conference ends next Saturday."

The American delegation, however, took great pains to make it clear that President Heemskerk had acted without the knowledge or approval of the delegates from the United States.

William Beebe Leaves to View Sea Life at Three Mile Depth

New York, April 9.—(AP)—William Beebe, author, scientist and explorer, sailed today to explore "Davy Jones' locker" three miles below the surface of the sea off Bermuda.

Accompanied by his wife, Elwyth Thane, novelist, and his party, he left on the liner Fort St. George on a seven months' expedition under the auspices of the New York Zoölogical society's department of tropical research of which he is a director.

Mr. Beebe's expedition this year is designed to carry on the work started at Nonsuch island of the Bermuda group in 1929, to ascertain types of marine life from the surface down to about three miles. It is the first time a scientific group has explored the ocean depths in vertical fashion, examining the life that exists at various depths, rather than the same depth in various places.

Mr. Beebe took with him 180 cases of equipment, including a steel sphere about six feet in diameter, with large windows of fused quartz glass, from the inside of which, according to theory, a man can study the marine life a quarter of a mile below the sea's surface. He also took wire traps and silk nets to obtain his specimens.

Italian Gardens Win Prizes at the Stadium Flower, Garden Show

Italian gardens yesterday were featured at the Chicago Stadium garden and flower show. Two plantings of that type were awarded trophies by two different sets of judges.

Mrs. Frances King of Michigan, Mrs. Thomas Motley Jr. of Massachusetts, and Mrs. K. F. Gill of Ohio constituted the jury of award of the Garden Club of America, which bestowed the gold medal of that club on John T. Scheepers of New York, whose Italian renaissance garden.

At the same time a committee of landscape architects awarded the directors' cup to Charles Fiore of Highwood, Ill., for his modern Italian garden. With its fountain, terraces, and impressive wall set off by beautifully arranged blooming plants.

Over a thousand children from the Brown school attended the show.

Mrs. Hoover is the wife of the dean of the school of mines at Stanford university.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Question.

Would you care to live your life over again?

The Answers.

Adolph Igersheimer, 5316 Dorchester avenue, salesman—We are living in a mechanical age; enterprises have become so colossal that the chances for a small man are almost obliterated. However, I am content to be living in this press the button period.

Mrs. Betty Smith, 633 Deming place, housewife—Not all of it. I have a very good husband, and I wouldn't want to have to try to find another like him. I had a pleasant childhood. But I am more interested in seeing what the future holds.

Julius Rosenblatt, 4845 North Avers avenue, chauffeur—Yes. I wouldn't be in the fix I am in now. I wanted a better schooling, but I had to go to work. If I had mastered a trade that would have furnished steady employment I would have less worry than I do now.

Miss Louise Brugmoser, 1527 North Claremont avenue, packer—If I had my life to live over again I would have a college education and also training in piano playing and singing. I wanted to get into a choir, but my parents objected.

R. E. Crandall, 19 West Huron street, leather cutter—I don't know why I should. I learned a trade that doesn't pay very well. If I were young again I would go through college and get into some promising business.

Ballet Hastens Training as Light Opera Season Nears

Twelve young women of the Chicago Civic opera ballet began an intensive workout for the coming light opera season yesterday at the Civic Opera house when they staged their first rehearsal. They are Naomi Smith, Evelyn Chapman, Florence Vaughn, Marion Finholt, Virginia Nugent, Lymette Corrigan, Ann Davis, Julien Francesco, Serge Strechneff, Lee Foley, and Boris Meroff. They will perform in the opera which opens at the Civic theater on April 21.

"God at Work in Chicago," Educator Says

Shailer Mathews Rebukes Calamity Howlers.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

God is at work in Chicago. At least that is the firm belief of Dean Shailer Mathews of the University of Chicago school of divinity. In his sermon before the noonday Lenten congregation yesterday at the Chicago temple, under the auspices of the Chicago Church federation, he contended that only because of God's presence in human affairs men can hold out hope for this city.

Dean Mathews pointed out that pessimism results only in minds that are over sensitive to evil. He argued that unprejudiced minds, though able to see social imperfections as well as the city's shame, are convinced that there has been a real advancement in the humane treatment of human needs.

"The religious man will see in this the coöperation of God," Dean Mathews said. "Graft, violence and cupidity are bound to be overcome. Society cannot build upon them. Their end will be full of suffering and loss unless they are ended in righteousness. God is working in Chicago. Shall we not work with him to make 3,000,000 beings happier, or shall we let the forces of evil work the misery which always results from opposition to His will."

The advancement since the civil war was cited by Dean Mathews as evidence of divine coöperation. He showed that advancement included exposure and punishment of many grafters, organization of labor, women's suffrage and better legal protection of women, extension of public educational facilities, scientific expansion of charities and the fact "that the churches have grown intelligent."

Dr. Phillips E. Osgood, Minneapolis rector, speaking before the Episcopal Church club Lenten service at the Garrick theater, though leading up to his appeal in a different way than Dean Mathews did, also asked that people coöperate with divine leadership. He declared that the religion held by many people is a "glass case" affair, unable to stand exposure to the tests of real life.

"We do not want a religion in a glass case, marked 'thoughts off,'" Dr. Osgood declared. "Many of us shelter and coddle our creeds too defensively. We often shield them too carefully from the world's rough contacts."

THE STAGE

MEI LAN-FANG is a hit at the Princess, so he will prolong his stay there through half of next week. There will be no performance next Sunday night, but on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday evenings and Wednesday afternoon the marvelous Mr. Mei will strive to entertain his admirers, Caucasian and Chinese alike. He will change his program Monday night and Wednesday afternoon.

Another revision of the playbills involves "Nina Rosa." This operetta announced a plan to desert the Great Northern next Saturday night. Upon this news the customers began to come out of their secret hiding places in great swarms. So "Nina Rosa" will stay at the Great Northern indefinitely. It may even turn itself into a summer show.

The Cort theater has decided to join the Easter parade of new shows. On Sunday evening, April 20, it will replace "The City Haul" with a comedy called "Many a Slip," which acquired New York experience at the Little theater this season.

In the cast of this piece, which deals with the trials of a young woman who is eager to lead a certain young man to the altar, are Sylvia Field, Douglass Montgomery, Dorothy Sands, Maude Eburne, Malcolm Duncan, Elisha Cook Jr., and Leonard Guion. This is a promising lineup. Miss Field was the attractive heroine of "R. U. R." as given by the Theater Guild this season, and Mr. Montgomery is also a youngster of the Guild who can boast of having followed Alfred Lunt in "Volpone." Dorothy Sands won quite a bit of fame in the "Grand Street Follies."

"Strange Interlude" is now being farmed out to the neighborhood stock companies, and F. Dudley Gazzolo, manager of the Kedzie theater, has promptly bought the west side rights. The drama, dinner intermission and all, will be staged at the Kedzie for the week beginning May 4. Rhea Diveley will be the Nina, John A. Willarde the Charlie Marsden, Stanley Andrews the Dr. Darrell, and Garth Roger the Sam Evans. The time schedule of the performance will be the same as at the Blackstone, for "Strange Interlude" wouldn't seem right without time out for dinner.

George M. Cohan revived "The Tavern" in Boston last Monday night, playing the rôle originated by Arnold Daly and acted in Chicago by Lowell Sherman. He will take this fantastic melodrama to New York May 19.

Fritz Leiber will end his New York engagement next Saturday night, and will then sail for Europe to rest until he returns to Chicago for another Civic Shakespeare season, beginning next October. New York liked the Chicago idea of Shakespearean repertory so well that it persuaded Mr. Leiber to sign a contract for eight weeks on Broadway next winter. He intends to add two new plays to his program.

Speaking of "Strictly Dishonorable," which runs on indefinitely at the Adelphi:

London will see it in June, acted by players recruited from the various American casts, and Margaret Perry of the Chicago company may be among them. A touring company is now being organized, and it will arrive in Chicago next week for final rehearsals before it starts off toward the Pacific coast. Lino Manzoni will play the Italian count in this one. Gilbert Miller has acquired the rights for Germany, Austria, Hungary, and Czecho-Slovakia. The Italian, Scandinavian, and Dutch rights have also been placed. So it seems that this little play is headed toward world fame—or notoriety. C. C.

Health and Love of City Goal of Work Among Chicago Boys

A robust, healthy army of boys—700,000 strong—who love and admire their Chicago—that is what all groups dealing with boys are working toward, with the goal set during the 1933 World's Fair, according to Michael Zimmer, warden of Cook County hospital and secretary of the Chicago Boys' Week federation.

"Health and citizenship will be the keynote of this year's campaign on behalf of boys during the week of May 14 to 21," Mr. Zimmer said. "We expect then to launch the four year effort to bring to the World's Fair the cleanest bunch of boys any city ever produced."

One day of the week will be devoted to outdoor sports, with hikes and games on schedule. Hundreds of neighborhood athletic meets will end with final contests in stadiums on the northwest and south sides, according to the plans. Citizenship will be stressed in the public schools and in public meetings sponsored by the Kiwanis, Rotary, Optimists, and other clubs. Other days will be devoted to industry, home and radio, church and

Care of Insane Blot on State, Doctor Asserts

Says Politics Provides Careless Treatment.

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

Illinois state hospitals are too much regarded as "political assets," they are "badly off regarding personnel as they can be," due to the fact that appointments of important staff position "are governed politically, and medical service in such institutions suffers at the expense of administration," Dr. Douglas Singer, former state alienist, charged last night.

Addressing a joint meeting of the Illinois Society for Mental Hygiene and the Chicago Medical society in the Medical and Dental Arts club auditorium, 185 North Wabash avenue, Dr. Singer said the state hospitals of Illinois were excellent reasons for an argument opposing the placing of mentally ill in the hands of the "politically minded."

Outlining needs in state institutions for the feeble-minded, mentally deficient, and mentally diseased, Dr. Singer stressed the training of patients through productive occupations calculated to aid in readjusting them socially.

At present overcrowding of institutions exists to such an extent that an average of one doctor to 400 patients is the rule, he said.

Dr. Sydney D. Wilgus, state alienist, said: "Illinois should be ashamed of its present state of affairs and the staffs of its state hospitals." Dr. Ralph T. Hinton, superintendent of the Elgin State hospital, agreed that the "medical staffs were low in number and in quality." He said that the overcrowding conditions would be improved within the next few months.

Dr. Charles F. Read, also a former state alienist, advised establishment of an institution near Chicago for defective delinquent boys over 16 years old, commitments to be made through the courts but only with the advice of psychiatrists. He also advised the parole of the mildly defective, and establishment of a system of colonies for trained inmates preparatory to parole.

Dr. Read and Dr. Charles B. Reed, president of the Chicago Medical society, who also addressed the meeting, took divergent views of the question of sterilization of the feeble-minded.

"Sterilization as a mass procedure is impractical and unscientific," the former declared.

Dr. Reed said: "As soon as the defectives are definitely diagnosed by the medical profession and recognized by law as unfit, they should be sterilized. The deliberate elimination of the mentally deficient is to be met by sterilization, not birth control, and I hope that it may be a part of your program to urge such legislation."

Dr. Ralph C. Hamill presided.

West park commissioners say that Garfield park conservatory is the largest municipally owned institution of its kind in America. No admission is charged. As Spring Is Here, Snow Has Beauty When Well Painted

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

If the exhibition of paintings by A. T. Hibbard at the Carson, Pirie, Scott galleries had opened during the midst of our late March snowfall, we might have been inclined to remark hastily "how beautiful and how timely" and gone on our way with only the minimum of enthusiasm for their intrinsic beauty. Enough snow was all around us outdoors to make us feel that snow indoors, too, was carrying a good thing too far. But with the thermometer striving again for a summer record out of season, our appreciation of these colorful paintings grows.

Mr. Hibbard is a member of the National academy and he is one of the best of contemporary American painters. He was born in 1886, so he is still a young man. He studied with De Camp, Major and Tarbell and is a member of several art organizations of distinction. He has received many prizes and honors and paintings of his are in various art museums, such as the Boston Art museum and the Metropolitan of New York, throughout the country.

His paintings deal entirely with winter landscapes. They are large in size and large in theme. They are decorative, generously handled, warmly colored and magnificently composed. He gets depth and perspective without curtailing the importance of his foreground. He reminds one a little of Frederic M. Grant and of Redfield. He has Mr. Grant's flair for color and a focus point of crimson; and he has Redfield's sure grasp upon the qualities of snow and the values of sun and shadow.

With so many effective canvases confronting one it is difficult to make a choice of any for definite mention, but no one could mistake the power and sincerity of purpose in "Morning Sun," for example, one of the largest pictures and one of the greatest. The "Black Sail" is slighter in character, yet extremely picturesque. "The Break Up" is dramatic in color and beauty and the thin trees are a pattern upon the sky. "Newfane Village" and "Signs of Thaw" are gorgeous with the running water a medley of changeable ice blocks shifting color with each turn of the sluggish current. The exhibition is really very fine. It will continue to April 25.

Cancer Seal Selling at Board of Trade Starts the Campaign

Women invaded the grain pits of the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday. They sold the first books containing cancer seals for the cancer educational committee of the Chicago Woman's club. Their receipts at the end of fifteen minutes totaled $1,043, opening the first cancer seal campaign in Chicago.

That sum will provide the start for the fund which the April sale of seals is expected to accumulate. Fifteen thousand books are to be sold and as many dollars raised so information about cancer may be carried to all parts of Illinois through the efforts of the committee.

The first book of seals, hand decorated and bound by the designer, Lyman M. Simpson of Niles Center, was bought for $137 by Edward J. Tanner. Mrs. Jacob Baur was the auctioneer. Other members of the exchange who bought books for $100 each included Lee D. Hollinger, Edward J. Kuh Jr., and B. J. Faroll.

About twenty members of the cancer educational committee were in the pit to watch the bidding. The committee chairman, Mrs. Frederick A. Lorenz, said last night that a table will be maintained by the group in the corridor of the Board of Trade during the next ten days for further sale of the seals.

Sweeten the stomach—instantly

About two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been over-stimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient and harmless. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

It is the quick method. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess-acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug-store.

Michigan Blossom Queen's Selection Will Be Made Today

BY KATHLEEN McLAUGHLIN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Benton Harbor, Mich., April 9.—[Special.]—Benton Harbor tonight preferred a blonde. As candidate for queen of the blossom week festival May 5 to 12, a battery of judges this evening selected Miss Maxine Sealey, 18 and athletic, to carry this city's banner of beauty Thursday night into competition with the prettiest misses from thirty other Michigan towns. Whoever survives that ordeal will reign as sovereign of the numerous festivities attendant on the extensive and expansive fête with which this corner of Michigan greets the spring.

"Miss Benton Harbor" is of the type of Helen of Troy—"divinely tall and most divinely fair," although the disgruntled friends and families of the other twenty-three candidates for the beauty crown may disagree with the description. Pulchritude in plenty was eliminated before Maxine was left alone in the center of the stage of the Liberty theater, clasping a huge bouquet of roses, the temporary tribute to her charm.

Maxine is 5 feet 6 in height, with blonde hair that is in the process of "growing out." A sprinkling of freckles gives a piquant charm to her fine features and testifies to her prowess as a Diana, not of the hunt but of the tennis courts. She has been woman's singles and woman's doubles tennis champion of Berrien county for the last three years, and in addition swims, skates, dances, golfs, and plays basketball. From all of these diversions comes the graceful carriage, rivaling that of a professional model, that won her votes sufficient to outrank girls with more vivid faces, more arresting features.

Benton Harbor's choice for a beauty representative is a deputy in the office of the registrar of deeds in the courthouse here. She intends to enter the University of Tennessee in the fall to fit herself to become a teacher of physical culture. She is not engaged and laughed off the possibility of an early alliance.

Excitement aplenty bubbled and boiled around the entrance of the Liberty theater pending the opening of the performance at which the beauty queen was chosen. A small riot is predicted for Thursday evening, when the out of town beauties assemble to contest for the crown and sceptre of Blossom Week queen.

Jackson, Mich., will be represented by Miss Janet Gay, chosen a few weeks ago by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE as the possessor of the most interesting personality in the state. "Miss Jackson" was awarded a check for $1,000 when she was selected by Doris Blake, TRIBUNE character analyst.

An air circus, a municipal ball for the queen of beauty, given by St. Joseph, Mich., a regatta on the St. Joe river, a pageant, a blossom parade and a Mardi Gras evening will comprise some of the features of the blossom festival.

Spiritualists Debate on Sunday Circles vs. Midweek Seances

Members of the Illinois State Spiritualists' association argued yesterday over the rudiments of their faith in a symposium at the West Chicago Masonic temple, 12 South Oakley boulevard.

"Circles are taking from the medium what rightfully belongs to him in midweek work," W. D. Baldwin charged. "We are getting to specialize in circle work on Sunday and to cater to materialistic messages, although our by-laws prohibit Sunday circles.

"Because of competition, where there are circles, our attendance falls off. Another church in the neighborhood drew attendance from my church down to 60, but when we started a Sunday circle our attendance went up to 150. We are facing a period when we will have to pattern after other religions—introduce social activities during the week and dedicate Sunday to our spirit friends in its entirety."

Mrs. M. E. Cadwalader, editor of the Progressive Thinker, then said some Spiritualist churches in their advertising are guaranteeing messages to those attending.

"Ask your own consciences if you can do this," she queried. "One doesn't know until the minute before if a message can be received."

"I don't think we ought to ask the spirit friends to betray confidences that have been given them, she added.

John Slater of San Francisco, a veteran medium, advised delegates to go back to their churches "and support your mediums, who must earn their bread and butter and dress well, especially the women."

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harvey Patterson of 3300 Sheridan road announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Lucille, to Paul B. Cochran, son of Mrs. L. A. Cochran of Detroit, Mich., and Palm Beach, Fla. The announcement was made at a luncheon given by Mrs. Patterson and her daughter recently at the Edgewater Beach hotel. Miss Patterson attended West Lake school for girls in Los Angeles and Beaver college in Philadelphia. Mr. Cochran is a graduate of the College of Minnesota and Montpellier, France.

Freiburg Passion Play Will Be Given Here, Starting on May 4

The Passion Play as presented in Freiburg, Germany, since 1244 A. D., will be performed by the peasant players of that town in the Chicago Civic Opera house during a limited engagement, beginning May 4, it was announced yesterday.

A group of Chicagoans, headed by Mrs. Edward Rogers Fifield, is sponsoring the Chicago appearance. Others included in the local sponsors are: George W. Dixon, Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick, Col. Robert Isham Randolph, Mrs. Walter Borden, Lewis E. Myers, Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, Mrs. Bertha Baur, Mrs. Edward A. Leight, Mrs. Edward I. Cudahy, Mrs. A. Watson Armour, Mrs. George Kellogg, Hermann Wollenberger and Mrs. Marc Fowler.

The play will be given in English.

George Fassnacht Jr., fifth of his line to take the rôle of the Christus in the Freiburg production, will appear in the rôle here. His father plays that of Judas. Augusta Fassnacht, mother of George Jr., is cast as Mary. Her niece, Detty Schumann Fassnacht, is the Magdalene.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., April 9.—President and Mrs. Hoover this afternoon received the American Society of Mechanical Engineers now holding their annual meeting here.

Miss Helen Douglas Robinson, daughter of former Assistant Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Theodore Douglas Robinson, is visiting Mrs. Richard Porter Davidson here. Miss Robinson has set June 14 for the date of her marriage to Jonh Arthur Hinckley of this city. She returned recently from a visit in Poland, with the family of Charles S. Dewey of Chicago, now financial adviser to that government. Miss Robinson is the daughter of a nephew of the late Theodore Roosevelt. Mrs. Davidson is a niece of Representative Ruth Hanna McCormick.

Miss Robinson has selected for attendants at her wedding her sister, Mrs. Jacques Blaise di Sibour of this city, matron of honor, and her other sister, Miss Alida Robinson as maid of honor.

Antoinette Tells Why Sagging Chins Look That Way

by Gabrielle Forbes

Underchin flabbiness. How women hate that significant wilting of the tissue! And how they should! It never did a nice thing for a face yet. And it certainly never helped a lady to think she was getting away with the birthday fable she poured into the census taker's ear!

As perhaps we have hinted before, a lot of this underchin flabbiness is the aftermath of a reducing course which took no thought of massaging and astringent treatment. What happens when you rob a much padded underchin area of fatty tissue underneath is just what would happen if you took the meat out of a sausage skin. It would shrivel up and crinkle all over.

To understand this wrinkle process you have to know that wrinkled skin occurs where the tissue underneath is withdrawn or loses its firmness. You note that plump women rarely are wrinkled women. They may have a few crow's feet, or laugh lines, or lines embedded around mouth corners from habits of expression, but they never get that stringy, crepey look under the chin. They may have a couple of good fat chins there, but not the condition that attacks the other type of women.

It the fat depletion is great, it is a question whether one can restore perfectly the smooth surface of skin that was there before. It depends pretty much upon the age of the individual and the elasticity of her skin. Naturally, the younger she is, the easier to accomplish the smooth surface.

However, it is not all reducing that creates the wattled effect under the chin. It may even be the way the head is held, for often the muscles that are supposed to hold the head erectly are allowed to lose their stamina.

Exercising the neck by drawing the head back as far as you can, then forward on the chest, then turning to the right and to the left, will do a great deal toward eliminating the strained look to flesh. But always after exercising, take your skin food or your best cold cream and massage the area for a good five minutes and after the massage, use an astringent. A good astringent helps greatly to tone up this particular section of the skin.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Dried Lima Beans.

In times past a good deal of attention has been given in this column to the subject of dried Lima bean stews and soups. More attention was given because the editor of this column had disliked dried Lima beans as usually presented. A reason now for talking about the Lima bean is that it is one of the starchy items that will harbor weevils, and a correspondent who did not recognize this tiny type of live stock sent me a sample framed under transparent paper, accompanying which was a plea for information about its all pervading activities.

A recommendation was made to the writer that she examine all the starchy foods, even cocoa, as soon as she had got them home from the grocery, so as to find out whether or not she was buying weevil infested staples. In old times, when people had larger quantities in their pantries than they have today, a big stone was put into the cornmeal barrel to keep the temperature below that favorable to the hatching of weevils. The pantries were on the north side of a building, usually, so that they would not get hot.

Next fall we shall hear or see exploited the new crop of beans. Now we have the old crop, and therefore we should examine our beans, the Lima bean in particular, carefully when we purchase it, and it is worth purchasing even for summer use. Inexpensive dishes, and delicious ones, can be made from the dried lima bean if we will learn to cook it so it will be as nearly like a finely cooked green Lima bean as possible. It is possible to cook the latter so that it is just as poor as a poorly cooked dried Lima bean.

Use a four quart kettle when one cup of Lima beans with four cups of cold water are to be cooked. Add to them one scraped carrot sliced and one or two small onions. Bring to a boil slowly under a close cover and over a simmering burner. If carefully cooked these beans need no soaking. Well seasoned with butter and salt, these make an excellent vegetable, the seasoning of onion and carrot making them extra palatable.

If the beans should cook till rather dry, put them at once into a frying pan, add a little milk and cook gently for fifteen minutes, and then finish with butter.

The other evening some acquaintances called at my house unexpectedly. I don't care for the company of these particular people, so I asked them to excuse me while I made an important appointment over the telephone.

I picked up the receiver and pretended to get my number while my finger was really holding down the hook. In the midst of my conversation the phone rang! L. P.

Mercenary View of Marriage Is the Wrong Slant

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"I look around at my married friends and what I see does not convince me that marriage is worth giving up a good job for." This from one "Dorothy."

Neither would it, in Dorothy's case. Marriage is not worth giving up a good job for if you look around at your married friends and compare your weekly stipend with marriage. If one cannot see in marriage something beside immediate material comforts, the good job is exactly what such a person should stick to. She would be a failure as a wife, anyway.

I get just a little bit weary of this commonly heard comparison between a job and marriage. Basically, it seems that material comforts count more in the speaker's life than love, home, wifehood, motherhood. That is, if the words are to be taken seriously, which they rarely ever need be. Most glibly mouthing the comparison are simply barking to keep their courage up to go on with the job. This is proven with the readiness to forego all the old prejudices in favor of the job when the real he appears on the scene.

I suppose there are girls who simply are not marriage-minded, as there are men who give the subject little thought and less cooperation. But they constitute such a small minority as to be almost negligible.

The whole trouble with the comparing habit is that it lacks fairness in judgment. The single one stacks up her material comforts solely against her married sister's status. She does not take into consideration the fact that said sister has love on her side; steady companionship of one she loves; a certain sense of security; a home and the prospect of becoming through motherhood, if not already enjoying it, a useful citizen to society.

You cannot fairly check marriage off with the dresses and shoes and hats and theater tickets and bottles of perfume and facials and marcels that a wife may have to abstain from. In fact, you cannot check it off against material things, at all, because the material state of mind that would make one girl prefer to hold to her job would not be current in the married sister. I am asking, of course, of married women who go in for marriage in the spirit that makes it go.

Paris Offers Ensemble for Formal Afternoon

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special Correspondence.]—The Paris mode is growing up. The foolish young thing has forsaken her coltish ways, covered her knees and added dignity to her charm, without, however, sacrificing one whit of her youthful grace. Flapper fashions were all very well for petite eighteens, but not so good for grande thirties.

This spring the mode takes account of all ages of femininity as well as all degrees of social entertainment. Long flowing frocks show us the woman of experience at her most attractive best, but she doesn't wear them all the time. For country wear, "footing" in the Bois, or shopping in town, there are shorter, more businesslike suits adapted to her type.

Formal afternoon ensembles occupy a very important place in the spring collections of all the great Paris couturiers. Flat crêpes, printed chiffons or crêpe satins are the favorite materials for these costumes, that have draped ankle length frocks and short but graceful wraps.

Elspeth Champcommunal, who makes such smart clothes for ladies who are ladies, designed this formal afternoon ensemble of silvery gray crêpe Romain for a mature woman of elegance. The ample circular skirt of the frock hangs in limp folds from the curved hipline of the surplice bodice, which drapes into a bow at the side front, indicating the high waistline. Its accompanying Romain jacket is ornamented round the bottom by rows of handstitching. Handstitching also forms a little shoulder yoke softened becomingly by a large Romain bow placed at the nape of the neck. The graceful floating back panel is part of the frock. It passes through a stitched chevron slit in the jacket and thus forms a clever liaison between dress and coat.

Common Speech Disorders Are Usually Outgrown

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

A booklet by Mrs. Bevans on "Books to Be Read to Children or by Them" will be sent free on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Stammer and stutter—

Do you know the difference?

In my big fat dictionary no distinction is made. They are practically synonymous.

Because of the general interest in the subject, I am going to give verbatim the definitions of Dr. James Sonnett Greene, an authority on the subject of speech disorders.

He says: "Stammering, in fine, is mutilated speech, and so includes the common lisping, which simply is the omission of sibilant sounds or the substitution of other sounds for the sibilant, as when 'toap' is said for soap and 'Mithithippi' for Mississippi.

"Stuttering, on the other hand, is hesitating or spasmodic speech, and is marked chiefly by the unnecessary repetition of sounds."

In this connection, it would be reassuring, I know, to many mothers, if I quoted Dr. Greene once more: "Much as in the case of stammering, it is the common, almost normal, thing for a child to stutter at some time to some extent, and it is quite true again that, left to themselves, children frequently outgrow their stuttering."

Dr. Greene has much more to say, warning parents, however, to be intelligently watchful. In fact, this subject of speech disorders is one on which parents who observe the beginnings of stammering, stuttering and other speech difficulties often want to be informed.

It is only advisable to consult the most accredited sources for help of this kind, to avoid quackery. Those who are interested in obtaining information along the line of curing speech disorders may write in to us for suggestions.

Fine clothes will not conceal it

GRACIOUS, successful and good looking. Always a most charming companion. Yet his friends are too few... simply because he is a victim of a regrettable condition that reveals its presence in tooth decay, ugly yellow and stain and in sore, spongy gums. It is Bacterial-Mouth. Anyone may have it and none of us can ignore it in others. With every breath you take millions of germs sweep into the mouth. They defy the ordinary toothpaste, attack teeth and gums and cause this offensive condition. To have sound, sparkling white teeth and firm, pink gums use the dental cream that quickly removes Bacterial Mouth by killing the germs that cause it... Change to Kolynos!

Whitens Teeth quickly

HERE'S the quick, easy way to sound, sparkling white teeth and firm, pink gums—the Kolynos Dry-Brush Technique.★ Use it for just 3 days... Then note the results... Teeth look whiter—fully three shades. Gums feel firmer, they are healthier. And your mouth tingles with a refreshing, vigorous taste.

Kolynos cleans teeth and gums as they should be cleaned.

As soon as it enters the mouth, this highly concentrated, antiseptic dental cream gives you a pleasant surprise. It becomes an exhilarating FOAM that is full of life.

This FOAM gets into and cleans out every tiny crevice, pit and fissure. It instantly kills the millions of germs that cause offensive Bacterial-Mouth—that lead to tooth decay, stain, ugly yellow and to gum diseases. (Kolynos kills 190 million germs in 10 seconds.) Moreover, this FOAM keeps on working after you hang up your toothbrush. For 3 hours it continues to cleanse teeth and purify the mouth.

That is why teeth are so easily and so swiftly cleaned down to the beautiful, naked white enamel—without injury.

If you want whiter teeth, free from decay; and firm, pink gums—discard the dentifrice that does only half the job. Switch to Kolynos. It will win you in 3 days. Get a tube from any druggist or —mail coupon for generous trial tube.

★Saves Teeth... Saves Money The unique action of Kolynos permits the Dry-Brush Technique advocated by leading dentists as the way to use a dental cream full strength to keep the brush bristles stiff enough to clean every tooth surface and massage gums properly. Use a half-inch of Kolynos on a dry brush, morning and night. Dental cream lasts longer... Teeth look cleaner and whiter... Try this amazing Kolynos Technique.

SECOND MORTGAGE LOANS

There are a lot of things we have done and are doing in the interest of the home owner, but the most important one has been the reduction of rates on second mortgage loans. Five years ago we introduced unheard of low rates on second mortgages; we have reduced these rates three times. For five years the rates which we have charged on second mortgage loans have been the lowest rest rates in Chicago—and they still are.

But there are a lot of things we don't do. We don't loan on speculative or commercial properties, we restrict ourselves to single dwelling houses and up to 3-apartment buildings. We don't over appraise property. We don't make excessive loans. We don't allow the customer to be slow in making his payments. We don't use brokerage. We don't have to pay exorbitant prices for our supply of funds.

These "don'ts" are among the major reasons why we are only charging 3½% for a 1 year loan, 6% for a 2 year loan, and 9% for a 3 year loan, in addition to the 7% accruing interest.

We have not been in the second mortgage business "high, wide, and handsome." We only loan to the best kind of people—and in the best kind of people we have a deep and thoughtful interest. To all of them we extend a most hearty and cordial invitation to come to us for their second mortgage financing.

ESSEX SUPER SEDAN 4 DOOR, ONE of those well-kept cars that you can't classify as a "used" car. The motor is nicely "broken in" and operates smoothly and quietly. Paint and upholstery flawless; blue color; has hydraulic shock absorbers, 6 wh. brakes, cowl lights, excellent tires. $375.

PAIGE 6-72 5 PASS. SEDAN. This model reunited for stamina, brilliant performance, economy of operation and is a modern car in all respects. It was lacked for 10 months before traded to us and has had little mileage. Painted dark blue, has 4 wh. brakes, spotlight, excellent tires. From a service and appearance standpoint it's easily worth $500. If you act quick you can have it for $275.

BUICK MASTER 6 4 DR. SEDAN. As this was one of several cars in the service of the former owner, it received practically no mileage. The condition of the upholstery would lead you to believe the car had never been driven a mile. If you could find one as good as this one anywhere else, it would be sold for at least $600. Our price is only $375.

CHEVROLET SEDAN, 4 DOOR. Landau type; disc wheel equipped; cowl lights; attractively painted; shock absorbers; it's like stealing it at $175.

GRAHAM-PAIGE 614 SEDAN; 4 DOOR. This car is ready for use—nothing to buy but the license. The motor is powerful, dependable and smooth running, and its 4 speed transmission gives you the peppiest performance you can imagine. Painted blue; has excellent tires; cowl lights, etc. $675.

GRAHAM-PAIGE 629 7 PASS. SEDAN. Most beautiful proportioned sedan for its wheelbase (129 in.) on the market. In no way can it be distinguished from new; 6 natural wood wheels, dark blue paint, trunk rack, 4 speed transmission. Today's price, $875.

PAIGE 8 CYLINDER BARGAIN. Here's $3,000 closed car transportation for way less than $1,000. It's a 5 passenger sedan, famous 8-85 series, and painted in what is one of the most distinctive, most popular of all colors—Arizona brown. Offers you Paige smoothness, clocklike dependability, 4 speed traffic advantages, 4 wheel brakes; tires almost new. $675.

GRAHAM-PAIGE 610 4 DOOR SEDAN. Attractive original dark blue finish. Tires have little mileage; has seat covers, disc wheels, smooth running, cowl lights. Reliable, economical Graham-built 6 cyl. motor. $475.

All of the above cars have been reconditioned in our own shops and are guaranteed in accordance with Bird-Sykes' Policy. If the car you are looking for is not listed, tell us—we may have it.
